Sister Mary Aquinas took 33 members of her University of San Francisco class aloft in a "Flying Boxcar" today, a standard Air Force parachute harness over her nun's habit.

The C119's departure from Hamilton Air Force Base was delayed more than an hour beyond the scheduled takeoff time of 11 a.m. But it took the air without incident for an hour's flight over Marin County, San Francisco, the East Bay and return.

At the controls as the 4th Air Force plane took the air was Lt. Col. James A. Ward of 2 Yukon place, Novato, with Maj. Raymond W. Myers of Sonoma as co-pilot. But 65-year-old Sister Mary took over the controls during part of the flight as the plane circles Pt. Reyes at 5,000 to 6,000 feet, headed back over Mt. Tamalpais and across the bay.

For Sister Mary, the flight was a consolation prize. She'd wanted to sit at the controls of a jet fighter while it crashed the sound barrier.

She'd done it, too, she told reporters as Colonel Ward helped her don her parachute, if it hadn't been that she refused to substitute a jet pilot's uniform for that of her Franciscan order.

"In case of war or emergency, I'd be willing to take off my habit," she said. "But I wouldn't do it for a practice flight.

"I've been told by many military people that I could break the sound barrier on a level flight not requiring any special suit—that the jet uniform is only necessary for maneuvers

Visiting Judge Ponders Fate Of Marin Billboard Charges

A visiting judge from Colusa County will decide whether criminal complaints against large billboards in Marin should be tossed out of court.

Judge Ben R. Ragain, sitting in Marin Superior Court, took the case under submission yesterday after hearing arguments in defense of billboards from a battery of lawyers headed by Albert E. Bagshaw. They argued that Marin County's sign ordinance is "prohibitive" and unconstitutional.

Representing Marin County were Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich and Asst. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire, who maintained that the sign ordinance is legal, and the big outdoor signs from Greenbrae to Novato should be taken down. They include Foster and Kleiser signs advertising drinks, oil companies, restaurants and other firms.

Weissich has filed criminal complaints against two dozen outdoor advertising firms in an effort to eliminate the signs along Highway 101. The case is scheduled for a hearing in Marin Municipal Court on Aug. 10.

Yesterday, the advertising firms went into superior court to try to enjoin the county from pressing the suit.

Winter Deaths Cut Supply Of Deer Here

Deer hunters are finding their quarry in short supply throughout Marin County this season because of many deaths from starvation last winter, and prospects are that the current dry year will do further harm this fall and early winter.

This summarizes findings from various sources investigated as result of reports that many bodies of dead deer were discovered by hunters out for the weekend opening of the deer season.

MALNUTRITION

Deaths occurred months ago in most cases, said Alfred F. Giddings, veteran game warden at Woodacre. When specimens were sent to state laboratories in Sacramento, he said today, malnutrition was found to be the cause.

More deaths from malnutrition are likely before many weeks have passed, Giddings believes, because the submormal rainfall is already creating a pinch in the food department.

15-Cent Tax Cut Seen In Corte Madera

Budget Of $308,389 Approved; Rate May Fall To $1.33

A 15-cent decrease in Corte Madera's tax rate was virtually assured last night as the Corte Madera Town Council gave unanimous assent to a 1959-60 tentative budget of $308,389.

Final adoption of the budget and of a 1959-60 tax rate is scheduled for next Monday after an 8 p.m. public hearing on the budget.

The budget as submitted to the council by Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow totaled $319,916 and called for a tax rate of $1.48 per $100 assessed valuation.

$1 GENERAL FUND

This figure included $1 general fund tax rate, 20 cents for flood control, 16-cent special park tax, three-cent recreation tax and nine cents for bond redemption.

The reduced spending program approved tentatively last night prompted councilmen to predict a 15-cent tax decrease. Mayor Roger F. Morse said he expected it would be deducted from the $1 general fund tax. The total 1959-60 tax rate would be lowered to $1.33 per $100 assessed valuation.

Last year Corte Madera's tax rate was $1.48. For seven years previously it hovered between $1.34 and $1.40. The probable $1.33 tax rate for the current fiscal year is the lowest since 1950-51, when Corte Madera had a rate of $1.10.

SPENDING RISES

The spending program of $308,389 is a substantial increase over last year's expenditures of $212,233, however.

The tax rate decrease is possible because of "general growth," said City Clerk Naydeen Penny.

An increase in population will bring in more money from state subventions. The base of the property tax has increased from $7,189,164 assessed valuation to an estimated $8,193,661. In contrast, Corte Madera received $47,000 in sales tax revenues last year and anticipates only $50,000 this year.

An important budget item approved last night was $90,864 for contractual street department projects. Last year only $33,006 was spent for street work.

TOWN PROJECTS

The projects included reconstruction of Oakdale from Chapman to Willow (but the council deleted $12,927 to reconstruct Oakdale from Chapman to Eastman), extension of a Paradise drive culvert to San Clemente creek, reconstruction of Paradise drive from Koch

BROWN HINTS HE'LL CALL SPECIAL MEET

SACRAMENTO (AP) — It's better than an even chance that Gov. Edmund G. Brown will call a special session of the Legislature next year to act on streamlining the state government.

Brown gave that much out at a news conference today. He said, however, he'd rather not go into specifics of his proposals as yet.

The governor said his state government reorganization committee plans to meet in September at Davis wth department directors and legislators to discuss the plan.

Foes Of Novato Incorporation Fire First Blast

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today authorized the county clerk to accept a bond so that a public hearing can be called on the incorporation of Novato.

But foes to the move have not yet said their last words.

Clark M. Palmer, leader of the incorporation move, said the bond money "would be in the mail today."

An amount of $446 will be required to assure payment of legal notices calling for the election.

The board called for the action on the advice of Deputy County Counsel E. Warren McGuire, who said that a public hearing could not be called until the bond was received.

He added that opponents, some dozen of whom were present at the board meeting, can continue to offer complaints against the proposed election, but that it is not necessary for the board of supervisors to halt action leading toward an election just because of the complaints.

Speaking for the opposition was Paul Brindel, who offered a document putting the board on notice "that the validity and authenticity of petitions . . . are challenged."

The document was signed by Henry Lautrup of 1530 Armstrong avenue, Novato, on behalf of 21 other persons.

It contended that:

1. Names of several corporations owning real property within the proposed boundaries appeared on the petitions for incorporation without the approval or authority of corporation directors.

2. Approximately 100 persons whose signatures are on the petitions also have signed petitions asking that their property be excluded. "We ask that all of these names be stricken from the aforesaid petitions for incorporation," said the document.

Automation To End WADF Next June

The arrival of automation in the Air Force will mean the demise next June of the Western Air Defense Force.

But, unlike some private industries, automation will displace few men in the Air Force.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel wired the Independent-Journal yesterday from Washington that the Air Force had announced plans to close WADF headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base next June. But, he reported, the Air Force "doubts material change in base population, since additional personnel will be required by integrating SAGE (Semi-Automatic Ground Environment) system into air defense activities."

Kuchel reported the inactivation will be "occasioned by realignment of administration and support air defense with SAGE."

A WADF spokesman at Hamilton today confirmed that the end of Western Air Defense Force will not mean a large personnel shift.

Col. H. E. Sears, WADF public information officer, said fewer than 100 of the military personnel attached to WADF headquarters and 28th Air Division headquarters at Hamilton will be transferred.

With deactivation of WADF, Colonel Sears said, the 28th Air Division will be re-designated the 28th Air Division Semi-Automatic Ground Environment.

Installation of semi-automatic computing machines at Beal Air Force Base near Marysville will replace the manually operated defense control center at Hamilton. However, said Sears, headquarters for the 28th Division will remain at the North Marin base.

There are about 450 persons assigned to WADF headquarters and 250 at the division headquarters.

WADF installations at other bases will be similarly affected by the change, said Sears. At Tacoma, Wash., the 25th Air Division is already "phasing" into SAGE, he said. It will be responsible for air defense of Washington and Oregon.

The changeover is being made to facilitate detection and interception of unidentified aircraft approaching the continental United States. The electronic computors are expected to be far more efficient at tracking the aircraft than is the present manual system, Colonel Sears declared.

'Dangerous' Napa Escapee Hunted Here

Marin County law enforcement officers were on the alert today for an escapee from Napa State Hospital, described as "dangerous," who is believed to be the man who terrorized a San Rafael girl yesterday morning and threatened the life of a Hamilton airman this morning.

San Rafael police identified the escapee as Jimmie Ray Smith, 20, who fled the Napa institution last week. He is about 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighs 170 pounds, and has tattoos on both arms and hands, chest, and forehead. The tattoo on his forehead is believed covered by a patch.

HAIR COLOR

A bulletin from Napa said he has black hair, but a San Anselmo police officer described the color of Smith's hair as orange. He is believed wearing a white T shirt and jeans.

The escapee apparently goes on the prowl late at night and during early morning hours.

San Rafael police said a man answering Smith's description slipped into the home of Frank Masao Nakagawa at 2 Bay View street about 1:30 a.m. yesterday. Nakagawa's daughter, Alice, 25, said she was watching television and was almost asleep when she looked up and noticed a man standing by her chair.

GIRL FLEES

She said he told her he likes Japanese girls and reached for her. Alice ran into her father's bedroom pursued by the intruder. When her father awoke, the prowler fled. Miss Makagawa said the intruder wore a white T shirt and jeans, and had tattoos on his arms.

Last night, Edson Lewis Merlau, airman with the 78th Armament and Electronics Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, said he became acquainted with a red-haired youth at

U.S. Steel Has Record Earnings

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp. earned more money in the first six months this year than any steel company has ever earned in any six month period.

The nation's top steel maker today reported its net income for the six months ended June 30 totaled $254,948,496, equal to $4.50 a share. That compared with $135,650,730 or $2.29 a share in the same period last year.

San Rafael's Little League Gets New Park

Officials of San Rafael Little League and a San Francisco real estate woman last night signed a lease that will give the Little League a new ball park in San Rafael.

The site is on Irene street near the maintenance station of the San Rafael Sanitation District off San Quentin road.

The lease, to run for 10 years, will cost the league $1 a year.

GENEROUS GESTURE

Tom King, president of the American League, said it was a philanthropic gesture on the part of Mrs. Winifred Bellam of the real estate firm of Kerner-Bellam. Her partner is George Kerner, also of San Francisco.

Little League players must vacate their present park by Aug. 15, because the City of San Rafael is building an extension of Lincoln avenue that will go right through the park.

"But Little League play is just about over for the season," King said. He added that the officials of the two leagues hope to have the new park in operation by the start of next year's season, probably sometime in March, 1960.

FUND CAMPAIGN

He said $2,500 collected in a recent fund campaign will be used to put the site into shape, but about $2,500 more will be needed, and another fund campaign is being planned.

King said the project will be done by volunteer labor, but some of the work will have to be paid for. He said about 8,000 cubic yards of fill will be needed, although none of the property is under water.

The site is approximately 300 by 410 feet and contains enough room, King said, for two baseball diamonds.

Court Upholds Indictment Of Kayo Hallinan

The state District Court of Appeal in San Francisco today declined to set aside the Marin County indictment against Terrence (Kayo) Hallinan.

Hallinan, 22, son of attorney Vincent Hallinan, was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury for assault.

The charge grew out of a fight with James L. Thalhamer Jr., 18, of Fairfax, the night of May 29 at a bowling alley.

Hallinan had asked the appeals court to order the indictment charges dismissed, claiming insufficient evidence.

His petition said "as a matter of law, one punch by the bare fist cannot be considered a force likely to produce great bodily harm."

Young Thalhamer claims the one punch broke his jaw.

San Rafael Fire Chief's Mother Succumbs At 85

Mrs. Annie Johansen, who was born 85 years ago in San Rafael and was the wife of a former San Rafael fire chief and mother of the present chief, died yesterday at Marin General Hospital after a brief illness.

Her late husband, Martin, headed the San Rafael Fire Department in 1894 and 1895. Their son, Clarence M. (Fritz), is now the chief.

Born at 9 Francis street, Mrs. Johansen attended school in San Rafael. Her husband was an upholsterer and carpet layer.

She wa sa member of Catholic Ladies Aid Society of St. Raphael's Church, Court St. Raphael 1406, Third Order of Dominicans, Marinita Parlor 198 Native Daughters of the Golden West, and to John H. Harris Camp 82, United Spanish War Veterans.

Besides her son, Mrs. Johansen is survived by a brother, William Mahar, with whom she resided at 503 D street.

The cortege will form at 9 a.m. Thursday at Harry W. Williams Mortuary. A Requiem High Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. at St. Raphael's Catholic Church. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the mortuary.

Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael.

Visiting Judge Ponders Fate Of Marin Billboard Charges

A visiting judge from Colusa County will decide whether criminal complaints against large billboards in Marin should be tossed out of court.

Judge Ben R. Ragain, sitting in Marin Superior Court, took the case under submission yesterday after hearing arguments in defense of billboards from a battery of lawyers headed by Albert E. Bagshaw. They argued that Marin County's sign ordinance is "prohibitive" and unconstitutional.

Representing Marin County were Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich and Asst. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire, who maintained that the sign ordinance is legal, and the big outdoor signs from Greenbrae to Novato should be taken down. They include Foster and Kleiser signs advertising drinks, oil companies, restaurants and other firms.

Weissich has filed criminal complaints against two dozen outdoor advertising firms in an effort to eliminate the signs along Highway 101. The case is scheduled for a hearing in Marin Municipal Court on Aug. 10.

Yesterday, the advertising firms went into superior court to try to enjoin the county from pressing the suit.

U.S. Steel Has Record Earnings

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp. earned more money in the first six months this year than any steel company has ever earned in any six month period.

The nation's top steel maker today reported its net income for the six months ended June 30 totaled $254,948,496, equal to $4.50 a share. That compared with $135,650,730 or $2.29 a share in the same period last year.

San Rafael Fire Chief's Mother Succumbs At 85

Mrs. Annie Johansen, who was born 85 years ago in San Rafael and was the wife of a former San Rafael fire chief and mother of the present chief, died yesterday at Marin General Hospital after a brief illness.

Her late husband, Martin, headed the San Rafael Fire Department in 1894 and 1895. Their son, Clarence M. (Fritz), is now the chief.

Born at 9 Francis street, Mrs. Johansen attended school in San Rafael. Her husband was an upholsterer and carpet layer.

She wa sa member of Catholic Ladies Aid Society of St. Raphael's Church, Court St. Raphael 1406, Third Order of Dominicans, Marinita Parlor 198 Native Daughters of the Golden West, and to John H. Harris Camp 82, United Spanish War Veterans.

Besides her son, Mrs. Johansen is survived by a brother, William Mahar, with whom she resided at 503 D street.

The cortege will form at 9 a.m. Thursday at Harry W. Williams Mortuary. A Requiem High Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. at St. Raphael's Catholic Church. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the mortuary.

Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael.

One hundred dogs were vaccinated against rabies at the ninth of a series of 10 clinics at the Davidson School in San Rafael last night.

The Marin County Health Department will hold its final clinic of the season from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the Marin City firehouse. A charge of $1.75 is made for each dog.

A representative of the Marin County Humane Society will also be at the firehouse to sell licenses, required for all dogs more than three months old. Certification of a current rabies vaccination must be shown. A $3 fee is charged.

A license clerk for sale of dog licenses will be at the Novato firehouse from 1 to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow and Friday.

Licenses may be obtained from the courthouse, any city hall, at the Humane Society's animal shelter in San Rafael. Deadline for purchase of dog licenses without penalty is Aug. 31. After that date an additional charge of $1 will be made.

Church Seeking Planners' Nod

At tonight's meeting of the Mill Valley Planning Commission, the Mill Valley Church of Christ, Scientist, is scheduled to seek subdivision approval and use permit for construction of a church on a five-acre parcel at the southern end of the Garden Hill tract on Camino Alto.

The commission is slated to consider an application by Manuel Gomez for a variance and plan approval to permit an addition to his building at 31 Miller avenue. It is also to receive a preliminary plan of the Project 17 proposal for the marshlands and a Boyle Park improvement plan.

Injured Hunter Gains In Hospital

An injured San Francisco deer hunter, rescued by helicopter from a rugged canyon near Geyserville, was described by hospital officials as in "satisfactory" condition today.

Leroy Douglas, 61, was taken to Franklin Hospital in San Francisco after a Hamilton Air Force helicopter flew him out of the canyon yesterday.

Douglas apparently became separated from his hunting companions and climbed a tree to get his bearings. He was injured when he fell from the tree and rolled down a cliff.

Italian Orphan Benefit Tonight

Italian orphans will benefit from a barbecue dinner that starts at 7:30 o'clock this evening in Deer Park Villa, Fairfax.

The event is sponsored by Marin County chapter of the Orphans of Italy, Inc. Proceeds will go to Rev. William Porte Carloni's Italian Boys' Town near Milan, Italy.

Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori will be master of ceremonies. Alessando Sarvognan, consul-general for Italy in San Francisco, will be guest speaker.

Reports Car Stolen

John Louis Evenich, 37-year-old Novato mechanic, reported his car stolen yesterday from behind Anderson's Chevrolet, where he works. He told sheriff's deputies he parked his 1954 Chevrolet two-door sedan to the rear of the garage. He ate his lunch in the car yesterday noon. At 4:30 p.m., the car was gone. It has a red body and white top.

Experts Heard On Phone Rate Hike In Novato

A 77-page mimeographed report on operation of the Western Telephone Co. gave basis for expert witnesses' testimony today at a public hearing on a rate increase application at the Marion School in Novato.

Manly Edwards, state Public Utilities Commission examiner, served as hearing officer, representing Commissioner Peter E. Mitchell of Ross.

On behalf of the company, which asks increases in its four areas of operation including Novato, Novato attorney Warren A. Palmer said boosts are required because of "very substantial increases in plant investment costs, operating expenses and financial costs."

William C. Bricca, senior counsel for the commission, attended along with engineering and financial experts.

Bricca explained that these staff members listen, question for clarification, study the report and, in due time at a later meeting, will present the company's situation as they see it from the public viewpoint.

Meanwhile, another meeting similar to today's will open at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Los Gatos, headquarters for the company which operates in Los Gatos and Morgan Hill in Santa Clara County, Kenwood in Sonoma County, and Novato in Marin.

First witnesses were Robert C. Abrams, special studies engineer for the company, and Robert A. Lindsay, its chief accountant, both of whom qualified as experts to present initial chapters of the report covering 1958 recorded operations and 1959 estimated.

Abrams said that at the time of the last Novato rate increase in 1954, equipment was manual but is now automatic. The company bought phone properties of the Utilities Company of Novato in July of 1951.

Novato increases asked include no boost for the "extension residence" category, 60 cents a month for suburban residence, and 80 cents a month for one, two or four-party residence. In business category the increases would be $3.25 monthly for one party business, $2.50 for two-party business, $2.25 for suburban business and $1.60 for semi-public.

The report showed that in Novato 81.65 per cent of the 4,229 phones are residential (50.27 per cent four party residential), with only 18.35 per cent in business categories.

Novato's dial office, established in July of 1955, now is entirely centered on Diablo avenue, but the report says:

"The company recently acquired a parcel of land in a Novato light industrial area where it contemplates establishing its storage and plant service headquarters within the next year. The Novato personnel also assist with the Kenwood operation."

Drunken Driving Trial Under Way

A jury trial opened this morning in Marin Municipal Court for Mrs. Elizabeth M. Torre, 38, of Kentfield, a doctor's wife accused of drunken driving last January.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, prosecutor, and Mrs. Torre's attorney, Leslie Gillen of San Francisco, began quizzing prospective jurors before Judge Harold J. Haley. The case is expected to end tomorrow.

Mrs. Torre, wife of Dr. Emile D. Torre, was arrested on Jan. 9 near the Corte Madera overpass.

tain that we'll have another bad fall and winter."

Giddings was aware of reports that four or five deer had been found dead on the Silveira ranch in North Marin. He said he and others found old carcases there but no indication of recent deaths.

Other reports included word of four or five dead deer on Walter Freitas "C Ranch" and as many as two dozen bodies on Burdell Mountain.

A check of sporting goods stores showed few deer hunters' reports of any sort since the season started last Saturday, but in one instance a hunter told of shooting a buck which was "very lean and poor" from the sparse feed available.

Herbert V. Hedicke, supervisor of Tomales Bay State Park, said that within the park he'd seen deer "still fat and sassy" and that in a patrol Saturday at opening of the season he neither saw nor heard of current deaths aside from shooting. He agreed that past deaths had somewhat cut down the deer supply for the current season.

The budget commits the town to construct a retaining wall at Redwood and Summit and widen the intersection, construct new bus stop pavement at the recreation center, and put a guard rail at 400 Corte Madera avenue.

Money was included for engineering plans to improve Lakeside and Mohawk avenues, Oakdale from Chapman to Eastman, and Sausalito street.

In the flood control budget $19,558 was included for a Lucky drive drainage control structure replacement, a levee on the west bank of San Clemente Creek in Marina Village, 200 feet of 24-inch drainage pipe along Casa Buena drive near the Meadowsweet motel and a stop log control structure under Highway 101 near Madera boulevard.

The park and recreation budget included $16,000 to begin filling the town park site.

Hospital Board To Name Acting Chief Of Staff

Directors of Marin County Hospital District tonight are expected to name an acting chief of the Marin General Hospital medical staff.

Dr. W. Scott Polland resigned as chief of staff early this month, pleading pressure of his private practice.

Administrator S. Ames Pence will report to the board on (1) the status of its application for Hill-Burton Act funds for hospital expansion, (2) the cost of the June election on secession of Novato from the district, (3) the status of care given county welfare cases at Marin General, (4) a recent inspection by the state Bureau of Hospitals, and (5) personnel policy matters.

The meeting will start at 8 o'clock in the staff lounge at Marin General Hospital.

pear on the petitions as owners "whereas the real property belongs" to persons who have not authorized the title companies to commit the properties. The Lautrup document asked that these names be stricken.

4. Some of the names on the petitions are not identical with signatures on vote registration certificates. "We ask that the county clerk be instructed to make a comparison . . . to determine possible forgeries."

Brindel said one of the corporations was Safeway Stores and that he wrote a Safeway official and received a reply that he knew nothing of the matter.

McGuire said that of all the objections raised by the Lautrup document, he could see a possible problem only in the objection concerning the corporation. "But the letter from Safeway," McGuire said, "does not say that the local manager is not authorized to sign. It only says that the officials are not aware of it."

McGuire said he thought the title companies had a right to sign, and that signing of two petitions—both for the incorporation and for exclusion from incorporation—did not disqualify the signers.

He also said that it is up to County Clerk George S. Jones to decide whether the signatures are fraudulent, and that he can use whatever information he wants in deciding, including the signatures of witnesses to the signings.

Jones said that if the bonding money is received this week, the board can set a date for public hearing at its meeting next Tuesday.

Colonel Ward nodded assent.

Sister Mary said she flew a T33 jet trainer (which, incidentally, is the fastest plane 4th Air Force has) two years ago from Wisconsin to New Jersey.

"I have flown at 670 miles per hour," she said. "I would still like to break the sound barrier."

For the 33 school teachers taking Sister Mary's summer class in teaching of health, safety and science at USF, however, the relatively slow-flying C119 proved exciting—especially with Sister Mary in the role of part-time pilot.

The sister, science education supervisor for the Green Bay, Wis., Catholic archidocese, said she learned to fly at Manitowoc, Wis., and received a commercial pilot's license. She taught aeronautics for the Civil Aeronautics Administration during World War II at Catholic University in Washington, D.C.

"Why do you want to break the sound barrier?" asked an Independent-Journal reporter. "For a thrill?"

"No," said Sister Mary, buckling her parachute harness. "It's something to improve my education."

Injured Man 'Fair'

Mildred Benkert Services Held

Funeral services were held this morning at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, for Mrs. Mildred (Su) Benkert of Belvedere, who died unexpectedly Friday as she finished her day's work in the office of City Manager Britton Rey.

Mrs. Benkert was widely known in the community through her official position and also as a long time yachting enthusiast.

She is survived by her husband, Maxwell, and a daughter, Patricia Susan.

Inurnment will be private.

Rites Set For Marinite's Father

Funeral services for Fred Lester Langton, 74, father of Mrs. Warren Zimmer of Sausalito, will be held tomorrow. Langton died Saturday at his home at Little River in Sonoma County.

Langton managed the Memory Grove Campgrounds, moving to Little River 10 years ago from Tacoma, Wash. He was a native of Wisconsin.

Services will be held at Mendocino Presbyterian Church and burial will be Little River Cemetery.

Iva Stang Last Rites Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Iva Stang of Mill Valley, who died Sunday after long illness, will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley.

The wife of Percy A. Stang of 152 Ethel avenue, she was prominent in the Mill Valley Community Church, Outdoor Art Club and California Federation of Womens' Clubs. She was a founder member of the Marin Music Chest.

Interment will be private.

Tennessee Rites Set For Infant

Funeral services and interment for the seven-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Simpson of Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, will be held in Waverly, Tenn.

The infant died yesterday morning at a local hospital. An autopsy was performed but the pathologist's report has not yet been received.

Local arrangements are being made by Russell and Gooch, Mill Valley.

The budget commits the town to construct a retaining wall at Redwood and Summit and widen the intersection, construct new bus stop pavement at the recreation center, and put a guard rail at 400 Corte Madera avenue.

Money was included for engineering plans to improve Lakeside and Mohawk avenues, Oakdale from Chapman to Eastman, and Sausalito street.

In the flood control budget $19,558 was included for a Lucky drive drainage control structure replacement, a levee on the west bank of San Clemente Creek in Marina Village, 200 feet of 24-inch drainage pipe along Casa Buena drive near the Meadowsweet motel and a stop log control structure under Highway 101 near Madera boulevard.

The park and recreation budget included $16,000 to begin filling the town park site.

Hospital Board To Name Acting Chief Of Staff

Directors of Marin County Hospital District tonight are expected to name an acting chief of the Marin General Hospital medical staff.

Dr. W. Scott Polland resigned as chief of staff early this month, pleading pressure of his private practice.

Administrator S. Ames Pence will report to the board on (1) the status of its application for Hill-Burton Act funds for hospital expansion, (2) the cost of the June election on secession of Novato from the district, (3) the status of care given county welfare cases at Marin General, (4) a recent inspection by the state Bureau of Hospitals, and (5) personnel policy matters.

The meeting will start at 8 o'clock in the staff lounge at Marin General Hospital.

pear on the petitions as owners "whereas the real property belongs" to persons who have not authorized the title companies to commit the properties. The Lautrup document asked that these names be stricken.

4. Some of the names on the petitions are not identical with signatures on vote registration certificates. "We ask that the county clerk be instructed to make a comparison . . . to determine possible forgeries."

Brindel said one of the corporations was Safeway Stores and that he wrote a Safeway official and received a reply that he knew nothing of the matter.

McGuire said that of all the objections raised by the Lautrup document, he could see a possible problem only in the objection concerning the corporation. "But the letter from Safeway," McGuire said, "does not say that the local manager is not authorized to sign. It only says that the officials are not aware of it."

McGuire said he thought the title companies had a right to sign, and that signing of two petitions—both for the incorporation and for exclusion from incorporation—did not disqualify the signers.

He also said that it is up to County Clerk George S. Jones to decide whether the signatures are fraudulent, and that he can use whatever information he wants in deciding, including the signatures of witnesses to the signings.

Jones said that if the bonding money is received this week, the board can set a date for public hearing at its meeting next Tuesday.

a drive-in in San Anselmo.

Merlau told officers the red-head appeared to be "after" someone for alleged attentions to a girl employed at the drive-in. According to Merlau, the red-head gave his name as Jim Smith. Merlau said he persuaded Smith to let him drive him back to Napa in the company of the girl employee of the drive-in. Merlau dropped the girl off at a friend's home in Napa, then proceeded to the hospital with Smith. But, Merlau said, when they arrived, Smith threatened to kill him and ran from the car.

Ross Executive To Face Court

Ross business executive Robert Newell Pomeroy, 40, is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow afernoon to face charges of drunken driving in Larkspur last Sunday.

Pomeroy, president of J. H. Pomeroy and Co. construction and engineering firm, was arrested after police saw his car hit a parked vehicle at Magnolia avenue and Ward street in Larkspur.

Autzen Services Set Tomorrow

Funeral services for Peter Autzen, for 35 years a real estate agent in Marin County, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Autzen died Sunday at age 77 in San Francisco, where he moved in February from Bayside Acres in San Rafael. Born in Oregon, he was a California resident 70 years.

Colonel Ward nodded assent.

Sister Mary said she flew a T33 jet trainer (which, incidentally, is the fastest plane 4th Air Force has) two years ago from Wisconsin to New Jersey.

"I have flown at 670 miles per hour," she said. "I would still like to break the sound barrier."

For the 33 school teachers taking Sister Mary's summer class in teaching of health, safety and science at USF, however, the relatively slow-flying C119 proved exciting—especially with Sister Mary in the role of part-time pilot.

The sister, science education supervisor for the Green Bay, Wis., Catholic archidocese, said she learned to fly at Manitowoc, Wis., and received a commercial pilot's license. She taught aeronautics for the Civil Aeronautics Administration during World War II at Catholic University in Washington, D.C.

"Why do you want to break the sound barrier?" asked an Independent-Journal reporter. "For a thrill?"

"No," said Sister Mary, buckling her parachute harness. "It's something to improve my education."

Injured Man 'Fair'

Mildred Benkert Services Held

Funeral services were held this morning at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, for Mrs. Mildred (Su) Benkert of Belvedere, who died unexpectedly Friday as she finished her day's work in the office of City Manager Britton Rey.

Mrs. Benkert was widely known in the community through her official position and also as a long time yachting enthusiast.

She is survived by her husband, Maxwell, and a daughter, Patricia Susan.

Inurnment will be private.

Rites Set For Marinite's Father

Funeral services for Fred Lester Langton, 74, father of Mrs. Warren Zimmer of Sausalito, will be held tomorrow. Langton died Saturday at his home at Little River in Sonoma County.

Langton managed the Memory Grove Campgrounds, moving to Little River 10 years ago from Tacoma, Wash. He was a native of Wisconsin.

Services will be held at Mendocino Presbyterian Church and burial will be Little River Cemetery.

Iva Stang Last Rites Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Iva Stang of Mill Valley, who died Sunday after long illness, will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley.

The wife of Percy A. Stang of 152 Ethel avenue, she was prominent in the Mill Valley Community Church, Outdoor Art Club and California Federation of Womens' Clubs. She was a founder member of the Marin Music Chest.

Interment will be private.

Tennessee Rites Set For Infant

Funeral services and interment for the seven-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Simpson of Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, will be held in Waverly, Tenn.

The infant died yesterday morning at a local hospital. An autopsy was performed but the pathologist's report has not yet been received.

Local arrangements are being made by Russell and Gooch, Mill Valley.

Cheering Russians Give Nixon Warm Welcome In Siberia

NOVOSIBIRSK, Soviet Union (AP)—About 20,000 friendly, applauding Russians gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon the warmest welcome of his Soviet tour when he arrived in this Siberian city today for a goodwill visit.

Nixon arrived amid solid signs he was considering more and more favorably a recommendation that President Eisenhower invite Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the United States for a visit.

Thousands of men and women lined the streets here, in some places four and five deep, to wave greetings to Nixon and his wife.

Communist leaders of this developing Siberian industrial area rode through town with the Nixons.

A bus carrying American correspondents traveling with Nixon was nearly mobbed by several thousand excited Russians, hands outstretched in greeting, when they arrived in Stalin Square.

Soviet authorities were understood to have agreed finally to allow Nixon to tour the Siberian branch of the Academy of Sciences. This will be a big scientific research center for the entire Siberian-Ural area.

Meanwhile, authorities familiar with Nixon's views reported he believed his tour thus far has surpassed his expectations after a slow, rather cool welcome in Moscow.

The crowds who welcomed him in Leningrad were about three times as large as those in Moscow. The turnout at Novosibirsk surpassed the fondest hopes of American aides accompanying him on the visit.

Nixon in a talk to the throng of airport wellwishers noted that Novosibirsk has always been one of the cities closed to foreigners.

"As we know, some cities in the Soviet Union are called 'closed cities.' There are some 'closed cities' in the United States but we feel that all cities should get to know each other," he said.

This is a big machine manufacturing center 1,750 miles east of Moscow. It has a population of 887,000.

On the visit to Leningrad, Nixon intervened to help Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover, the naval expert in his party, get a close look at the heart of a new Russian atomic icebreaker.

The shipyard master refused at first but was overruled by higher Soviet officials. Rickover then made a two-hour inspection of "everything I wanted to see." The ship's atomic reactors themselves were inactive.

He emerged to describe the pride of the Red Navy "a fine job" but said, "it does not represent an advance in the reactor art."

California Avenue Proposal Supported

The Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West has endorsed the action of Rep. William S. Mailliard of San Francisco in his request to the government of the District of Columbia that it honor California by naming a principal thoroughfare "California avenue." The request has met with favorable reception from the District of Columbia Planning Advisory Council, John B. Schmolle, NSGW grand president said.

The council has recommended that Linnean avenue, a four and four and one-half mile artery, in the northwest section of the capital city, be renamed.

United Parcel Strike Hits Bay Deliveries

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Teamster Union strike against United Parcel Service has stopped deliveries from about 2,800 Bay Area retail and wholesale firms.

Teamster officials said picket lines may be extended to other Northern California cities today and later to Southern California.

Delivery drivers struck the company in Alameda County Friday night in a dispute over wages. Pickets appeared here yesterday.

Negotiations broke down after the company offered a 22½-cent hourly wage increase bringing the driver's wage to $2.75½ an hour.

The UPS drivers balked after learning of a settlement with the California Trucking Assns. which calls for a 25-cent hourly wage increase this year and another 20 cent raise next year.

A company spokesman said 20 terminals employing about 565 drivers will be affected if the strike spreads.

West Works On Compromise Plan To Put Berlin Situation On Ice

GENEVA (UPI)—The West is working on a compromise plan to save the deadlocked Big Four foreign ministers' talks by offering Russia a proposal to keep the Berlin situation as it is until Christmas, 1961, conference sources reported today.

The plan reportedly will propose that:

1. Western rights in Berlin should remain unchanged until an all-German settlement, unless modified previously by Big Four agreement.

2. At the end of two and a half years—that is, around Christmas, 1961—the Big Four foreign ministers should meet again to reconsider the Berlin situation.

The new Western plan would mean putting the Berlin issue on ice at least until after the 1960 U.S. presidential election, the British parliamentary election which must be held before May, 1960, and the West German parliamentary election scheduled for the fall of 1961.

It reportedly was studied by U.S., British, French and West German officials this morning and submitted by them to a meeting of the western Big Four foreign ministers this afternoon.

TRUCK CARRYING MELONS CRASHES GATE

A big truck carrying vegetables and melons crashed through the north gate to Hamilton Air Force Base at 12:30 p.m. yesterday, but its cargo remained intact. The California Highway Patrol said Clarence Alan Fellenberg, 31, of Santa Rosa, the driver, apparently became confused by the signal of a truck in front of him, tried to turn and lost control. The vehicle ran over a raised divider, and landed on its left side. Fellenberg complained of bruises. (Independent-Journal photo)

Atlas Ready Sept. 1, Says Missile Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, Air Force missile chief, told House investigators today there is no cause for alarm over recent repeated failures in the long range Atlas missile.

Schriever expressed confidence the big intercontinental missile will be ready for combat use by approximately Sept. 1—some 60 days later than the original target date.

FIRST WITNESS

Schriever, head of the Air Research and Development Command, was the first witness in a House Space Committee inquiry into what has gone wrong in the Atlas program.

"It is, of course, too early for me to say with certainty that we have identified and eliminated the causes of our recent Atlas flight test malfunction," Schriever told the committee.

But he said the Air Force feels it has corrected the difficulties that caused five successive failures in Atlas firings over a five-month period.

ADVANCED MODEL

He noted that an advanced model Atlas scored what he termed a completely successful flight over its full 5,500-mile Atlantic range last week.

Under questioning, Schriever said all of the five failures occurred in B and C series missiles which he described as later models of the Atlas. The Air Force had achieved unexpected success with the earlier series, he said.

FIVE FAILURES

Of the five failures, Schriever described two as being related and said they occurred 100 to 130 seconds after launching.

In both cases, he said, the missiles exploded about 20 seconds after the two booster stages had dropped off.

"We have made a very detailed analysis and we are pretty sure we know where the problem existed and we think we have fixed it," Schriever said.

NO BAGELS OR LOX TILL BOOK IS BACK

FOLSOM (UPI) — Walter S. Penney, food manager at Folsom Prison, has placed an advertisement in the prison paper calling for the return of a book borrowed from him entitled "Jewish Cookery."

Penney wants the prisoners "there will positively be no lox and bagels or gefulltefish served while this book is missing."

Neuberger Plugs Adlai As Candidate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) today came out for Adlai E. Stevenson as Democratic candidate for president in 1960.

Neuberger announced his choice in a brief Senate floor speech. At the same time he urged that the names of all but genuine candidates be kept off the ballot of the Oregon Democratic primary, which takes place May 20, 1960.

He deplored, for instance, the 1952 candidacy of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, whose name was entered despite his own protests. He said such activities dilute the meaning of the ballot.

Neuberger described Stevenson, the twice-defeated Democratic aspirant, as "the epitome of the intellectual statesmanship of Jefferson, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt."

He said he hopes all real aspirants will realize the chance the Oregon primary provides for a test of strength.

Win State Contract

Watkin and Sibbald, owners of the Red Hill Nursery in San Anselmo, were awarded a $34,166 contract by the state Department of Public Works on Friday to landscape 2.8 miles of State Route 24 in Lafayette from west of Sunnybrook drive to east of Hodges road.

Tomales Shark Established As 750-Pounder

Weight of the white man-eating shark netted in Tomales Bay last Saturday was established today as around 750 pounds.

The official weight recorded by the California Academy of Sciences, which took over the big fish after public display by Tony and Felix Konatich at Marshall over the weekend, was 625 pounds but an academy spokesman pointed out that there had been much loss of blood and some dehydration.

When the Konatich father and son, who caught the shark, put it on their hoist after bringing it to the pier they found that the weight exceeded the hoist's 700-pound capacity and help had to be given.

ESTIMATE CLOSE

Felix at that time estimated around 750 pounds, which the academy now indicates to be about right.

"Formidable" was the word applied by an academy witness of disclosure of a five-foot sting ray within the shark's stomach. A fishing hook attached to a leader was also found.

Though the ray was a giant, evidently the shark itself nearly 12 feet long was more than its match. But inspection of the condition of the ray showed that the shark had taken five husky bites before subduing the ray.

CLEANING UP JAWS

The academy has been cleaning up the shark's jaws to preserve them as a permanent specimen on display.

Meanwhile Herbert V. Hedicke, supervisor at Tomales Bay State Park, said a boat patrol is keeping watch for further shark-fins cutting the waters around Indian Beach, off which the big shark was netted, as well as the park's other two bathing beaches. So far no more sharks have been sighted but bathers are still being warned to stay in close where the water is shallow.

Duhamel Resigns Post As Hub School Trustee

The resignation of W. P. (Doc) Duhamel as a trustee of San Anselmo School District was accepted with regret last night by three of his fellow trustees.

Duhamel said today that there was "no particular reason" for his resignation.

"Maybe I'm old and tired. I've been on the board a long time," he added.

Duhamel has served on the San Anselmo School District Board of Trustees for about five years. His current term was due to expire June 30, 1961. Duhamel, 65, is veterans' service officer for Marin

He said the other trustees have "known a long time" that he planned to resign but said that his decision was made after the May school trustees' election.

Trustee Philip Bundschu was elected by the board as clerk, to replace Duhamel in that job.

Duhamel was not present at last night's meeting when his letter of resignation was presented. Also absent was Trustee Mary Hedin.

Asst. Supt. James R. Jordan said a replacement may be appointed by County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and ratified by the county board of education next Monday. He said a list of about four names will be submitted by the San Anselmo trustees for consideration by Dr. Hollis.

In other business last night, the San Anselmo trustees:

1. Accepted a three-year fire insurance policy costing $5,790 submitted by the Marin County Insurance Agents Assn.
2. Appointed Mrs. Ethel Bauer, 52, of 45 Lancaster avenue, Kentfield, to teach second grade at Yolansdale School. She has five years experience teaching fifth grade in Seattle, Wash.
3. Set an organization meeting on Aug. 25 at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School for a citizens' committee for the district's proposed tax rate increase from $1.45 to $2 per $100 assessed valuation. The tax election will be Oct. 20. The board scheduled a budget hearing at its Aug. 5 meeting.
4. Appointed Dr. George L. Benoit, chairman of the board, to meet with representatives of the Fairfax and Kentfield school districts on how the confederated districts' joint property will be divided. The confederation will end next June 30.

Corte Madera In New Merger Study Move

The Corte Madera Town Council moved last night to talk out differences between its merger study committee and that of the neighboring city of Larkspur.

Corte Madera's council voted to appoint Councilmen Walter S. Long and Albert E. Kogler to a joint Larkspur-Corte Madera committee. The council requested that Charles Rowe, vice chairman of the town's merger committee, select two from his group to complete the Corte Madera delegation.

Once word is received that the last two committee members have been picked, the city managers of the Twin Cities will arrange a first meeting.

Larkspur's delegation includes Mayor Daniel Allen and Councilman Orrin W. Gray, Lesly A. Daveler and Robert J. Smith of the Larkspur merger study committee, and as an ex-officio member, City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

No action was taken by the Corte Madera Council on updating the merger study prepared last year by Public Affairs Research of Oakland. William R. Zion, head of the Oakland firm, wrote that updating the study, including a comparison of future revenues of the two cities, would cost $750.

The three councilmen present voted unanimously to refer Zion's letter to the joint Larkspur-Corte Madera committee. (Councilman Long arrived at the meeting at 8:40 p.m., after this action was taken. Councilman William R. Hansen was absent because of illness).

In other action last night, the Corte Madera Town Council:

1. Approved a new contract to run from Oct. 1, 1959, to Sept. 30, 1960, for consulting services of the San Francisco firm of Lawrence Livingston Jr. and John A. Blayney, city planners. Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow reported one change in fees in the new contract was for miscellaneous consulting services authorized by the city manager: Livingston would receive $25 an hour and Blayney, $17.50 an hour. The current contract provides a flat $15 an hour rate for both.
2. Approved specifications for a drainage structure to carry Lucky drive over the Corte Madera high canal. The specifications, prepared by project engineer Benjamin C. Albritton, note that the Corte Madera high canal must remain in continuous operation from Oct. 15 to April 15 to prevent flooding.
3. Called for bids to remodel the firehouse, estimated to cost $2,045. The project includes a new garage door cut in the basement, a concrete ramp and new floor for the apparatus room on the main floor of the building. Bid opening was set for Aug. 17 at 3 p.m.
4. Appointed Paul Taylor, member of the street crew, as assistant street superintendent under Supt. Frank Reis. The promotion means a salary increase from $367 a month to $386.
5. Introduced an emergency ordinance establishing three stop signs in Marin Estates at the northwest corner of Granada and El Camino, at the northwest corner of El Camina and Estrada, and on Seawolf passage at Paradise drive. The ordinance may be adopted at the Aug. 3 council meeting.
6. Introduced an ordinance to prohibit trucks weighing more than three tons in the southbound lane of Madera boulevard from Tamal Vista to Mohawk avenue, and the entire length of Tamal Vista. This ordinance also will be up for adoption Aug. 3.

BEAT MOTHERS JUST PLAIN TUCKERED OUT

NEW YORK (AP)—Feeling beat, mother?

Kids got you down? Feel irritable, rundown — just not as well as you used to be?

Well, relax. You're probably not sick. You're just tired. Most young mothers are, reports Dr. Leonard L. Lovshin of the Cleveland Clinic Foundation.

He has an article on the subject in the July issue of Postgraduate Medicine.

"A tired mother is not necessarily maladjusted—she is spent; not burdened with guilt—merely overly conscientious; and, most important of all, she is not sick—just tired," he wrote.

Square Dancing Club Installs New Officers

Other officers are Charles Owens, vice president; Esther Massey, secretary, and Marge Yates, treasurer. The club held a party Friday at the VFW Hall in Santa Venetia for the graduating beginners class of Larry Twist, the club's caller.

Imperial Beach Couple Report Loss Of Camera

A thief, apparently using a pass key, entered two rooms at Corte Madera's Edgewater Inn last night, taking a $50 Japanese camera and leather case containing photographic equipment.

Police said the camera and case belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Connell Jr. of Imperial Beach. They discovered the loss at about 9:30 p.m. Michael Picard of Miami, Fla., occupant of the other room, was not sure whether any of his belongings was missing, police reported. Officers said there was no evidence of forced entry.

Belveron Gardens Landscaping Approved

Plans for landscaping the entrances to Belveron Gardens were approved at last night's meeting of the Belveron Gardens Property Owners Assn., according to Kelly J. Wheeler, president.

The plans, which call for trees, shrubs and signs at the three entrances, were drawn by Belveron Gardens resident William B. Everest. Work on the project, by volunteer labor, will start soon.

TRUCK CARRYING MELONS CRASHES GATE

A big truck carrying vegetables and melons crashed through the north gate to Hamilton Air Force Base at 12:30 p.m. yesterday, but its cargo remained intact. The California Highway Patrol said Clarence Alan Fellenberg, 31, of Santa Rosa, the driver, apparently became confused by the signal of a truck in front of him, tried to turn and lost control. The vehicle ran over a raised divider, and landed on its left side. Fellenberg complained of bruises. (Independent-Journal photo)

Atlas Ready Sept. 1, Says Missile Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, Air Force missile chief, told House investigators today there is no cause for alarm over recent repeated failures in the long range Atlas missile.

Schriever expressed confidence the big intercontinental missile will be ready for combat use by approximately Sept. 1—some 60 days later than the original target date.

FIRST WITNESS

Schriever, head of the Air Research and Development Command, was the first witness in a House Space Committee inquiry into what has gone wrong in the Atlas program.

"It is, of course, too early for me to say with certainty that we have identified and eliminated the causes of our recent Atlas flight test malfunction," Schriever told the committee.

But he said the Air Force feels it has corrected the difficulties that caused five successive failures in Atlas firings over a five-month period.

ADVANCED MODEL

He noted that an advanced model Atlas scored what he termed a completely successful flight over its full 5,500-mile Atlantic range last week.

Under questioning, Schriever said all of the five failures occurred in B and C series missiles which he described as later models of the Atlas. The Air Force had achieved unexpected success with the earlier series, he said.

FIVE FAILURES

Of the five failures, Schriever described two as being related and said they occurred 100 to 130 seconds after launching.

In both cases, he said, the missiles exploded about 20 seconds after the two booster stages had dropped off.

"We have made a very detailed analysis and we are pretty sure we know where the problem existed and we think we have fixed it," Schriever said.

NO BAGELS OR LOX TILL BOOK IS BACK

FOLSOM (UPI) — Walter S. Penney, food manager at Folsom Prison, has placed an advertisement in the prison paper calling for the return of a book borrowed from him entitled "Jewish Cookery."

Penney wants the prisoners "there will positively be no lox and bagels or gefulltefish served while this book is missing."

State's Water Shortage Isn't Critical Yet, But It Could Be

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A town in Lake County is out of water.

The famed waterfalls in Yosemite National Park may run dry before the tourist season ends.

Fire danger is at its highest in 35 years.

A beach at nearby Folsom Lake has been posted as hazardous because of receding water . . . leaving mud, rocks and holes.

Salt water has crept farther up the San Joaquin and Sacramento Rivers than at any time since 1939.

It all adds up to a serious water shortage in California, but a situation that can't yet be considered critical in the eyes of the state Water Resources Department.

"But give us another year like this next year and things will be really bad," a department spokesman said.

A similar report was issued by the watermaster for the Central Valley Project.

He said the CVP's Folsom and Shasta Dams have enough water for this year. But if next winter is another dry one, look out!

The CVP has had to deny requests of farmers in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta for bigger water releases to control salt water intrusion.

The salinity line, where the water has a high salt content, has moved up from below Antioch to near Rio Vista on the Sacramento River. It probably will move further.

Lakeport in Lake County, normally dependent on the water of Scot's Creek, had to start water rationing when the creek went dry.

Yreka, in Siskiyou County, is rationing water.

Generally, however, carryover water in the reservoirs has been sufficient to meet this year's need.

Harvey O. Banks, state water director, has called a meeting to alert Californians to steps needed to ease water shortages.

The department says the whole situation indicates the value of well-planned water projects.

War II Cannon Sets Brush Fire

CASTAIC (AP)—Four boys set off a brush blaze by firing a World War II German anti-tank gun.

WINDS FAN FLAMES

Two New Forest Fires Raging In N. California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One of the major fires in an increasingly damaging California forest fire season raged out of control before 40 miles an hour north winds in the Shasta-Trinity National Forest last night.

"I'd say our fire has gone to hell," reported Joe Noble, U.S. Forest Service dispatcher at Redding.

The unexpected wind spread the flames over an estimated 1,500 acres in a few hours before dark yesterday. Before then the blaze had been contained in about 1,000 acres along Ramshorn Creek in two days of battling 50 miles northwest of Redding.

The same sharp winds swept new blaze in brush and grass country north of Yreka southward into the Klamath National Forest. More than 30,000 acres of good timber was threatened.

The federal service and the state Division of Forestry joined in mobilizing more than 300 men on the blaze that broke out near the Oregon border along Highway 99 yesterday afternoon.

Describing the Shasta-Trinity fire situation, Noble said:

"It's burning nice timber, pine and fir, and right now it looks like it could go all the way to the Gulf of Mexico."

Acknowledging exaggeration of a discouraging outlook, Noble said:

"Seriously, we're reorganizing now and building up our manpower and figuring out where we've got a chance to stop it."

RANGER BACK FROM WESTERN PACIFIC

With Marin hills as a backdrop, the super-carrier Ranger sailed under the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday, coming back to home port of Alameda after a seven-month cruise in the western Pacific. The giant vessel is soon to enter San Francisco Naval Shipyard for post-cruise repairs. (AP Wirephoto)

State's Water Shortage Isn't Critical Yet, But It Could Be

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A town in Lake County is out of water.

The famed waterfalls in Yosemite National Park may run dry before the tourist season ends.

Fire danger is at its highest in 35 years.

A beach at nearby Folsom Lake has been posted as hazardous because of receding water . . . leaving mud, rocks and holes.

Salt water has crept farther up the San Joaquin and Sacramento Rivers than at any time since 1939.

It all adds up to a serious water shortage in California, but a situation that can't yet be considered critical in the eyes of the state Water Resources Department.

"But give us another year like this next year and things will be really bad," a department spokesman said.

A similar report was issued by the watermaster for the Central Valley Project.

He said the CVP's Folsom and Shasta Dams have enough water for this year. But if next winter is another dry one, look out!

The CVP has had to deny requests of farmers in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta for bigger water releases to control salt water intrusion.

The salinity line, where the water has a high salt content, has moved up from below Antioch to near Rio Vista on the Sacramento River. It probably will move further.

Lakeport in Lake County, normally dependent on the water of Scot's Creek, had to start water rationing when the creek went dry.

Yreka, in Siskiyou County, is rationing water.

Generally, however, carryover water in the reservoirs has been sufficient to meet this year's need.

Harvey O. Banks, state water director, has called a meeting to alert Californians to steps needed to ease water shortages.

The department says the whole situation indicates the value of well-planned water projects.

War II Cannon Sets Brush Fire

CASTAIC (AP)—Four boys set off a brush blaze by firing a World War II German anti-tank gun.

WINDS FAN FLAMES

Two New Forest Fires Raging In N. California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One of the major fires in an increasingly damaging California forest fire season raged out of control before 40 miles an hour north winds in the Shasta-Trinity National Forest last night.

"I'd say our fire has gone to hell," reported Joe Noble, U.S. Forest Service dispatcher at Redding.

The unexpected wind spread the flames over an estimated 1,500 acres in a few hours before dark yesterday. Before then the blaze had been contained in about 1,000 acres along Ramshorn Creek in two days of battling 50 miles northwest of Redding.

The same sharp winds swept new blaze in brush and grass country north of Yreka southward into the Klamath National Forest. More than 30,000 acres of good timber was threatened.

The federal service and the state Division of Forestry joined in mobilizing more than 300 men on the blaze that broke out near the Oregon border along Highway 99 yesterday afternoon.

Describing the Shasta-Trinity fire situation, Noble said:

"It's burning nice timber, pine and fir, and right now it looks like it could go all the way to the Gulf of Mexico."

Acknowledging exaggeration of a discouraging outlook, Noble said:

Ringney Wondering What Happened To Giants' Power

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants, "hitless wonders" of the 1959 National League pennant chase, are in a "dog-eat-dog" battle, Manager Bill Rigney said today, with the Giant lack of punch at the plate a puzzle.

Beaten in their last two outings by the Chicago Cubs, the Giants tangle with the last-place Philadelphia Phils tonight—and Rigney will use one member of his pitching one-two punch on the mound: either Johnny Antonelli or Sad Sam Jones.

Rigney is worried over failure of the hitters—and he has good reason. Despite the fact the club is leading the league, it is sixth in batting with a weak .258 mark, and seventh in fielding.

"We can't seem to get the hits in bunches," says Rigney. "What's happened to the days when we could score runs in clusters of three and four per inning?"

BIG BOYS FAIL

Big item, of course, is failure of Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to clout with any degree of consistency. In their losing effort against the Cubs on Sunday, Mays drove in all three Giant runs with a homer and a sacrifice fly. But his average, now only .301, isn't what should be expected of the incomparable one.

Cepeda, batting at .321, has slowly been coming down from the .345 mark during the last six weeks. The other regulars continue to bat at about the rate which they have been expected.

But the pinch-hitters (using the term loosely) are a complete flop. Leon Wagner is the best at .235. Dusty Rhodes, one-time Giant hero, is hitting a puny .217 with five safeties in 23 chances. Old Hank Sauer, nearing the end of a glorious career, is even worse: one hit in 13 trips for .077. That lone blast was a home run in a lost cause against the Cubs last Saturday.

PITCHING GREAT

The pitching, of course, and the even balance in the league, is what keeps the Giants going. Antonelli is having one of the best campaigns of his brilliant career. He has a 14-5 record and a fine E.R.A. of 2.61. Sam Jones also has won 14, but lost 10. His E.R.A. is an even three runs per nine innings.

Stu Miller, the 1958 National League earned-run leader, is nearly as effective this year—and just about as unlucky when it comes to winning ball games. He has allowed an average of 2.95 per game—but has a record of 4-5.

Antonelli and Jones, of course, are the big stoppers.

"I have to use them every chance we get," sighs Rigney. "It's dog-eat-dog from here out.

"If we can just get a bit of hitting to back up our fine pitching, we can stay right up where we are."

Braves Close In Fast On Loop Leaders

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Milwaukee Braves, who only a few days ago looked as if they had had it, now have it again—and the "it" is pitching.

With Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Juan Pizarro, Bob Buhl and Joey Jack back in form, the Braves have reclaimed second place, closing within 1½ games of idle San Francisco in the National League race as Pal Joey put away a five-game sweep over Pittsburgh yesterday, 5-2.

FIVE-MAN STAFF

That five-man staff gave up only three runs in the five games, blanking the Bucs through the first 30⅔ innings and not allowing an earned run for 38 frames until Pittsburgh finally got one home in the third inning Monday.

Cincinnati rapped St. Louis 8-3 in the only other NL game.

In the American League, Cleveland dropped into a first-place tie with idle Chicago, losing 4-0 to Boston and the three-hit pitching of rookie Jersey Casale. Kansas City matched the longest winning string in the majors this season, making it eight straight with a 7-6 victory over Washington. Baltimore defeated Detroit 5-2, with Gene Woodling driving in all the Oriole runs, in the only other game.

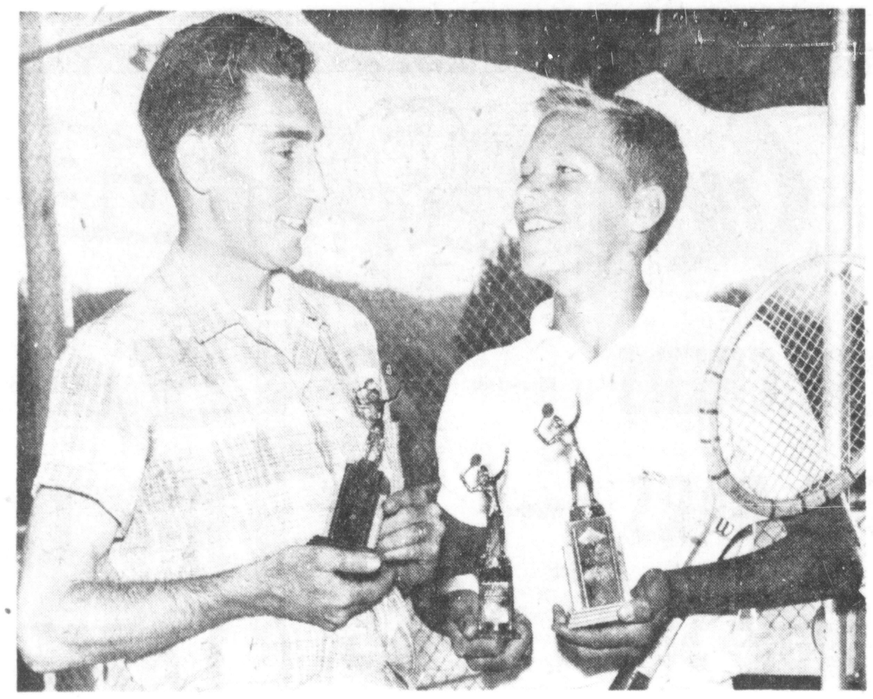

AVILA TRIPLES

Despite a five-hitter by Jay (4-7), who hadn't won in a month, the Braves didn't bag it until the seventh. Blanked on three hits until then by Ron Kline (7-10), they broke loose for all five runs, scoring on Del Crandall's tying, two-run single and Bobby Avila's clinching, two-run triple.

With Jay gaining only his third complete game in more than a year, the Braves now have won six of seven since dropping seven straight and skidding to fourth place. They trailed by 4½ just five days ago.

Now they're even with the Giants in the lost column and have a two-percentage point edge over the Dodgers.

The Reds scored twice in the first inning, then nailed Vinegar Bend Mizell (11-6) with Johnny Temple's fifth homer, a three-run shot in the fourth. Bob Purkey (9-10) went all the way, giving up five of the Cards' nine hits when they scored all three runs in the fifth.

THREE TROPHIES FOR THE CHAMP

Director Joe Rodota (left) of the Marin County Junior Tennis Tournament was a busy man when it came time to present trophies Saturday night—particularly when he came to Brian Laurie. Here the young star poses with the three trophies he won—two championship cups and one for runner-up. Trophies were provided by the Independent-Journal.

Vacations Hit Tennis Play At Sausalito

Vacation schedules forced postponemen of many matches Saturday and the Sausalito Beginners Tennis Tournament was off to a slow start.

Tournament director John Minton announced that three postponed matches would be played tomorrow morning, with a heavy schedule of play set also for next Saturday morning. The matches tomorrow will be played at the Christ Church court, with Saturday's slated for the Richardson Bay School layout.

Twelve-year-old Donald Jen was first to reach the semi-finals in the boys division. He advanced via a bye and a 6-3 victory over Kevin Longini.

In girls play, Betsy Nowlan downed Lori Dewees, 6-0; Gale Segrue edged Tracy Bell, 6-4; and Michael Ann Dyk beat Jillian Rogers, 6-4.

Tomorrow's schedule: 10 a.m.—Chris Pera vs. Kathy Fickert; Theresa Puharich vs. Marsha Fickert; 11 a.m.—Ramy Stone vs. Martha Wax.

Saturday's schedule: 9:45 a.m.—Holly Hall vs. Hillary King; Michael Goerndt vs. Ford Cook; Charles Davis vs. David MacLaird; Chris Tellis vs. Hans Von Atzigen; Chris Gerdts vs. David Wilkinson; 11 a.m.—winner Davis- MacLaird vs. winner Tellis-Von Atzigen; winner Gerdts-Wilkinson vs. Fred Fickert; winner Hall-King vs. Betsy Nowlan; Gale Segrue vs. Michael Ann Dyk; winner Stone-Wax vs. winner Puharich-Fickert.

Carroll Stopped

North Marin Club Wins Pony Crown

A North Marin Pony League team, loaded with fireballing pitchers, took three games in a row Saturday and Sunday in the area Pony League playoffs in Mill Valley and is now headed for Redding where this weekend they will compete in the district championships for a shot at the regional title.

The area playoffs, composed of teams from Marin and Sonoma counties, opened Saturday afternoon when the South Marin team squeaked by Sebastopol 8-7 with Bill Duweese of Sausalito credited with the win. Sebastopol had dropped the strong North Marin team 8-4 the previous weekend in the apple city.

In the later afternoon hassle, the powerful North Marin team, coached by Gene Chaon of Cotati, reversed the tables on Sebastopol, clobbering them 17-4 with Pete Belew of Rafael Village the winning hurler.

As Sunday rolled around for final eliminations, the two Marin teams tangled in a real brawl with North Marin emerging the victor by a 10-3 count. But for the first five and a half innings it was 2-0 score favoring the North Marin team as Steve Barrett of Novato fanned 12, giving up five walks and five hits only to weaken and allow the two runs to come in and tie the score. He was relieved by Jerry Daniele of Rafael Meadows who received credit for the win.

At the same time Freddie Mack of Mill Valley, pitching his heart out for the South Marin team, fanned 14, walked only one and gave up four hits in six innings.

In the rubber game Sunday, North Marin took the slugfest 14-9 with Doug Matlock of Rafael Meadows getting credit for the win, being relieved in the sixth by Larry Hale who promply fanned six batters in a row.

The winner of the Redding playoff this weekend will travel to Provo, Utah, for the finals.

Pebble Beach Boat Takes Opening Race

It was a close finish yesterday in the opening race of the Mercury International Championship Series, sailed on Richardson Bay out of the Sausalito Yacht Club.

He was aided by crewman Mike Figour of Tiburon.

But the next two boats crossed the finish line within ten seconds of the Fran. Pete Sutter of the St. Francis Yacht Club, San Francisco, crossed the line second in his Ar-Go-Lo, and Kutaka Kuwatni and his Opus II from the Sausalito Yacht Club finished third.

However, Sutter was disqualified for a foul and the Opus II was moved up into second place. Don Stewart of the Los Angeles Yacht Club was advanced to third.

The series continues today.

New League Sets Founder Meet Aug. 18

Circuit Expecting To Operate In '61 With Eight Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — The five founding cities of the third major baseball league—the Continental League—plan to operate in 1961 with at least eight clubs.

Where will they get the players? Will they work with the other majors? Or outside the present structure?

These questions will be batted around when the founders meet Aug. 18 with Commissioner Ford Frick's seven-man committee from the existing majors.

NEWS CONFERENCE

New York, is one of the five founders. The names and backers of the others were announced yesterday at a news conference by Bill Shea, chairman of Mayor Wagner's baseball committee.

Toronto, Houston, Denver and Minneapolis-St. Paul round out the group of founders. Shea listed 11 cities that have evinced interest in joining. They are Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas-Fort Worth, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Diego and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Shea said he hoped to have two or three more cities lined up with the founders before his group meets with Frick's committee. He declined to reveal details of his plans for securing players from existing major league teams and their minor league farms.

EXPECTS COOPERATION

The new league said it expected full cooperation from the American and National leagues, who voted in May to favorably consider applications for major league status by "an acceptable group of eight clubs which could qualify."

Shea said the league would have a minimum of eight clubs, perhaps 10 and more than 12 when fully organized. It will play a 154-game schedule.

Shea also disclosed the league had arranged to comply with a request from Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) to appear July 31 in Washington before an antitrust subcommittee.

Each owner has put up $50,000 and is prepared to dig down for $2,500,000, exclusive of park facilities, to finance the promotion.

BAD BREAK FOR MOOSE

'NO OPPONENT EASY'

Bowdry Isn't Taking Rodriguez Lightly

SAN FRANCISCO — Jesse Bowdry doesn't expect any soft touch when he meets Sixto Rodriguez in their 10-round boxing match at the Civic Auditorium Thursday night.

Asked why he accepted a match with an unranked opponent, the fourth-rated Bowdry replied, "No opponent is easy. He is your champ out here, isn't he?"

Bowdry reached San Francisco Sunday from his home in St. Louis. He went two rounds with stablemate Willie Anderson yesterday afternoon and will end his local sparring drills with two more rounds at Billy Newman Gym this afternoon.

"I sparred about 30 rounds in St. Louis and will just go four here—just to keep sharp, you know," said the man who has knocked out 22 foes in 27 victories. He's been defeated just three times, all by Sonny Ray.

Bowdry's last fight was a 10-round devision over Tony Anthony on May 29. A month earlier, he stopped Lou Bailey in Chicago and, in January he kayoed Clarence Hinnant in 10 rounds at Miami Beach, Fla.

PGA Tourney Site Praised

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The finest field and the finest course in years mark the 1959 Professional Golfers' Assn. championship which starts here Thursday.

Conversation among the early arrivals for the tournament has concerned the superb condition of the 6,850-yard, par 35-35—70 Minneapolis Golf Club courses in suburban St. Louis Park.

Dow Finsterwald, the defending champion, tabs this as one of the half-dozen best courses in the United States.

Stoneham Optimistic About New Circuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Horace Stoneman, San Francisco Giant president, is optimistic about the newly formed Continental baseball league.

"It looks as though they have the makings of a fine league," he said yesterday. "With five clubs already in, they should be able to get three more with no trouble at all."

Deer Hunt Dates Confirmed; Dove, Pigeon Seasons Set

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Deer, doves and dams were the three big items ruled on by the California Fish and Game Commission as the five-man board met at the education center yesterday.

Deer hunt dates and quotas were confirmed and 13 of the proposed 15 special deer hunts were approved.

The commission voted to set the same season dates and bag limits for both doves and band-tailed pigeons that were in effect last year.

An unexpected item was approved—the execution of an agreement to construct a dam on the Klamath River in Siskiyou County.

The proposed special deer hunts the group rejected were in Modoc County and the Buttermilk area in Inyo County.

Dove and pigeon seasons duplicated last year, which were Sept. 1-30 for dove and Oct. 1-31 for pigeons in the northern tier counties. Dates for the remainder of the state are Dec. 11-Jan. 10.

Counties included Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Siskiyou, Modoc, Lassen, Shasta, Trinity and Tehama.

Dove bag limits were set at 10 mourning doves or turtle doves except in Imperial and Riverside Counties which apply to white wing doves. No more than 10 doves of all species would be lawful.

Bandtail pigeon daily bag limits were set at six.

Minors Injured?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joe Cronin, American League president, says announcement of a third major baseball league hurts minor clubs currently trying to make ends meet.

He has a 14-5 record and a fine E.R.A. of 2.61. Sam Jones also has won 14, but lost 10. His E.R.A. is an even three runs per nine innings.

Stu Miller, the 1958 National League earned-run leader, is nearly as effective this year—and just about as unlucky when it comes to winning ball games. He has allowed an average of 2.95 per game—but has a record of 4-5.

Antonelli and Jones, of course, are the big stoppers.

"I have to use them every chance we get," sighs Rigney. "It's dog-eat-dog from here out.

"If we can just get a bit of hitting to back up our fine pitching, we can stay right up where we are."

Braves Close In Fast On Loop Leaders

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Milwaukee Braves, who only a few days ago looked as if they had had it, now have it again—and the "it" is pitching.

With Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Juan Pizarro, Bob Buhl and Joey Jack back in form, the Braves have reclaimed second place, closing within 1½ games of idle San Francisco in the National League race as Pal Joey put away a five-game sweep over Pittsburgh yesterday, 5-2.

FIVE-MAN STAFF

That five-man staff gave up only three runs in the five games, blanking the Bucs through the first 30⅔ innings and not allowing an earned run for 38 frames until Pittsburgh finally got one home in the third inning Monday.

Cincinnati rapped St. Louis 8-3 in the only other NL game.

In the American League, Cleveland dropped into a first-place tie with idle Chicago, losing 4-0 to Boston and the three-hit pitching of rookie Jersey Casale. Kansas City matched the longest winning string in the majors this season, making it eight straight with a 7-6 victory over Washington. Baltimore defeated Detroit 5-2, with Gene Woodling driving in all the Oriole runs, in the only other game.

AVILA TRIPLES

Despite a five-hitter by Jay (4-7), who hadn't won in a month, the Braves didn't bag it until the seventh. Blanked on three hits until then by Ron Kline (7-10), they broke loose for all five runs, scoring on Del Crandall's tying, two-run single and Bobby Avila's clinching, two-run triple.

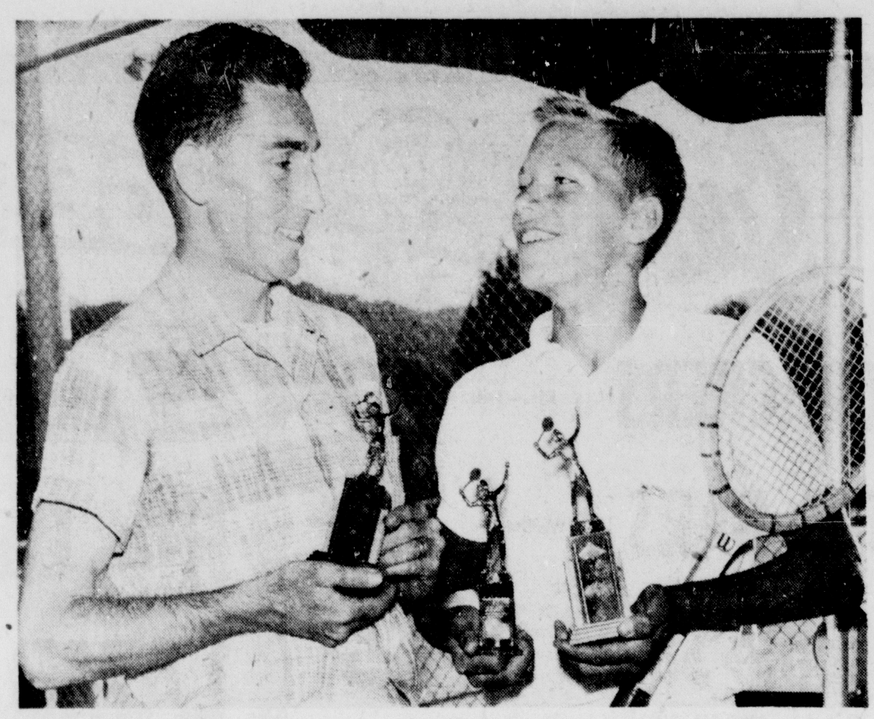

With Jay gaining only his third complete game in more than a year, the Braves now have won six of seven since dropping seven straight and skidding to fourth place. They trailed by 4½ just five days ago.

Now they're even with the Giants in the lost column and have a two-percentage point edge over the Dodgers.

The Reds scored twice in the first inning, then nailed Vinegar Bend Mizell (11-6) with Johnny Temple's fifth homer, a three-run shot in the fourth. Bob Purkey (9-10) went all the way, giving up five of the Cards' nine hits when they scored all three runs in the fifth.

Vacations Hit Tennis Play At Sausalito

Vacation schedules forced postponemen of many matches Saturday and the Sausalito Beginners Tennis Tournament was off to a slow start.

Tournament director John Minton announced that three postponed matches would be played tomorrow morning, with a heavy schedule of play set also for next Saturday morning. The matches tomorrow will be played at the Christ Church court, with Saturday's slated for the Richardson Bay School layout.

Twelve-year-old Donald Jen was first to reach the semi-finals in the boys division. He advanced via a bye and a 6-3 victory over Kevin Longini.

In girls play, Betsy Nowlan downed Lori Dewees, 6-0; Gale Segrue edged Tracy Bell, 6-4; and Michael Ann Dyk beat Jillian Rogers, 6-4.

Tomorrow's schedule: 10 a.m.—Chris Pera vs. Kathy Fickert; Theresa Puharich vs. Marsha Fickert; 11 a.m.—Ramy Stone vs. Martha Wax.

Saturday's schedule: 9:45 a.m.—Holly Hall vs. Hillary King; Michael Goerndt vs. Ford Cook; Charles Davis vs. David MacLaird; Chris Tellis vs. Hans Von Atzigen; Chris Gerdts vs. David Wilkinson; 11 a.m.—winner Davis- MacLaird vs. winner Tellis-Von Atzigen; winner Gerdts-Wilkinson vs. Fred Fickert; winner Hall-King vs. Betsy Nowlan; Gale Segrue vs. Michael Ann Dyk; winner Stone-Wax vs. winner Puharich-Fickert.

North Marin Club Wins Pony Crown

A North Marin Pony League team, loaded with fireballing pitchers, took three games in a row Saturday and Sunday in the area Pony League playoffs in Mill Valley and is now headed for Redding where this weekend they will compete in the district championships for a shot at the regional title.

The area playoffs, composed of teams from Marin and Sonoma counties, opened Saturday afternoon when the South Marin team squeaked by Sebastopol 8-7 with Bill Duweese of Sausalito credited with the win. Sebastopol had dropped the strong North Marin team 8-4 the previous weekend in the apple city.

In the later afternoon hassle, the powerful North Marin team, coached by Gene Chaon of Cotati, reversed the tables on Sebastopol, clobbering them 17-4 with Pete Belew of Rafael Village the winning hurler.

As Sunday rolled around for final eliminations, the two Marin teams tangled in a real brawl with North Marin emerging the victor by a 10-3 count. But for the first five and a half innings it was 2-0 score favoring the North Marin team as Steve Barrett of Novato fanned 12, giving up five walks and five hits only to weaken and allow the two runs to come in and tie the score. He was relieved by Jerry Daniele of Rafael Meadows who received credit for the win.

At the same time Freddie Mack of Mill Valley, pitching his heart out for the South Marin team, fanned 14, walked only one and gave up four hits in six innings.

In the rubber game Sunday, North Marin took the slugfest 14-9 with Doug Matlock of Rafael Meadows getting credit for the win, being relieved in the sixth by Larry Hale who promply fanned six batters in a row.

The winner of the Redding playoff this weekend will travel to Provo, Utah, for the finals.

Pebble Beach Boat Takes Opening Race

It was a close finish yesterday in the opening race of the Mercury International Championship Series, sailed on Richardson Bay out of the Sausalito Yacht Club.

He was aided by crewman Mike Figour of Tiburon.

But the next two boats crossed the finish line within ten seconds of the Fran. Pete Sutter of the St. Francis Yacht Club, San Francisco, crossed the line second in his Ar-Go-Lo, and Kutaka Kuwatni and his Opus II from the Sausalito Yacht Club finished third.

However, Sutter was disqualified for a foul and the Opus II was moved up into second place. Don Stewart of the Los Angeles Yacht Club was advanced to third.

The series continues today.

New League Sets Founder Meet Aug. 18

Circuit Expecting To Operate In '61 With Eight Teams

NEW YORK (AP) — The five founding cities of the third major baseball league—the Continental League—plan to operate in 1961 with at least eight clubs.

Where will they get the players? Will they work with the other majors? Or outside the present structure?

These questions will be batted around when the founders meet Aug. 18 with Commissioner Ford Frick's seven-man committee from the existing majors.

NEWS CONFERENCE

New York, is one of the five founders. The names and backers of the others were announced yesterday at a news conference by Bill Shea, chairman of Mayor Wagner's baseball committee.

Toronto, Houston, Denver and Minneapolis-St. Paul round out the group of founders. Shea listed 11 cities that have evinced interest in joining. They are Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas-Fort Worth, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Diego and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Shea said he hoped to have two or three more cities lined up with the founders before his group meets with Frick's committee. He declined to reveal details of his plans for securing players from existing major league teams and their minor league farms.

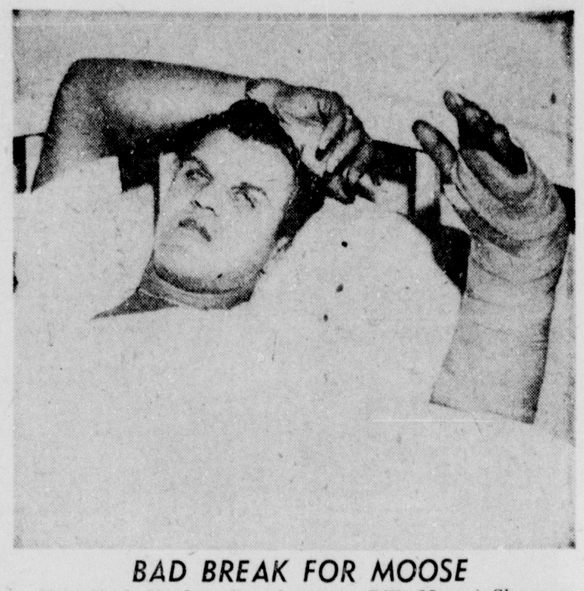

EXPECTS COOPERATION

The new league said it expected full cooperation from the American and National leagues, who voted in May to favorably consider applications for major league status by "an acceptable group of eight clubs which could qualify."

Shea said the league would have a minimum of eight clubs, perhaps 10 and more than 12 when fully organized. It will play a 154-game schedule.

Shea also disclosed the league had arranged to comply with a request from Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) to appear July 31 in Washington before an antitrust subcommittee.

Each owner has put up $50,000 and is prepared to dig down for $2,500,000, exclusive of park facilities, to finance the promotion.

BAD BREAK FOR MOOSE

'NO OPPONENT EASY'

Bowdry Isn't Taking Rodriguez Lightly

SAN FRANCISCO — Jesse Bowdry doesn't expect any soft touch when he meets Sixto Rodriguez in their 10-round boxing match at the Civic Auditorium Thursday night.

Asked why he accepted a match with an unranked opponent, the fourth-rated Bowdry replied, "No opponent is easy. He is your champ out here, isn't he?"

Bowdry reached San Francisco Sunday from his home in St. Louis. He went two rounds with stablemate Willie Anderson yesterday afternoon and will end his local sparring drills with two more rounds at Billy Newman Gym this afternoon.

"I sparred about 30 rounds in St. Louis and will just go four here—just to keep sharp, you know," said the man who has knocked out 22 foes in 27 victories. He's been defeated just three times, all by Sonny Ray.

Bowdry's last fight was a 10-round devision over Tony Anthony on May 29. A month earlier, he stopped Lou Bailey in Chicago and, in January he kayoed Clarence Hinnant in 10 rounds at Miami Beach, Fla.

PGA Tourney Site Praised

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The finest field and the finest course in years mark the 1959 Professional Golfers' Assn. championship which starts here Thursday.

Conversation among the early arrivals for the tournament has concerned the superb condition of the 6,850-yard, par 35-35—70 Minneapolis Golf Club courses in suburban St. Louis Park.

Dow Finsterwald, the defending champion, tabs this as one of the half-dozen best courses in the United States.

Stoneham Optimistic About New Circuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Horace Stoneman, San Francisco Giant president, is optimistic about the newly formed Continental baseball league.

"It looks as though they have the makings of a fine league," he said yesterday. "With five clubs already in, they should be able to get three more with no trouble at all."

Deer Hunt Dates Confirmed; Dove, Pigeon Seasons Set

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Deer, doves and dams were the three big items ruled on by the California Fish and Game Commission as the five-man board met at the education center yesterday.

Deer hunt dates and quotas were confirmed and 13 of the proposed 15 special deer hunts were approved.

The commission voted to set the same season dates and bag limits for both doves and band-tailed pigeons that were in effect last year.

An unexpected item was approved—the execution of an agreement to construct a dam on the Klamath River in Siskiyou County.

The proposed special deer hunts the group rejected were in Modoc County and the Buttermilk area in Inyo County.

Dove and pigeon seasons duplicated last year, which were Sept. 1-30 for dove and Oct. 1-31 for pigeons in the northern tier counties. Dates for the remainder of the state are Dec. 11-Jan. 10.

Counties included Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Siskiyou, Modoc, Lassen, Shasta, Trinity and Tehama.

Dove bag limits were set at 10 mourning doves or turtle doves except in Imperial and Riverside Counties which apply to white wing doves. No more than 10 doves of all species would be lawful.

Bandtail pigeon daily bag limits were set at six.

Minors Injured?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joe Cronin, American League president, says announcement of a third major baseball league hurts minor clubs currently trying to make ends meet.

Cepeda Giants' Top Attraction, Worth More Than They Pay Him

CONNOLLY

A lot of the boys are still going around pinching their sniffers, or holding their noses, when the subject of salary differential between Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda of the S.F. Giants is mentioned.

The boys infer, between pinches, that something has to be sour in Denmark if they pay Mays $80,000 and Cepeda $17,500.

And Skipper Rigney didn't help matters the other day when he remarked, in effect, that if the Giants were to win the pennant, they had to keep playing Cepeda, even if he was tired.

Rigney wasn't so sure the Giants wouldn't bench Mays, mind you, but he was certain they wouldn't yank Cepeda, slump or otherwise.

That crack of Rigney doesn't require research for flaws, because in itself it is as nifty a flaw as would be a crack in Boulder Dam.

It's a terrible thing when you consider things in nickels or dimes. But did you ever hear of a doctor, lawyer, architect, or even a real estate guy who was making all the gilt in the world working for $17,500 when the guy next to him was unable to do the things he was doing, yet earning 80,000 clams per season?

NATURALLY Mays got his high salary in easy stages. He has been in the employ of the Giants for 10 years and in that time has been the biggest drawing card they ever had.

I should say Mays WAS the biggest drawing card they ever had until Orlando Cepeda came along.

Today more people go to the S. F. park to see Cepeda than Mays. Maybe it is because we are bush league fellows who can't quite subscribe to all the buildup eastern writers have given us about Willie Mays.

I truthfully believe that Mays, in the outfield, is worth three times the salary of any outfielder on the Giant pay roll.

AND I SAY the same thing about Cepeda in the infield. I believe if Daryl Spencer, second baseman, is worth $17,500, then Cepeda is worth three times that amount. And Cepeda has proven it from the kickoff.

The whole bleat and cry of salaries narrows down to one simple item in professional baseball. You get what you are worth. And today Cepeda is the most underpaid big leaguer in the National League.

I am not in a position to say whether Horace Stoneham intends to raise Cepeda's salary before the season ends. But I'm sure as heck certain that next year, when Stoneham is passing out salaries, he'll double the ante he is not paying Cepeda, and then some, or he won't have the Puerto Rican slugger on his ball club.

Averages do not always mean everything, but in one sport averages are unmistakably the thermometer of the pay check.

PROFESSIONAL baseball owners forget in the winter that so and so sacrificed for the team's sake. They merely point to one item . . the average.

"Figures don't lie," the late Charley Graham used to say, "and last season you hit under .300. Why should we give you a raise in pay?"

What the former Seal boss said years ago is true today. The big league owner pays off, not on team spirit, team hustle, team manners, but on TEAM AVERAGE.

And if you want to get a pay raise in 1960., you'd better hit better than you did in 1959.

And strangely enough, Cepeda is doing that very thing.

Marinites In Nat'l Roller Skating Meet

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Simonson of Mill Valley have received word that their son, David Simonson, will skate tomorrow in the national amateur Roller Skating Championships held in Boston from July 28 - Aug. 1.

David, a Tamalpais High School junior, was an Independent-Journal carrier for six years. He is skating with the "Novice Fours," a Bay Area team which placed second in the recent state amateur roller skating championships in Fresno.

Also skating in the Boston championships is Albert Louie of San Rafael, winner of first place in the novice men's singles in the state contest. He also placed second with Sonia Waselewski of Larkspur in the novice fours. Their team placed second in intermediate fours in the state event.

Boxing Promoter Goes Into Hiding

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boxing promoter Jackie Leonard says he is going into hiding. He said he has learned the underworld has a "price on my head."

Leonard said he would put his home in Suburban Northridge up for sale today. A mysterious fire caused $1,000 damage to a bedroom of my home Sunday night. "I will tell no one where I locate," he said. "Perhaps my family will have a little peace."

Jr. Weightlifting Meet Scheduled In San Rafael

Mar-Vel Athletic Club of San Rafael will host the Amateur Athletic Union's northern California junior weightlifting championships on Saturday, Aug. 8, it was announced today.

The competition will take place at Carpenter's Hall in San Rafael beginning at 6 p.m. Approximately 15 Marin County lifters will be in contention along with the area's strongest men.

In conjunction with the weightlifting program, a beauty contest for "Miss Golden Gate" and "Mr. Northern California Junior" physique contest will be held under the sponsorship of Reg Lewis' Gym of Corte Madera.

NEW LEAGUE EYES RICKEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Branch Rickey, 78-year-old elder-statesman of baseball, will be offered the job as first president of the newly-formed Continental Major Baseball League, it was learned today by the United Press International.

"Branch Rickey is the most logical choice for the position," a source close to the situation told UPI. "I don't know whether he will accept the job but I am sure he will be offered it."

HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

Promoter Confident Of September Bout

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Promoter Bill Rosensohn is sure Ingemar Johansson will defend his heavyweight title against Floyd Patterson as per agreement in the United States in September.

Edwin Ahlquist, the champion's advisor, says there will be no negotiations until all questions about Ingemar's purse for the first fight, June 26, are fully settled.

Johansson said he surely is going to the United States. He added henceforth he would only sign contracts "where I can see the signature of my challenger on the opposite side."

hlquist and Rosensohn held conferences all day yesterday. Then Ahlquist called a press conference to explain that the promoter was going back to New York today to get a complete financial statement on the first fight.

Rosensohn had nothing to say at the conference. Last night in a telephone interview he said emphatically he had an ironclad contract for the return fight. He said he was confident things would be straightened out.

"It is only natural that he wants to see that he gets what he has coming to him," said Rosensohn. Much of the champ's purse was tied up in escrow to assure he would go through with the rematch and in legal proceedings by heavyweight Eddie Machen who claimed damages for a runout on an alleged rematch.

When a reporter asked Rosensohn to confirm or deny rumors that he might become Ingemar's manager, the promoter laughed it off. "I am a promoter, not a manager," he said.

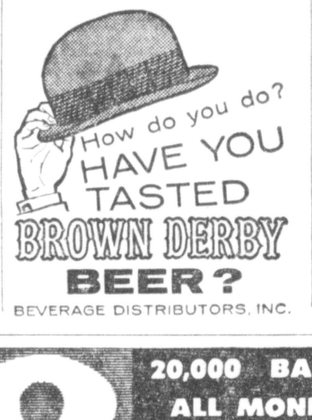

Soriano Skeptical About New League

SEATTLE (AP)—The executive vice president of the Pacific Coast League said today he doesn't think a proposed third major league for baseball will ever get started.

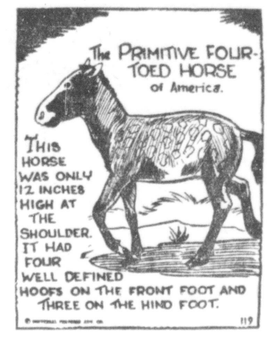

"They're building the new league on quicksand," said Dewey Soriano. "The cost is prohibitive."

A lot of the boys are still going around pinching their sniffers, or holding their noses, when the subject of salary differential between Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda of the S.F. Giants is mentioned.

The boys infer, between pinches, that something has to be sour in Denmark if they pay Mays $80,000 and Cepeda $17,500.

And Skipper Rigney didn't help matters the other day when he remarked, in effect, that if the Giants were to win the pennant, they had to keep playing Cepeda, even if he was tired.

Rigney wasn't so sure the Giants wouldn't bench Mays, mind you, but he was certain they wouldn't yank Cepeda, slump or otherwise.

That crack of Rigney doesn't require research for flaws, because in itself it is as nifty a flaw as would be a crack in Boulder Dam.

It's a terrible thing when you consider things in nickels or dimes. But did you ever hear of a doctor, lawyer, architect, or even a real estate guy who was making all the gilt in the world working for $17,500 when the guy next to him was unable to do the things he was doing, yet earning 80,000 clams per season?

NATURALLY Mays got his high salary in easy stages. He has been in the employ of the Giants for 10 years and in that time has been the biggest drawing card they ever had.

I should say Mays WAS the biggest drawing card they ever had until Orlando Cepeda came along.

Today more people go to the S. F. park to see Cepeda than Mays. Maybe it is because we are bush league fellows who can't quite subscribe to all the buildup eastern writers have given us about Willie Mays.

I truthfully believe that Mays, in the outfield, is worth three times the salary of any outfielder on the Giant pay roll.

AND I SAY the same thing about Cepeda in the infield. I believe if Daryl Spencer, second baseman, is worth $17,500, then Cepeda is worth three times that amount. And Cepeda has proven it from the kickoff.

The whole bleat and cry of salaries narrows down to one simple item in professional baseball. You get what you are worth. And today Cepeda is the most underpaid big leaguer in the National League.

I am not in a position to say whether Horace Stoneham intends to raise Cepeda's salary before the season ends. But I'm sure as heck certain that next year, when Stoneham is passing out salaries, he'll double the ante he is not paying Cepeda, and then some, or he won't have the Puerto Rican slugger on his ball club.

Averages do not always mean everything, but in one sport averages are unmistakably the thermometer of the pay check.

PROFESSIONAL baseball owners forget in the winter that so and so sacrificed for the team's sake. They merely point to one item . . the average.

"Figures don't lie," the late Charley Graham used to say, "and last season you hit under .300. Why should we give you a raise in pay?"

What the former Seal boss said years ago is true today. The big league owner pays off, not on team spirit, team hustle, team manners, but on TEAM AVERAGE.

And if you want to get a pay raise in 1960., you'd better hit better than you did in 1959.

And strangely enough, Cepeda is doing that very thing.

Marinites In Nat'l Roller Skating Meet

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Simonson of Mill Valley have received word that their son, David Simonson, will skate tomorrow in the national amateur Roller Skating Championships held in Boston from July 28 - Aug. 1.

David, a Tamalpais High School junior, was an Independent-Journal carrier for six years. He is skating with the "Novice Fours," a Bay Area team which placed second in the recent state amateur roller skating championships in Fresno.

Also skating in the Boston championships is Albert Louie of San Rafael, winner of first place in the novice men's singles in the state contest. He also placed second with Sonia Waselewski of Larkspur in the novice fours. Their team placed second in intermediate fours in the state event.

Boxing Promoter Goes Into Hiding

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boxing promoter Jackie Leonard says he is going into hiding. He said he has learned the underworld has a "price on my head."

Leonard said he would put his home in Suburban Northridge up for sale today. A mysterious fire caused $1,000 damage to a bedroom of my home Sunday night. "I will tell no one where I locate," he said. "Perhaps my family will have a little peace."

Jr. Weightlifting Meet Scheduled In San Rafael

Mar-Vel Athletic Club of San Rafael will host the Amateur Athletic Union's northern California junior weightlifting championships on Saturday, Aug. 8, it was announced today.

The competition will take place at Carpenter's Hall in San Rafael beginning at 6 p.m. Approximately 15 Marin County lifters will be in contention along with the area's strongest men.

In conjunction with the weightlifting program, a beauty contest for "Miss Golden Gate" and "Mr. Northern California Junior" physique contest will be held under the sponsorship of Reg Lewis' Gym of Corte Madera.

NEW LEAGUE EYES RICKEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Branch Rickey, 78-year-old elder-statesman of baseball, will be offered the job as first president of the newly-formed Continental Major Baseball League, it was learned today by the United Press International.

"Branch Rickey is the most logical choice for the position," a source close to the situation told UPI. "I don't know whether he will accept the job but I am sure he will be offered it."

HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

Promoter Confident Of September Bout

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Promoter Bill Rosensohn is sure Ingemar Johansson will defend his heavyweight title against Floyd Patterson as per agreement in the United States in September.

Edwin Ahlquist, the champion's advisor, says there will be no negotiations until all questions about Ingemar's purse for the first fight, June 26, are fully settled.

Johansson said he surely is going to the United States. He added henceforth he would only sign contracts "where I can see the signature of my challenger on the opposite side."

hlquist and Rosensohn held conferences all day yesterday. Then Ahlquist called a press conference to explain that the promoter was going back to New York today to get a complete financial statement on the first fight.

Rosensohn had nothing to say at the conference. Last night in a telephone interview he said emphatically he had an ironclad contract for the return fight. He said he was confident things would be straightened out.

"It is only natural that he wants to see that he gets what he has coming to him," said Rosensohn. Much of the champ's purse was tied up in escrow to assure he would go through with the rematch and in legal proceedings by heavyweight Eddie Machen who claimed damages for a runout on an alleged rematch.

When a reporter asked Rosensohn to confirm or deny rumors that he might become Ingemar's manager, the promoter laughed it off. "I am a promoter, not a manager," he said.

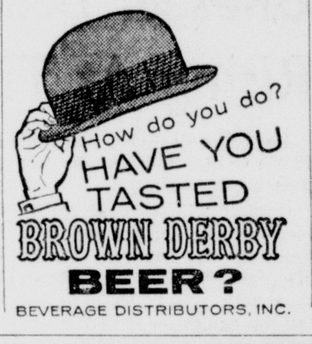

Soriano Skeptical About New League

SEATTLE (AP)—The executive vice president of the Pacific Coast League said today he doesn't think a proposed third major league for baseball will ever get started.

"They're building the new league on quicksand," said Dewey Soriano. "The cost is prohibitive."

Integration Plan Offered By Gov. Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus offered a solution today for the "peaceful integration" of the troubled Little Rock public schools.

He suggested the voluntary integration of Horace Mann (Negro) High School, and Hall High School in the elite residential section of the city.

OFFERS PLAN

Faubus said he had offered his plan to the Little Rock School Board for its consideration.

The governor said recently that he would have a "legal" solution to the integration problem, and the school board challenged him to reveal it.

In a prepared statement the governor read at a news conference, Faubus said parents of both white and Negro students would indicate if they had no objection to their childrens' attending integrated schools.

ASSIGN PUPILS

Then the school board would assign half the white students to Horace Mann and half the Negro students to Hall.

"There would then exist two integrated schools, leaving Central High School available for those students whose parents are unwilling to accept integration," Faubus' statement said.

He said the plan would be legal under the Arkansas Constitution.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil shares surged ahead sharply as stock market prices generally lost some of their earlier gains this afternoon. Trading slackened.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,200,000 shares against 2,910,000 yesterday.

Most leading stocks picked up fractions to around a point. But many issues relinquished part of their morning advances.

Oil stocks, though, continued to rush ahead in response to healthy first half earnings reports by many of the companies.

Steels, metals, chemicals, rails and tobaccos were generally higher. Most motors turned lower while electronics were mixed.

Gulf Oil led the sweeping advance in oils by running up three. Standard Oil (New Jersey), Richfield Oil, Ohio Oil and Standard Oil (California) all rose a point or better. Royal Dutch and Socony Mobil added around a point.

Motors, after edging ahead fractionally earlier, generally were toppled by profit taking. American Motors fell nearly a point. Ford and Chrysler took smaller losses.

Dupont stepped ahead more than five. Thiokol added more than one. General Tire sprinted ahead about a point and a half.

Texas Instruments slipped more than three. Litton more than two and General Telephone around one.

Gas Tax Hike Rejected By House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee today voted down proposal to increase gasoline taxes to keep construction of the federal interstate highway system on schedule.

The committee action was not final, however, and could be reversed at any time.

The committee continued to meet behind closed doors in an effort to agree on some highway financing plan as an alternative to President Eisenhower's demand for a one and one-half cent raise in the federal gasoline tax.

A deficit in the highway construction trust fund, estimated to reach a half billion dollars next spring, threatens an immediate nine-month work stoppage on the 41,000-mile network and a slowup in the program thereafter.

Proposals for various increases in the three-cent federal gas tax received no more than half a dozen votes from the 25-member committee.

By the margin of a single vote, the committee also defeated 12-11 a proposal by Rep. Burr Harrison (D.-Va.) to suspend construction of the interstate system for one year until revenues would make up the deficit.

The highway law states that funds may not be apportioned to the states for highway building if revenues are not sufficient to cover outlays.

Congress last year suspended the pay-as-you-go requirement for one year to permit a speedup in the program as an anti-recession move.

Liquor Tax Yields State $3.3 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Drinking Californians enriched the state treasury by almost three and one-third million dollars this May, the state Board of Equalization reported today.

The $3,302,630 in alcoholic beverage excise taxes collected during the month was a 7 per cent increase over May, 1958, with hard liquor as usual leading the way, but beer showing a great increase. Wine drinking was down.

Liquor consumption was up 2.8 per cent over May 1958, reaching a total 1,902,484 gallons for $2,854,000 in taxes.

Beer distribution showed a whooping 59 per cent increase, in part because of warm weather in May, the board said, but mainly because a Teamsters Union work stoppage in May, 1958, slowed distribution. Almost 20 millions gallons were delivered this May, accounting for $399,000 in taxes.

Wine taxes were $50,000 for 2,244,000 gallons, a 10,000-gallon drop off last year.

Unusual Boat Center Rising At Tiburon

Hawthorne's fabled House of Seven Gables will have to take a back seat in Tiburon.

Outdoing it—with eight gables—will be the unusual new building of Raccoon Straits Maritime Center, Inc. Workmen with cranes were perching the gables on the structure today.

The craggy roof, which is made of plywood, was decided on by San Rafael architect Felix Warburg after soil tests showed a lightweight structure was the only thing possible at the unsteady Tiburon boulevard site. The building rests on 60 feet of bay mud topped by seven feet of fill.

Warburg also liked the inverted plywood V's because they permitted spanning a large area without inside supports.

Sailboats up to around 24 feet can be trailered into the two-story Maritime Center for repairs without lowering their masts.

The design also permits display of new boats with masts up and sails unfurled.

The building—48 by 56 feet—will house a show room, sales office and servicing department for small craft. It is expected to be in business by Sept. 1.

A second building going up alongside is 28 by 112 feet—and will have still more gables. Completion of this one is expected to be a little later. It will contain an insurance firm specializing in marine insurance and a radio and television shop with radio equipment for boaters as well as such nonnautical businesses as a beauty shop, dry cleaner, contractor and dentist.

Besides the plywood gabled roofs, both buildings will be lightened by use of concrete slabs designed like waffles.

The plywood panels themselves are made up of two-by-fours laid flat with three-eighth inch plywood nailed and glued to each side. The panels were made by Berkeley Plywood Co. of Oakland.

Architect Warburg looks on the plywood gables as the "lightest way of spanning a large distance." The only other way to get the same effect would be to use steel beams. These would be too heavy for the Tiburon site.

President of the Maritime Center is Kirby Atterbury, who lives in Belvedere. His firm is also contractor on the job.

The first basic patents to make "artificial leather" date back to 1855, according to a study by the Twentieth Century Fund.

Integration Plan Offered By Gov. Faubus

He suggested the voluntary integration of Horace Mann (Negro) High School, and Hall High School in the elite residential section of the city.

OFFERS PLAN

Faubus said he had offered his plan to the Little Rock School Board for its consideration.

The governor said recently that he would have a "legal" solution to the integration problem, and the school board challenged him to reveal it.

In a prepared statement the governor read at a news conference, Faubus said parents of both white and Negro students would indicate if they had no objection to their childrens' attending integrated schools.

ASSIGN PUPILS

Then the school board would assign half the white students to Horace Mann and half the Negro students to Hall.

"There would then exist two integrated schools, leaving Central High School available for those students whose parents are unwilling to accept integration," Faubus' statement said.

He said the plan would be legal under the Arkansas Constitution.

The average British male used 10.1 pounds of tobacco in 1958, compared with 9.8 pounds in 1956. For women, the average rose from 3.1 pounds to 3.3.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil shares surged ahead sharply as stock market prices generally lost some of their earlier gains this afternoon. Trading slackened.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,200,000 shares against 2,910,000 yesterday.

Most leading stocks picked up fractions to around a point. But many issues relinquished part of their morning advances.

Oil stocks, though, continued to rush ahead in response to healthy first half earnings reports by many of the companies.

Steels, metals, chemicals, rails and tobaccos were generally higher. Most motors turned lower while electronics were mixed.

Gulf Oil led the sweeping advance in oils by running up three. Standard Oil (New Jersey), Richfield Oil, Ohio Oil and Standard Oil (California) all rose a point or better. Royal Dutch and Socony Mobil added around a point.

Motors, after edging ahead fractionally earlier, generally were toppled by profit taking. American Motors fell nearly a point. Ford and Chrysler took smaller losses.

Dupont stepped ahead more than five. Thiokol added more than one. General Tire sprinted ahead about a point and a half.

Texas Instruments slipped more than three. Litton more than two and General Telephone around one.

Gas Tax Hike Rejected By House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee today voted down proposal to increase gasoline taxes to keep construction of the federal interstate highway system on schedule.

The committee action was not final, however, and could be reversed at any time.

The committee continued to meet behind closed doors in an effort to agree on some highway financing plan as an alternative to President Eisenhower's demand for a one and one-half cent raise in the federal gasoline tax.

A deficit in the highway construction trust fund, estimated to reach a half billion dollars next spring, threatens an immediate nine-month work stoppage on the 41,000-mile network and a slowup in the program thereafter.

Proposals for various increases in the three-cent federal gas tax received no more than half a dozen votes from the 25-member committee.

By the margin of a single vote, the committee also defeated 12-11 a proposal by Rep. Burr Harrison (D.-Va.) to suspend construction of the interstate system for one year until revenues would make up the deficit.

The highway law states that funds may not be apportioned to the states for highway building if revenues are not sufficient to cover outlays.

Congress last year suspended the pay-as-you-go requirement for one year to permit a speedup in the program as an anti-recession move.

Liquor Tax Yields State $3.3 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Drinking Californians enriched the state treasury by almost three and one-third million dollars this May, the state Board of Equalization reported today.

The $3,302,630 in alcoholic beverage excise taxes collected during the month was a 7 per cent increase over May, 1958, with hard liquor as usual leading the way, but beer showing a great increase. Wine drinking was down.

Liquor consumption was up 2.8 per cent over May 1958, reaching a total 1,902,484 gallons for $2,854,000 in taxes.

Beer distribution showed a whooping 59 per cent increase, in part because of warm weather in May, the board said, but mainly because a Teamsters Union work stoppage in May, 1958, slowed distribution. Almost 20 millions gallons were delivered this May, accounting for $399,000 in taxes.

Wine taxes were $50,000 for 2,244,000 gallons, a 10,000-gallon drop off last year.

HIGH BUTTON SHOES

Bazaar And Sale Planned In Bolinas

The 13th annual Bolinas Bazaar and Rummage Sale to be held Aug. 1, 2, 3, is slowly coming to a boil.

On July 20, the Community Center was closed to all activity other than the preparation for the bazaar. On that day an accumulation of the most amazing melange of goods to be found this side of the Paris Flea Market was transferred to the Center and a steady and growing stream of goods has been pouring in ever since.

Cartons of unassorted goods confront the workers, with endless problems of classification, cleaning, arranging and pricing.

A tin butter churn and a barometer vie for attention with an antique typewriter sporting 76 keys and looking like a cross between a miniature linotype machine and a spinning jenny.

A dusty student lamp, pair of crutches, a clock imbedded in a chef's hat and a floor lamp with a little pink pig growing out if its standard—all the ingenuity and the folly of generations of Americans on parade.

Beach sandals nudge high button shoes and peacock blue satin evening slippers in the shoe department. Among the books, such titles as "Random Recollections of an Ordinary English Snob and Gentleman," rest comfortably in the as yet unassorted company of school texts on beekkeeping from the 1870's and '80's, a historical novel for children by G. A. Henty—inscribed as a Christmas present in the year 1902, "Academy Notes" from the 56th Annual Exhibition of the National Academy of Design (1881) and "Everybody's Pocket Encyclopedia" with fascinating diagrams of the "sciences" of palmistry and phrenology, published in 1892. These, of course, are just the oddments, beckoning from a mountainous mass of less nostalgic but more usable things.

Participating in the work and in the profits, as in the past, are the following organizations: Calvary Presbyterian Church, St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church, St. Aidan's Episcopal Church, and the Bolinas Community Center.

The chairmen and co-chairmen, respectively, are Mesdames Sherman Smith and Harvey Crotts, Joseph Silviera Jr. and Anthony Teixeira, Miss Helen MacGavin and Mesdames Jack Lowe, Johns S. McGrath and William Miller.

Luncheon will be served on the first day of the sale and sandwiches and coffee will be available on the second day. The hours of the sale will be Saturday, Aug. 1, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, noon to 5 p.m.; and on Monday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

ONE FEATURE will be the Beach Comber's Booth where driftwood and sea shell dolls and angels will be sold. Working on the booth are, left to right, Mesdames John Baroni and Everett Stewart.

Ice Follies Costume Preview To Spotlight Focus Luncheon

Costume elegance, as typified by the fabulous collection of costumes for the gala Ice Follies of 1960, and casual elegance, the eptiome of fall fashion, will be interestingly contrasted Tuesday, Aug. 4, when Fashion Focus presents a fashion spectacular, "Break the Ice for Fall."

Celebrated stars of the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies, including Janet Champion, the remarkable 13 year old Ballet enfante; Gail Foster, Marin's own Ice Folliette, and Inky Dinky to delight young and old, will be a featured part of the popular fashion luncheon which will honor the Officers' Wives Club of Hamilton Air Force Base for its exceptional program of community service in Marin.

"OFF THE ICE"

Fall fashion "off the ice," the season's understated look of casual elegance in the newest suits, town and country classics and handsome accessories from a Kentfield specialty shop will be modeled by attractive members of the Officers' Wives Club. Fashions for off the ice will emphasize the importance of superb styling, impeccable tailoring, and beautiful fabrics.

Fall fashion "on the ice," the brilliant elegance of the Ice Follies costumes, acclaimed around the world for magnificent design and captivating color, will be modeled by the Ice Folliettes themselves, and previewed for the first time by a fashion show audience.

Each spectacular costume is so skillfully created by the internationally famous designer, Renie, that it looks as perfect when the Ice Follies of 1960 arrives in San Francisco next June as it does for the grand opening in Los Angeles this September.

AT DISNEYLAND

Renie, with more than 250 motion pictures and the period costumes at Disneyland to her credit, not only designs but personally supervises the intricate making of the costumes which take a year to complete with materials for them gathered from all over the world.

As is the Fashion Focus custom; fashions for on and off the ice will be modeled informally without a runway so that each guest may enjoy a close-up view of the rich textures and colors of fall fashion, and the complete artistry of each Ice Follies costume, so dazzling on the ice; its intricacies and beauty appreciated even more when seen at close range.

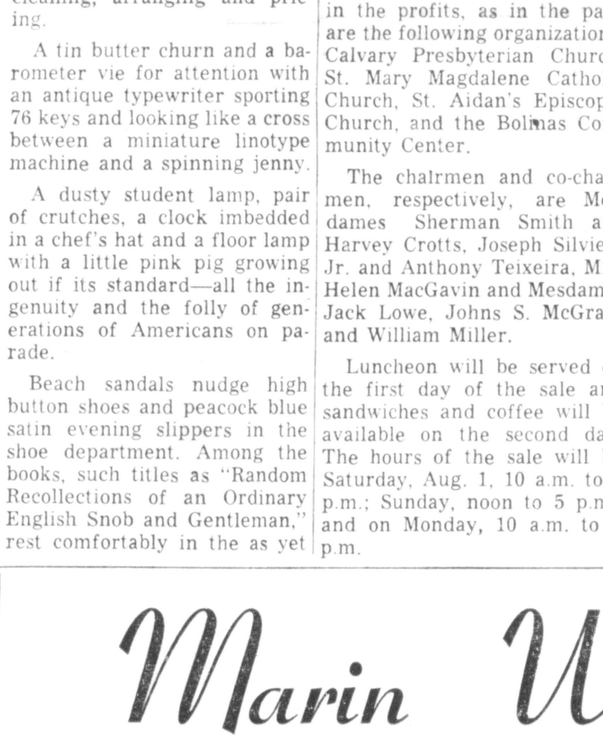

Early reservations are suggested for this special luncheon and may be made by calling Rickey's. The series is open to the public with luncheon at 12:30 o'clock and the fashions at 1 p.m.

Driver Education Good For Nation Says Specialist

CHICAGO (UPI) — A safety education specialist has advised high schools to use the accelerator instead of the brakes on driver training programs.

Dr. Forest R. Noffsinger of Northwestern University's Traffic Institute deplored "the sputnik-impelled demand for some quarters for almost exclusive emphasis on science and mathematics education."

"We don't dare squeeze out driver education from our school program," he said. "For what will it profit our nation to provide such scientific excellence only to have it snuffed out because of incompetence in the necessary task of driving to and from work

College Head Says Families Shorting Kids On Education

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—A woman president of a college charged families with spending for the luxuries of a new car or television set and shorting the kids on the luxury of a good education.

Millicent Carey McIntosh, the outspoken president of Barnard College for Women, spoke out for an "Educational Revolution" which would change U.S. spending habits on schooling.

She said that indirectly it is the teacher, settling for a low salary, who is paying for the luxuries of the families she serves.

"Nearly every independent day school and many independent colleges are afraid to raise tuition to meet what education should cost for fear of pricing themselves out of the market," she said. "But the parents (whose children are) in these same schools and colleges are willing to pay more than twice what they did in 1939 for automobiles, electrical appliances and other 'requirements' to maintain their high standard of living."

"They will borrow money to buy a house or a car, but are horrified if it is suggested that they take out a loan for a college education."

Mrs. McIntosh's stand is spelled out in a signed article in Barnard's current alumnae magazine.

She said what is needed is "an educational revolution... not in the curriculum of our schools, although clearly much needs to be changed (and is being changed) . . . but in our attitudes toward education which at best are . . . unrealistic."

The president said that at a time when our younger generation is increasing by leaps and bounds, the nation is and will continue to be faced "with a major shortage" at all teaching levels.

"Most Americans will agree that the situation is deplorable," she wrote, "but they go on hoping that somehow the teachers will appear . . . and that their children will be delivered what is assumed to be their natural birthright: a first-rate education at low cost."

One solution is the increased tuition, she said. But she suggested that "long range financing" is up to the parents.

The "ideal" she said would be to take out college insurance at the birth of a child, to start special savings accounts to cover education cost, or to make "long term loans" either for parents or students.

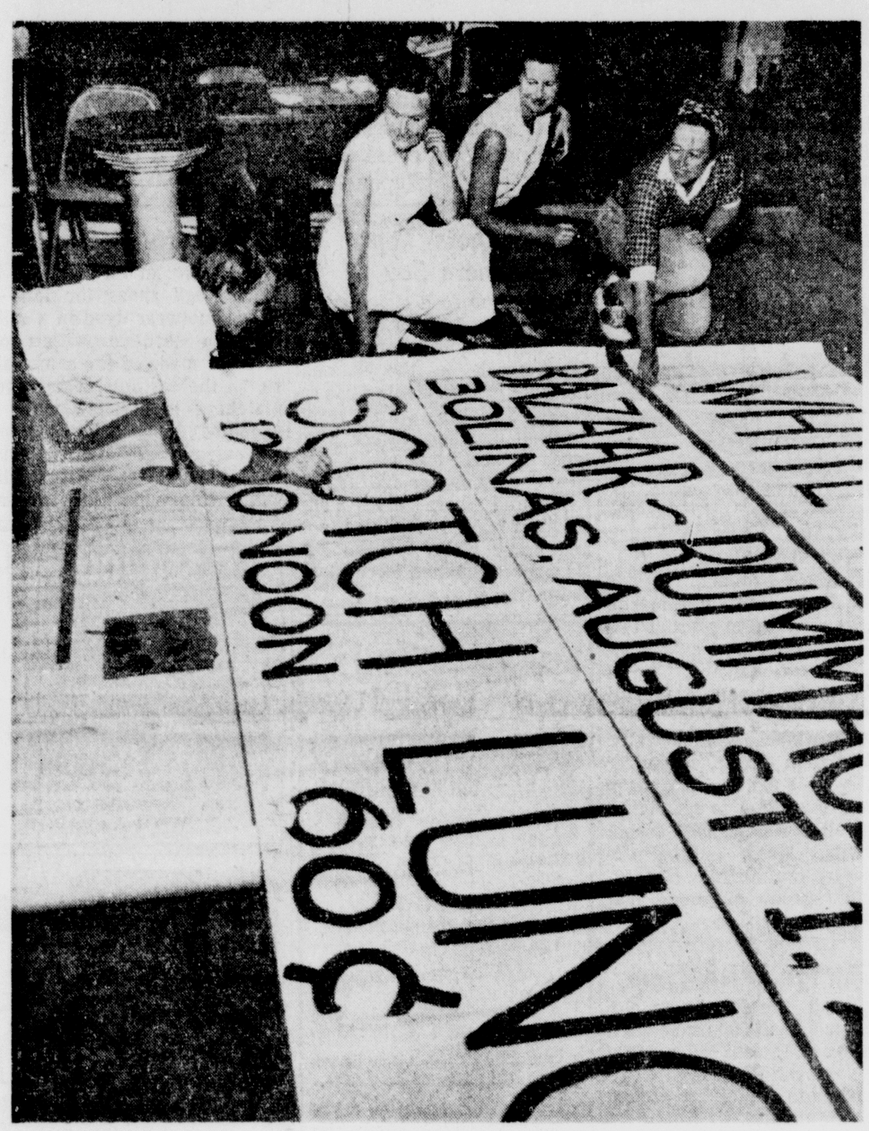

She cited the statistic to show the cost of education is small when considered in terms of return on investment. One recent study showed the "current college graduate may look forward to a life-time income of about $750,000 — a figure which makes a four-year loan of $4,000 seem small indeed."

Don't Scoff At That Minor Ankle Sprain

By VIVIAN BROWN

NEW YORK (AP)—If you expect to come back from that vacation fit and happy, be sure to attend to minor injuries as soon as they occur. Milder injuries, which patients like to minimize, may leave behind permanent handicaps.

"The common ankle sprain, which is really a momentary dislocation of the ankle joint, so very often leaves an ankle which dislocates partially every time a man steps off a curb stone," says Dr. Joseph E. Milgram, director of orthopaedic surgery at the Hospital for Joint Diseases in New York.

Early recognition of its severity, he emphasizes, followed by sufficient local treatment for a long enough period (most often strapping for five to six weeks; occasionally even plaster casts) results in a normal joint.

"Too many young athletes and swimmers have dislocated a shoulder joint and had it reduced or had a friend pop it back disregarding an orthopaedist's insistance to keep the arm strapped to the body for a minimum of three weeks and probably longer," Milgram says.

"These patients too seldom understand," he continues "that the strong ligamentous attachments, which hold the head of the arm bone in place, have torn free from the neck of the scapular or wing blade and have failed to re-attach themselves, because to too early use of the arm."

Far too often, operations must be performed later for frequently recurring dislocations which might have been prevented had correct attention been obtained at once, he says.

The same is true, says Milgram, of a sudden dislocation of the knee-cap which pops back when an obliging friend pulls the leg. The patient limps a few days and seems well, for a while, when repeated redislocations begin, eventually ending in the operating room.

Serious back troubles may develop because a relatively mild "sprain" was not adequately treated by a period of uninterrupted bed rest.

SOVIET WOMEN SEEN ADOPTING AMERICAN HABITS OF GROOMING

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The lady boss of the Passport Office thinks Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his boys won't be able to stop Russian women's urge for eyeshadow.

"It is contagious, and it is spreading," she said.

Frances G. Knight said such feminine buying urges as she noticed on a recent unofficial trip to Russia may not be of "international importance." And she said "none of our diplomatic experts would give this a second thought."

But, she added, "I have a hunch that this is the type of thing Messrs. Khrushchev and Mikoyan cannot stop."

Miss Knight said in an interview that "times have changed" in Moscow since her husband (Wayne W. Parrish, editor and publisher of American Aviation Publications Inc.) was in the Soviet Union three years ago. Russian women, she said, are using perfume, powder and lipstick and wearing hats and dresses of color and "reasonably good texture" instead of drab blacks and dark colors.

"I imagine," she said, "that in the past few years as more consumer goods have begun to be available, the Russian wife—like wives all over the world—has said words to this effect: "Ivan, tonight we go to the Ballet. I am wearing my velvet dress. You get a haircut, wash up, put on a clean shirt and tie. I don't want the neighbors talking about the way you look."

And Ivan, Miss Knight said, "like all wise husbands, has taken the hint."

She said her husband noticed three years ago that Russian men "seemed to take pride in looking like bums." On the couple's recent visit, she said, at theaters and elsewhere it was "notable that the men accompanied by women were spruced up for the occasion."

How To Stay Young And Enjoy Your Life

How can older women make the most of their looks? How can old age be postponed? How can it be enjoyed? These questions bother women who want to keep youthful mentally and physically, even though the calendar is against postponing the inevitable.

Many women manage to keep youthful, maintaining surprising vigor into the very late years. What is their secret? On the other hand some women look older than their years. Why?

The secret of getting the most out of your age seems to lie in many things. But the formula boils down to:

1. Keep active at something you like.

2. Take the best possible care of your skin, hair and figure.

3. Get a moderate amount of exercise.

One 92-year-old woman attributed her longevity and spryness to the fact that she never got bored. She visits her three children and grandchildren regularly.

"When I get restless or feel I am beginning to get on their nerves, I move on," she says. "I go home and see my neighbors for a while, then I am off to visit another of my children's homes."

A 70-year-old woman is a playground recreation teacher all the year round. Says she:

"The only time I am lonesome is when I am on vacation. I miss the children, their mothers, the fun and gab connected with the group. It keeps me young."

A widowed 65-year-old woman says she loses herself in travel.

"I always wanted to travel," she says, "and my husband made me agree that I would, even if he weren't around to enjoy it with me. It has helped me forget."

Once the skin has begun to wrinkle there is not much you can do except use nourishing creams at night, and eat well. If the skin is just beginning to line, you may be able to postpone the inevitable by eating foods that nourish skin and hair. Career women and other women who live alone are likely to feel it is a waste to cook vegetables for one person. They may settle for a sandwich for the main meal, whereas to maintain the health of vital attributes to beauty such vitamin A vegetables as sweet potatoes, beet greens, spinach and broccoli are essential to the diet. A little of this each day should keep one ahead of Father Time, as the body stores this vitamin.

Here's What You Can Expect From New Labeling Law

What information should you expect to find on a label or hang tag when the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act goes into effect March 3, 1960?

The Act requires that a label stating fiber content be secured in such a manner, and be durable enough to remain on or attached to the item from the point of sale through distribution and handling until it is sold or delivered to the ultimate consumer.

The information on fiber composition must include the generic names of the fiber and percentage of weight of the fibers present, exclusive of ornamentation. If a fiber or fibers constitute less than 5 per cent by weight it may be designated as "other fibers" or "other fiber."

Labels must also give the name or registered identification number issued by the Federal Trade Commission, of the manufacturer or the persons marketing or handling the item. Imported fabrics must carry the name of the country where the fabric was made or processed. The National Institute of Drycleaning, Silver Spring, Md., points out that recently some imported fabrics have caused customer complaints. Some of the garments have been labeled as to source, others have not.

The Act contains specific instructions as to how the required information shall be placed on the label. The required information must appear on the same side of the label, clearly legible and accessible to the purchaser. For example, all information on fiber content must appear in type and lettering of equal size and conspicuousness.

IOOF Whist Party

The public is invited to a whist party to be given by Mount Tamalpais Lodge No. 399, IOOF, tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Temple.

Awards will be given and refreshments served.

Bath Beauty Hint

Good bathroom decorating this summer calls for something light and something dark, a bright color and a soft color. Even in such simple details as matching the colors of tissues, it's easy today to achieve a tasteful, harmonious decor. The makers of Delsey bathroom tissue, for example, now offer aqua, pink and yellow, the most popular soft colors according to market tests.

'Haystack Hop Will Be Held On Thursday

The Marin County Catholic Youth Organization, directed by Joseph Laharty, will present its third dance this season, the "Haystack Hop," at St. Raphael's auditorium on Thursday from 8 to 11 p.m.

Mrs. Baris Frohlich, director of the Junior Cotllion of Marin, has been invited to present two of her students in an exhibition of ballroom dancing. Teri Frohlich and Eugene Babo will dance three numbers including a swing, cha-cha, and a waltz.

Mrs. Alex Bovee, organizer of the CYO dances, extends a cordial invitation to all eighth grade students and high school students. Music will be provided by the Kustom Keys, a talented group of young musicians.

Change With Time

Spanish Omelet is an old-fashioned dish that includes a home-made tomato sauce. Nowadays you can use a good meatless tomato sauce to accompany the omelet.

Save Time

You can save time if when laundering ruffled curtains, you starch only the ruffles and the tie backs. You will find the curtains can be ironed in about half the time, will have a crisp fresh look and last longer.

Gravy Spots Tops Drycleaners Say

Gravy and food stains result in more drycleaning bills than any other kind of mishap, a "spot check" by the National Institute of Drycleaning has revealed. The Institute surveyed its 8600 members to see what types of spots and stains drycleaners encounter frequently. NID found "there's many a slip between cup and lip" for food and gravy stains led the list. Next most common were blood stains, the Institute said.

Matching Shoes

Look for an increase in "matching" shoes for fall — fabric footwear dyed in a solid shade to coordinate with a costume or made of the same fabric as the costume. This latter matching is possible when a woman is lucky enough to get an extra swatch of material and is near a shoemaker who will custom-make the footwear

Don't Scoff At That Minor Ankle Sprain

By VIVIAN BROWN

NEW YORK (AP)—If you expect to come back from that vacation fit and happy, be sure to attend to minor injuries as soon as they occur. Milder injuries, which patients like to minimize, may leave behind permanent handicaps.

"The common ankle sprain, which is really a momentary dislocation of the ankle joint, so very often leaves an ankle which dislocates partially every time a man steps off a curb stone," says Dr. Joseph E. Milgram, director of orthopaedic surgery at the Hospital for Joint Diseases in New York.

Early recognition of its severity, he emphasizes, followed by sufficient local treatment for a long enough period (most often strapping for five to six weeks; occasionally even plaster casts) results in a normal joint.

"Too many young athletes and swimmers have dislocated a shoulder joint and had it reduced or had a friend pop it back disregarding an orthopaedist's insistance to keep the arm strapped to the body for a minimum of three weeks and probably longer," Milgram says.

"These patients too seldom understand," he continues "that the strong ligamentous attachments, which hold the head of the arm bone in place, have torn free from the neck of the scapular or wing blade and have failed to re-attach themselves, because to too early use of the arm."

Far too often, operations must be performed later for frequently recurring dislocations which might have been prevented had correct attention been obtained at once, he says.

The same is true, says Milgram, of a sudden dislocation of the knee-cap which pops back when an obliging friend pulls the leg. The patient limps a few days and seems well, for a while, when repeated redislocations begin, eventually ending in the operating room.

Serious back troubles may develop because a relatively mild "sprain" was not adequately treated by a period of uninterrupted bed rest.

SOVIET WOMEN SEEN ADOPTING AMERICAN HABITS OF GROOMING

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The lady boss of the Passport Office thinks Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his boys won't be able to stop Russian women's urge for eyeshadow.

"It is contagious, and it is spreading," she said.

Frances G. Knight said such feminine buying urges as she noticed on a recent unofficial trip to Russia may not be of "international importance." And she said "none of our diplomatic experts would give this a second thought."

But, she added, "I have a hunch that this is the type of thing Messrs. Khrushchev and Mikoyan cannot stop."

Miss Knight said in an interview that "times have changed" in Moscow since her husband (Wayne W. Parrish, editor and publisher of American Aviation Publications Inc.) was in the Soviet Union three years ago. Russian women, she said, are using perfume, powder and lipstick and wearing hats and dresses of color and "reasonably good texture" instead of drab blacks and dark colors.

"I imagine," she said, "that in the past few years as more consumer goods have begun to be available, the Russian wife—like wives all over the world—has said words to this effect: "Ivan, tonight we go to the Ballet. I am wearing my velvet dress. You get a haircut, wash up, put on a clean shirt and tie. I don't want the neighbors talking about the way you look."

IN LARKSPUR

Niven-Micheli Rites At St. Patrick's

White galdioli and daisies and variegated ivy decorated the altar of St. Patrick's Church in Larkspur for the recent wedding of Lorraine J. Micheli of Berkeley and Jim Niven of Larkspur.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Micheli of Dalzell, Ill., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Niven of Larkspur.

The Rev. James J. Healy officiated for the 2 o'clock ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The full silk organza skirt was designed with lace panels and the train was caught up in a bustle. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a sweetheart cap of satin and organza trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a circlet bouquet of white orchids, ivy, and stephanotis.

Muriel Pestana of Berkeley, as maid of honor, and Constance Stidley and Rosemary Brinkman also of Berkeley as bridesmaids, wore gowns of aqua chiffon. They had aqua chiffon leaf bandeaux trimmed with seed pearls and wore white gloves. They carried crescent bouquets of yellow roses and ivy.

The bride was educated in Illinois schools and was graduated from Hall Township High School in Dalzell.

The bridegroom, who is the brother of Joann Niven of Larkspur, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended City College of San Francisco. He served four years with the U. S. Navy. He is now employed by his father at the Nevin Orchid Co. in Larkspur.

Following an extended wedding trip throughout the Northwest, the couple will reside in Larkspur.

Nancy Evans Honor Guest At Shower

Nancy Ellen Evans, who will become the bride of David Ramsey Munro Jr. on Aug. 15, was honored at a surprise shower given Friday night by Pirkko Dixon at the San Anselmo home of her mother, Mrs. Robert Dixon. Pirkko will be maid of honor at Nancy's wedding which will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning at the San Rafael Presbyterian Church.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, is employed by Getz Bros. in San Francisco. She is the daughter of Mrs. Eva H. Evans and granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Happersberger, both of San Anselmo.

The future benedict is the son of Mrs. L. F. Jones of Pacific Grove. A graduate of San Rafael High School, he is employed by the Union Oil Co. in San Anselmo.

Be Careful When Buying Velveteen

Look twice if you want to be a wise shopper of velveteen garments, advises the National Institute of Drycleaning.

The textile press recently has criticized some department stores and chains which want to offer velveteen garments at low prices, for this has forced the garment maker to seek and use lower quality fabrics. The textile papers say it also brought out some questionable practices in the garment trade, such as shipments of skirts made of straight or plainbacked velveteen mixed with skirts made of twill-backed velveteens.

In other cases, price cutting pressure has forced some fabric manufacturers to sell fabrics with a low yarn count. The textile writers also point out that fabrics which have been on the manufacturers shelves for several years are now being sold at off-prices. One fabric producer reported he could have sold to a ready-to-wear manufacturer some velveteen he normally sells at a low price for window displays.

First quality velveteen fabrics are available in a wide range of fashion colors, according to the fabric makers, but they fear current practices will embarrass the retail store and reflect on the entire velveteen trade.

THE ROBERT TALLMANS, who were married recently at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in Santa Venetia. The bride, the former Shirley Bennett, is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Cook of Northbridge.

SHIRLEY BENNETT EXCHANGES VOWS WITH ROBERT TALLMAN

Forest Hills, Long Island, N.Y. will be the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tallman who were married recently at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in Santa Venetia. The bride, the former Shirley Bennett, is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Cook and the reception following the wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cook in Northbridge.

The Rev. Vincent O. Fleming officiated at the wedding. The bride wore a white satin and lace gown and a coronet of pearls held her double veil. Bouvardia and lilies-of-the-valley were in her bouquet.

The maid of honor, Patricia Murray of Kentfield, was gowned in beige chiffon. Gold carnations and yellow roses formed her nosegay. James Tallman Jr. of Oakland was his brother's best man.

Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of San Jose State College. The new Mrs. Tallman is an alumna of Marin Catholic High School and Gamma Phi Beta is her sorority. She is a stewardess with Pan American. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Vanslett of San Francisco are her grandparents.

The new benedict, who has been transferred by Lockheed from Sunnyvale to New York as an area representative, is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. James Tallman of Oakland are his parents.

Plenty Of Cakes Being Planned For Grape Festival

There should be plenty of cakes at the 1959 Grape Festival when it holds its annual event for the sixtieth time on the Sunny Hills grounds in San Anselmo on Saturday, Oct. 3.

The Fairfax Women's Club, who makes cakes each year, are busy organizing a variety for the annual event. Officers for this group are Mesdames C. W. Carle, president; O. E. Finch, vice president; G. S. Jones, secretary; T. A. Teare, treasurer; C. W. Carle, booth chairman, and L. B. Curtis, publicity chairman.

Beta Sigma Phi will have a most attractive cake cottage decorated in white and yellow crepe paper with lattice work made by the members. Beta Sigma Phi is an international nonacademic sorority founded in 1931 with over 130,000 members. There are five chapters in Marin County. Together they have had a cake booth at the Grape Festival for the past 14 years featuring nothing but home made cakes. Officers for this group are Mesdames Jack Lentz, president; Stuart Purvis, vice president; James Farris, secretary; Ernest Villadsen, treasurer, and Glenn Dunbar, booth chairman.

The San Anselmo Presbyterian Church is busy working with their various church circles to secure enough cakes to handle the many requests they have each year at the Festival. Officers of this group are Mesdames Charles Alfones, president; Allan Meadowcroft, vice president; Larry Madden, secretary; Linton Whitby, treasurer, and Arthur Jones, booth chairman.

Costumer Has Say As To Carpeting

CHICAGO (UPI) — Carpeting cut to match specification and dyed to match the most offbeat sample the customer may submit is manufactured at Rome, Ga., and sold throughout the country.

The product is no bargain basement sale. Approximate prices range from $7.50 a square yard for the least expensive cotton to $26.50 for the most expensive wool with pile three-quarters of an inch thick.

But sales representatives here say the price is relatively reasonable because there is no waste. The carpeting is cut and sold to fit any floor plan, and the customer pays for what is needed—nothing more.

IN LARKSPUR

Niven-Micheli Rites At St. Patrick's

White galdioli and daisies and variegated ivy decorated the altar of St. Patrick's Church in Larkspur for the recent wedding of Lorraine J. Micheli of Berkeley and Jim Niven of Larkspur.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Micheli of Dalzell, Ill., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Niven of Larkspur.

The Rev. James J. Healy officiated for the 2 o'clock ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The full silk organza skirt was designed with lace panels and the train was caught up in a bustle. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a sweetheart cap of satin and organza trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a circlet bouquet of white orchids, ivy, and stephanotis.

Muriel Pestana of Berkeley, as maid of honor, and Constance Stidley and Rosemary Brinkman also of Berkeley as bridesmaids, wore gowns of aqua chiffon. They had aqua chiffon leaf bandeaux trimmed with seed pearls and wore white gloves. They carried crescent bouquets of yellow roses and ivy.

The bride was educated in Illinois schools and was graduated from Hall Township High School in Dalzell.

The bridegroom, who is the brother of Joann Niven of Larkspur, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended City College of San Francisco. He served four years with the U. S. Navy. He is now employed by his father at the Nevin Orchid Co. in Larkspur.

Following an extended wedding trip throughout the Northwest, the couple will reside in Larkspur.

Nancy Evans Honor Guest At Shower

Nancy Ellen Evans, who will become the bride of David Ramsey Munro Jr. on Aug. 15, was honored at a surprise shower given Friday night by Pirkko Dixon at the San Anselmo home of her mother, Mrs. Robert Dixon. Pirkko will be maid of honor at Nancy's wedding which will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning at the San Rafael Presbyterian Church.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, is employed by Getz Bros. in San Francisco. She is the daughter of Mrs. Eva H. Evans and granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Happersberger, both of San Anselmo.

The future benedict is the son of Mrs. L. F. Jones of Pacific Grove. A graduate of San Rafael High School, he is employed by the Union Oil Co. in San Anselmo.

Be Careful When Buying Velveteen

Look twice if you want to be a wise shopper of velveteen garments, advises the National Institute of Drycleaning.

The textile press recently has criticized some department stores and chains which want to offer velveteen garments at low prices, for this has forced the garment maker to seek and use lower quality fabrics. The textile papers say it also brought out some questionable practices in the garment trade, such as shipments of skirts made of straight or plainbacked velveteen mixed with skirts made of twill-backed velveteens.

In other cases, price cutting pressure has forced some fabric manufacturers to sell fabrics with a low yarn count. The textile writers also point out that fabrics which have been on the manufacturers shelves for several years are now being sold at off-prices. One fabric producer reported he could have sold to a ready-to-wear manufacturer some velveteen he normally sells at a low price for window displays.

First quality velveteen fabrics are available in a wide range of fashion colors, according to the fabric makers, but they fear current practices will embarrass the retail store and reflect on the entire velveteen trade.

Larkspur Ought To Start Building Bridge Approach

We can't see why it should take so long for the city of Larkspur to get around to building its approach road to the new Bon Air bridge.

The bridge itself was completed some months ago by the county. After some delay, the approach road on the county end was completed, subsequently.

Now the costly bridge and finished approach stand like a ghost; bought and paid for by taxpayers but not useable because Larkspur has provided no approach at its end.

As things stand now, it is truly a bridge to nowhere.

If you discuss the matter with Larkspur city officials they will tell you that the villians are the PG & E and/or the water district.

It seems there were certain power, gas and/or water lines that had to be rerouted before the approach road from the Larkspur end could be completed.

If so, why hasn't this been done?

We can't imagine the realignment of power, gas or water lines that could take more than a couple of weeks at most; why hasn't it been done?

Obviously, there has been some administrative mix-up here.

Strikes us it's Larkspur's responsibility, primarily.

How do you go about hurrying somebody who doesn't want to be hurried but is blocking traffic, so to speak?

Best way we can think of is the good old fashioned American practice of pointing your finger at the guy who is impeding progress, getting up on your hind legs and yelling loud enough so everybody can hear what it's all about.

We hope that at the next Larkspur city council meeting we will see a councilman or two—or the whole council collectively—pointing the finger, standing on hind legs yelling.

In council jargon this might be reduced to "instructing the city manager to send a letter registering a formal protest over the delay."

CHILD BAFFLES AUTHORITIES

One 8-year-old boy in Wales has probation officers completely frustrated. He has been charged with:

1. Starting a fire in a phone booth.
2. Robbing a store, stealing bicycles and pilfering automobiles.
3. Taking $42 from his mother's purse to buy cigarettes.
4. Skipping classes at school.
5. Fleecing other children of their money and clothing.
6. Damaging gardens and crops.

Misdirected as it is, the extraordinary resourcefulness of this youngster could do wonders if harnessed and directed into constructive channels.

This is easier said than done, to be sure. But the enormous vitality and imagination of this 8-year-older is as great a potential for good as it is for evil.

God puts a bit of His divine greatness in every child. He entrusts us with the thrilling challenge of developing and guarding it.

(Proverbs 29:15)

Keep us alert, O Holy Spirit, to the challenge for good that every child presents.

Swedish Girl To Recreate Part Made Famous By Marlene Dietrich

NEW YORK (AP) — A young Swedish girl with Civil War eyes — they're blue-gray, sonny-hopes to springboard to fame in the same role that made Marlene Dietrich an international star.

"I only hope it will do for me what it did for her," said May Britt.

She wasn't even born when Dietrich broke grandpa's heart 30 years ago with a pair of enticing gams and a throaty voice singing "Falling in Love Again." The film: "The Blue Angel."

The same song is retained in the new version of the picture.

"It has an even more interesting title in German," said May. "It is called, 'I am from head to foot made for love'."

This seems like a pretty fair description of May herself. She is vibrantly slim, and her saucy freckled face is half-draped by long hair the color of August wheat.

May made her American debut in a few scenes opposite Marlon Brando in "The Young Lions." But before that she made 11 films in Rome, where she stacked up well against the competition of such native daughters of Sophia Loren and Gina Lollobrigida.

A girl of startling beauty, she says she doesn't mind sexy roles — at least at this stage of her career.

But May has a strong distaste for bust-and-hip publicity — she doesn't like to give her personal measurements, dislikes being asked to compare European and American men.

"I don't actually know my own weight," she said. "I find it a great bore to speak about weight. Weight is very much an American preoccupation. I am not worried if friends gain or lose a few pounds. I still think the same of them.

"As to what men are most attractive, I married an American. That should settle that."

HER HUSBAND, Edwin Gregson, is a student at Stanford University. May — it's pronounced My — was born Maybritt Wilkens in a suburb of Stockholm. Her father is a Swedish postal employee. She had worked as a baby sitter and waitress and was studying photography when Carlos Ponti, an Italian producer, discovered her.

She admires Ingrid Bergman, Greta Garbo, and Dietrich but takes pains not to imitate them.

"I like movement — hustle and bustle — people coming and going. I like to hear the telephone ring, and I love to come home and find a pile of messages waiting for me.

"BUT I HATE to go to parties. Crowds make me shy. Too many people I can't stand around me all at once."

Eventually May hopes to have five or six children, but her career is of top interest now. She disciplines herself strictly.

"I take one drink a year and smoke one cigarette a week," she said. "I have no minor vices.

"What do I like to do? I like to do exactly what I want. You have to be in this business strongwilled."

BENNETT CERF

New York cops are used to just about everything, but one traffic officer was stopped cold at the sight of an old sedan parked on a sidestreet with four occupants solemnly fishing out of its open windows. The man in the driver's seat furtively beckoned to the cop, "The poor nuts think they're going to catch some salmon here. I'm humoring them by playing along."

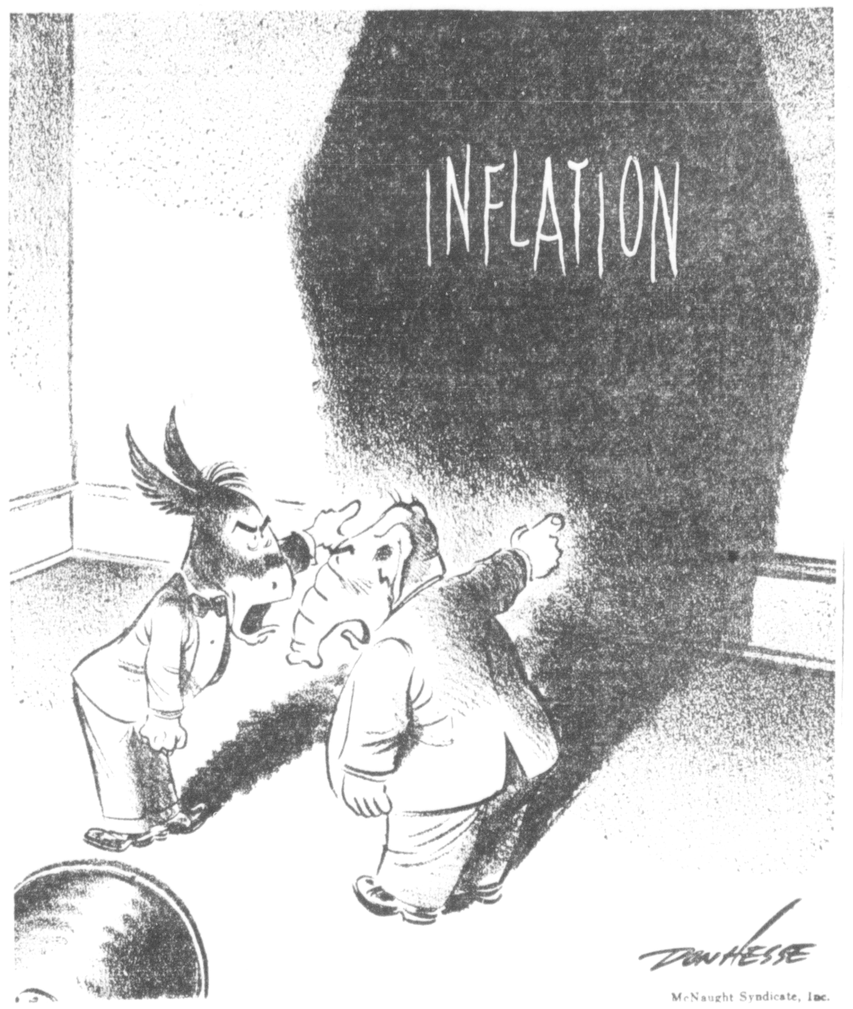

"You're in a 'no parking' area, buddy," interrupted the cop, "so you'll have to humor your nutty friends some place else."

"O.K., if that's the way you feel about it," nodded the driver — and pulled out a pair of oars.

Contributed by my 12-year-old son Jonathan: Why is a traffic cop like a chair with a crack in the seat? Because if you don't park correctly, they'll both pinch you.

'IT'S YOUR SHADOW—DOGGONIT!'

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Eisenhower, Johnson Team Up To Hold Divided House Together

WASHINGTON—We don't have to wait for history books in order to render two important verdicts on an unprecedented period in our political history—the second term of the Eisenhower Presidency and the second and third terms of the Lyndon Johnson Congress.

These four years, from 1957 to 1961, are an unprecedented period because we have been testing for the first time the effect of the anti-third term amendment upon the functioning of the Presidency. Never before has a President been automatically on his way out of office the day he was elected to his second term.

This four-year period is also unprecedented because for the first time a President has been confrouted through the entirety of his second term with a Congress controlled by the opposition—a Democratic Congress thrice elected with increasing majorities during a Republican Presidency. It had never happened before.

The unusual character of this period is compounded by the fact that both unprecedented circumstances — the first impact of the Twenty-Second Amendment and the continuous opposition-party control of Congress—occurred at the same time.

Most predictions were for a political cold war and a perilous legislative stalemate.

AND WHAT HAS actually been happening—and why? It seems to me already amply evident that when the historians come to write the history of 1957 to 1961 they will almost unanimously agree:

1. That President Dwight D. Eisenhower has proved that a constitutionality lame duck President does not have to limp to the exit of his second term, that he can grow in power and political effectiveness, and that in so conducting himself Mr. Eisenhower has helped future Presidents faced with similar circumstances.

2. That, simultaneously, Democratic Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson—invaluably aided by Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House—has himself made an original, courgeous, and incalcuable contribution to the functioning of divided government by insisting upon making divided government work and by seeking the maximum area of compromise between a Democratic legislature and an opposition-party President. Mr. Johnson has had no precendents to work by; he has made his own precedents and I believe that history will call them good ones.

The influence of the White House during Mr. Eisenhower's lame duck term has increased rather than dropped. It seems not to have been hurt by the anti-third-term amendment; perhaps helped by it because of the special detachment which comes to a President when he knows he can't run again. "I am not so much thinking of public images as I am of the public good," he said at a recent press conference. His popularity rapidly rebounded after the Republican Congressional defeat last fall. He is pretty much having his way with the Democratic Congress this year. It is a remarkable performance.

MR. EISENHOWER has said that it is "no bed of roses" dealing with an opposition-party Congress. It is equally true that Sen. Johnson finds it "no bed of roses" dealing with an opposition-party President, particularly since some of the thorniest patches are being planned by some Democrats, particularly the Democratic National Chairman, Paul Butler.

But the historians will find, I'm sure, that it is largely because of Lyndon Johnson's special brand of leadership that divided government is producing good legislative fruit. Sen. Johnson has proved himself a constructive realist. He knows that Mr. Eisenhower won the Presidency, not Adlai Stevenson, and that Mr. Eisenhower's 9 million majority did not enthrone the Democratic platform.

It seems to me the difference between Mr. Johnson and Mr. Butler is that Mr. Butler wants to use divided government to make issues on which to try to win the White House next year and that Mr. Jonhson wants to use divided government to get the best attainable legislation. The decision Lyndon Johnson faced was whether to paralyze the government or transact the public business.

Sen. Jonhson's great contribution during this unprecedentel period is that he is choosing to transact the public business.

Fluoridated Drink Cool, Refreshing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Since you have reported the success of the Marin Art and Garden Fair this year, we felt you should know about another success story at the Fair.

It was hot during those days and people were thirsty. The little booth known as "The Oasis" was the place where more than 5000 people (or one out of every five persons attending the Fair) found a free cup of cool, refreshing fluoridated water to drink.

Signatures in our guest book in this booth indicated how many Marin voters want to have Marin's water supply fluoridated. Most significant is the fact that over 98 per cent of these people wrote that they were wholeheartedly in favor of it. We were also pleased to accept the names of about 150 new people who are eager and willing to work on the 1960 fluoridation campaign for Marin's water supply.

A wonderful group of volunteers, many of them nurses and teen-agers, staffed this booth which was sponsored by the Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin.

Our sole purpose was to prove to each thirsty drinker that fluoridated water is not only good to drink, but is good for healthy teeth. We believe we succeeded, because 150 gallons of fluoridated water were dispensed in 52 hours, or at the rate of one drink per minute . . . 2000 campaign buttons of "Vote for Fluoridation" were given out, to point up the need for Marin voters to pass the measure to fluoridate Marin's water supply in the June, 1960 election . . . and 4500 pieces of literature were distributed.

We on the Committee are all so encouraged with these results that a copy of this letter is being sent to the board of directors of the Marin Municipal Water District.

Unlike Previous Year, Corte Madera Making Budget Progress

FOR A LEGISLATIVE body that isn't known for accomplishing things in a hurry, the Corte Madera town council is making surprising headway on the 1956-60 town budget.

During its first budget session last month, the council got nearly half-way through the 22-page document with a minimum of discussion.

This is astounding when measured against last year's performance. The 1958 council started plodding through the budget in May and was still at it in October, three months after the new fiscal year had started.

An I-J account of that lengthy meeting noted that the approval action "climaxed a series of nearly two dozen budget meetings."

The reporter who covered the session carefully preserved his copy of the 1958-59 budget, apparently believing it was all a dream and the 3-2 vote couldn't possibly stand.

We came across his battered budget while doing some office housecleaning the other day and had to laugh at his hasily pencilled note on the cover:

"Finis—A. D. 1958—Oct. 2—12:11 a.m. (But save—they might revoke)."

HOWARD McGILL, veteran trustee of Tamalpais Union high school district, interrupted last week's board meeting to say: "Mr. Chairman, I am smoking an awfully stinky pipe, but I believe cigars from the superintendent are in order."

Larkspur Ought To Start Building Bridge Approach

We can't see why it should take so long for the city of Larkspur to get around to building its approach road to the new Bon Air bridge.

The bridge itself was completed some months ago by the county. After some delay, the approach road on the county end was completed, subsequently.

Now the costly bridge and finished approach stand like a ghost; bought and paid for by taxpayers but not useable because Larkspur has provided no approach at its end.

As things stand now, it is truly a bridge to nowhere.

If you discuss the matter with Larkspur city officials they will tell you that the villians are the PG & E and/or the water district.

It seems there were certain power, gas and/or water lines that had to be rerouted before the approach road from the Larkspur end could be completed.

If so, why hasn't this been done?

We can't imagine the realignment of power, gas or water lines that could take more than a couple of weeks at most; why hasn't it been done?

Obviously, there has been some administrative mix-up here.

Strikes us it's Larkspur's responsibility, primarily.

How do you go about hurrying somebody who doesn't want to be hurried but is blocking traffic, so to speak?

Best way we can think of is the good old fashioned American practice of pointing your finger at the guy who is impeding progress, getting up on your hind legs and yelling loud enough so everybody can hear what it's all about.

We hope that at the next Larkspur city council meeting we will see a councilman or two—or the whole council collectively—pointing the finger, standing on hind legs yelling.

In council jargon this might be reduced to "instructing the city manager to send a letter registering a formal protest over the delay."

CHILD BAFFLES AUTHORITIES

One 8-year-old boy in Wales has probation officers completely frustrated. He has been charged with:

1. Starting a fire in a phone booth.
2. Robbing a store, stealing bicycles and pilfering automobiles.
3. Taking $42 from his mother's purse to buy cigarettes.
4. Skipping classes at school.
5. Fleecing other children of their money and clothing.
6. Damaging gardens and crops.

Misdirected as it is, the extraordinary resourcefulness of this youngster could do wonders if harnessed and directed into constructive channels.

This is easier said than done, to be sure. But the enormous vitality and imagination of this 8-year-older is as great a potential for good as it is for evil.

God puts a bit of His divine greatness in every child. He entrusts us with the thrilling challenge of developing and guarding it.

(Proverbs 29:15)

Keep us alert, O Holy Spirit, to the challenge for good that every child presents.

Swedish Girl To Recreate Part Made Famous By Marlene Dietrich

NEW YORK (AP) — A young Swedish girl with Civil War eyes — they're blue-gray, sonny-hopes to springboard to fame in the same role that made Marlene Dietrich an international star.

"I only hope it will do for me what it did for her," said May Britt.

She wasn't even born when Dietrich broke grandpa's heart 30 years ago with a pair of enticing gams and a throaty voice singing "Falling in Love Again." The film: "The Blue Angel."

The same song is retained in the new version of the picture.

"It has an even more interesting title in German," said May. "It is called, 'I am from head to foot made for love'."

This seems like a pretty fair description of May herself. She is vibrantly slim, and her saucy freckled face is half-draped by long hair the color of August wheat.

May made her American debut in a few scenes opposite Marlon Brando in "The Young Lions." But before that she made 11 films in Rome, where she stacked up well against the competition of such native daughters of Sophia Loren and Gina Lollobrigida.

A girl of startling beauty, she says she doesn't mind sexy roles — at least at this stage of her career.

But May has a strong distaste for bust-and-hip publicity — she doesn't like to give her personal measurements, dislikes being asked to compare European and American men.

"I don't actually know my own weight," she said. "I find it a great bore to speak about weight. Weight is very much an American preoccupation. I am not worried if friends gain or lose a few pounds. I still think the same of them.

"As to what men are most attractive, I married an American. That should settle that."

HER HUSBAND, Edwin Gregson, is a student at Stanford University. May — it's pronounced My — was born Maybritt Wilkens in a suburb of Stockholm. Her father is a Swedish postal employee. She had worked as a baby sitter and waitress and was studying photography when Carlos Ponti, an Italian producer, discovered her.

She admires Ingrid Bergman, Greta Garbo, and Dietrich but takes pains not to imitate them.

"I like movement — hustle and bustle — people coming and going. I like to hear the telephone ring, and I love to come home and find a pile of messages waiting for me.

"BUT I HATE to go to parties. Crowds make me shy. Too many people I can't stand around me all at once."

Eventually May hopes to have five or six children, but her career is of top interest now. She disciplines herself strictly.

"I take one drink a year and smoke one cigarette a week," she said. "I have no minor vices.

"What do I like to do? I like to do exactly what I want. You have to be in this business strongwilled."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

New York cops are used to just about everything, but one traffic officer was stopped cold at the sight of an old sedan parked on a sidestreet with four occupants solemnly fishing out of its open windows. The man in the driver's seat furtively beckoned to the cop, "The poor nuts think they're going to catch some salmon here. I'm humoring them by playing along."

"You're in a 'no parking' area, buddy," interrupted the cop, "so you'll have to humor your nutty friends some place else."

"O.K., if that's the way you feel about it," nodded the driver — and pulled out a pair of oars.

Contributed by my 12-year-old son Jonathan: Why is a traffic cop like a chair with a crack in the seat? Because if you don't park correctly, they'll both pinch you.

Eisenhower, Johnson Team Up To Hold Divided House Together

WASHINGTON—We don't have to wait for history books in order to render two important verdicts on an unprecedented period in our political history—the second term of the Eisenhower Presidency and the second and third terms of the Lyndon Johnson Congress.

These four years, from 1957 to 1961, are an unprecedented period because we have been testing for the first time the effect of the anti-third term amendment upon the functioning of the Presidency. Never before has a President been automatically on his way out of office the day he was elected to his second term.

This four-year period is also unprecedented because for the first time a President has been confrouted through the entirety of his second term with a Congress controlled by the opposition—a Democratic Congress thrice elected with increasing majorities during a Republican Presidency. It had never happened before.

The unusual character of this period is compounded by the fact that both unprecedented circumstances — the first impact of the Twenty-Second Amendment and the continuous opposition-party control of Congress—occurred at the same time.

Most predictions were for a political cold war and a perilous legislative stalemate.

AND WHAT HAS actually been happening—and why? It seems to me already amply evident that when the historians come to write the history of 1957 to 1961 they will almost unanimously agree:

1. That President Dwight D. Eisenhower has proved that a constitutionality lame duck President does not have to limp to the exit of his second term, that he can grow in power and political effectiveness, and that in so conducting himself Mr. Eisenhower has helped future Presidents faced with similar circumstances.

2. That, simultaneously, Democratic Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson—invaluably aided by Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House—has himself made an original, courgeous, and incalcuable contribution to the functioning of divided government by insisting upon making divided government work and by seeking the maximum area of compromise between a Democratic legislature and an opposition-party President. Mr. Johnson has had no precendents to work by; he has made his own precedents and I believe that history will call them good ones.

The influence of the White House during Mr. Eisenhower's lame duck term has increased rather than dropped. It seems not to have been hurt by the anti-third-term amendment; perhaps helped by it because of the special detachment which comes to a President when he knows he can't run again. "I am not so much thinking of public images as I am of the public good," he said at a recent press conference. His popularity rapidly rebounded after the Republican Congressional defeat last fall. He is pretty much having his way with the Democratic Congress this year. It is a remarkable performance.

MR. EISENHOWER has said that it is "no bed of roses" dealing with an opposition-party Congress. It is equally true that Sen. Johnson finds it "no bed of roses" dealing with an opposition-party President, particularly since some of the thorniest patches are being planned by some Democrats, particularly the Democratic National Chairman, Paul Butler.

But the historians will find, I'm sure, that it is largely because of Lyndon Johnson's special brand of leadership that divided government is producing good legislative fruit. Sen. Johnson has proved himself a constructive realist. He knows that Mr. Eisenhower won the Presidency, not Adlai Stevenson, and that Mr. Eisenhower's 9 million majority did not enthrone the Democratic platform.

It seems to me the difference between Mr. Johnson and Mr. Butler is that Mr. Butler wants to use divided government to make issues on which to try to win the White House next year and that Mr. Jonhson wants to use divided government to get the best attainable legislation. The decision Lyndon Johnson faced was whether to paralyze the government or transact the public business.

Sen. Jonhson's great contribution during this unprecedentel period is that he is choosing to transact the public business.

Fluoridated Drink Cool, Refreshing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Since you have reported the success of the Marin Art and Garden Fair this year, we felt you should know about another success story at the Fair.

It was hot during those days and people were thirsty. The little booth known as "The Oasis" was the place where more than 5000 people (or one out of every five persons attending the Fair) found a free cup of cool, refreshing fluoridated water to drink.

Signatures in our guest book in this booth indicated how many Marin voters want to have Marin's water supply fluoridated. Most significant is the fact that over 98 per cent of these people wrote that they were wholeheartedly in favor of it. We were also pleased to accept the names of about 150 new people who are eager and willing to work on the 1960 fluoridation campaign for Marin's water supply.

A wonderful group of volunteers, many of them nurses and teen-agers, staffed this booth which was sponsored by the Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin.

Our sole purpose was to prove to each thirsty drinker that fluoridated water is not only good to drink, but is good for healthy teeth. We believe we succeeded, because 150 gallons of fluoridated water were dispensed in 52 hours, or at the rate of one drink per minute . . . 2000 campaign buttons of "Vote for Fluoridation" were given out, to point up the need for Marin voters to pass the measure to fluoridate Marin's water supply in the June, 1960 election . . . and 4500 pieces of literature were distributed.

We on the Committee are all so encouraged with these results that a copy of this letter is being sent to the board of directors of the Marin Municipal Water District.

Unlike Previous Year, Corte Madera Making Budget Progress

FOR A LEGISLATIVE body that isn't known for accomplishing things in a hurry, the Corte Madera town council is making surprising headway on the 1956-60 town budget.

During its first budget session last month, the council got nearly half-way through the 22-page document with a minimum of discussion.

This is astounding when measured against last year's performance. The 1958 council started plodding through the budget in May and was still at it in October, three months after the new fiscal year had started.

Only three councilmen (William R. Hansen, Edward W. Colthurst and Mayor Roger F. Morse) were on hand for last months's rapid-fire progress meeting. It may or may not be significant, but when the 1958 council finally approved a budget by a 3-2 vote, these same three were in the majority.

An I-J account of that lengthy meeting noted that the approval action "climaxed a series of nearly two dozen budget meetings."

The reporter who covered the session carefully preserved his copy of the 1958-59 budget, apparently believing it was all a dream and the 3-2 vote couldn't possibly stand.

We came across his battered budget while doing some office housecleaning the other day and had to laugh at his hasily pencilled note on the cover:

"Finis—A. D. 1958—Oct. 2—12:11 a.m. (But save—they might revoke)."

HOWARD McGILL, veteran trustee of Tamalpais Union high school district, interrupted last week's board meeting to say: "Mr. Chairman, I am smoking an awfully stinky pipe, but I believe cigars from the superintendent are in order."

For the benefit of the audience, McGill explained that three days earlier Supt. Chester Carlisle had become a father—for the sixth time in 10 years.

"It's a boy—22 inches long," McGill said.

Carlisle, who failed to produce any stogies, reported that "the mother and child are doing all right, but the father is having a rough time." The new arrival, incidentally, is John Frederick Carlisle.

AT THE SAME meeting, the school trustees were asked their unofficial opinions of the uniform proposed for wear by Redwood High School coeds. McGill and chairman Delman Smith were enthusiastic about the garb (grey skirt, white shirt and grey or red cardigan sweater). Then it was trustee W. B. Lewis' turn.

"Well," he said with a laugh, "Mrs. Lewis is very, very much in favor of this, so naturally I am in favor of it, too."

JOHN KLEMPNER, eminent authority on what's wrong with the world almanac, wrote us that he apparently had detected another error about Marin County in the 1959 edition. He had already discovered that it (1) has the Mission San Rafael Arcangel located in San Francisco, and (2) lists Congressman Clem Miller's home as "Core Madera."

Said John's latest comunique: "On page 521, the almanac lists 'construction details of large bridges.' With each is given, supposedly, the true name of the bridge. Among these is the 'San Francisco Bay Bridge,' which goes between San Rafael and Richmond. If this is the official name, then all is well. If not, they are batting 1,000 (3 for 3) against Marin."

Need Strong Laws To End Racket Of Pornography Via The Mails

The pornography deluge continues. Boys still get enticing letters asking them to buy pictures of undressed girls. They still get sample photos. Do you check your son's mail? I think you should. Open suspicious letters. They'll be from addresses in Hollywood or New York. They'll be fat, cheap envelopes. They'll be full of unsavory material.

A year ago the laws against sending pornography through the mail were revised. They were changed to make it possible to prosecute the senders of the stuff in the places where it is received. Formerly they could be tried only where it was mailed. The judges of southern California and New York were strangely lenient. Judges elsewhere may not be. I'd hoped that the revision would result in many trials of the smut racketeers. I was too optimistic.

There have been more arrests this year. And more convictions. But they're only a drop in the bucket. There are dozens of peddlers. They send out thousands of packets. The flow hasn't dimished.

You can help fight this nasty racket. Write to your Congressman. Tell him you are sorry the mail pornography continues. Ask him for still stronger laws, and more presecutions under them.

If your boy gets samples or packages, confiscate them. Take them to your nearest post office. Leave them with the postmaster. He wants to help. He'll do his best to have the senders arrested.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, July 28, the 209th day of the year, with 156 more days to follow in 1959.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1821, Peru proclaimed its independence from Spanish rule.

In 1914, Austria declared war on Serbia, marking the real beginning of World War I.

In 1932, General Douglas MacArthur led federal troops to drive out more than 15-thousand unemployed war veterans camping in Washington.

In 1941, Japanese troops swarmed into Indochina to begin their occupation of the French colonial outpost.

In 1945, the United States Senate ratified the charter of the United Nations.

Also in 1945, an Army B-25 bomber crashed into the Empire State Building in New York City.

Thought for today: British historian George Macaulay Trevelyan wrote. "Serbia . . . the little land of ferocious heroes."

Newfoundland became Britain's first overseas colony in 1583, when Sir Humphrey Gilbert laid claim to it in the name of Queen Elizabeth I.

Building Value Here Hits $4.1 Million

Building construction in Marin County last month totaled $4,180,000 valuation, a rise over both the May figure of $3,604,000 and that of June last year, $3,719,000, according to U.S. Department of Commerce figures.

New dwelling units were down in both categories, however, being valued at $2,992,000 as compared with the previous month's $3,088,000 and $3,198,000 for June, 1958. The number of units was up to 247 from 207 in May and 176 for June last year.

San Rafael led the nine incorporated areas both for all new building for June, valued at $1,253,000, and valuation of new dwelling units, $563,000, as well as 35 as number of new dwelling units.

Figures for other incorporated areas follow:

CORTE MADERA—All building $37,000, one new dwelling valued at $17,000.

FAIRFAX — All building $170,000 entirely made up of 34 new dwelling units.

LARKSPUR — All building $176,000, eight new dwellings totaling $154,000.

MILL VALLEY—All building $213,000, nine new dwellings totaling $152,000.

SAUSALITO — All building $111,000, three new dwellings totaling $62,000.

Ross had no building construction last month.

In the unincorporated area there was new building construction totaling $1,953,000 last month, with 148 new dwellings accounting for $1,644,000 of this. The May total was $2,381,000 and June of last year amounted to $2,588,000.

Planners To Consider Three Private Clubs

Requests for three private swimming clubs, two of them with adjoining tennis courts, will come up for discussion by the San Rafael Planning Commission tonight.

The commission meets at 7:45 p.m. in the city hall. Carl Brown will act as chairman tonight in the absence of chairman Pat Hetherton, who is in Seattle to take part in a national conference of planners. City Planner Mitchell Baird is also at the conference.

A public hearing is set on the first private tennis and swim club, planned by John Farrar on the south end of C street. The area has seven acres, from C street up the hill to Meyer road. Farrar also wants to subdivide the area for seven homes with frontage on Meyer road. He calls the subdivision Rafael Racquet Club Heights.

The eighth lot of the subdivision will be used for several tennis courts surrounding the plunge.

The other tennis and swim club is planned for the Terra Linda area. It will be located on the northeast corner of Terra Linda on a road called Orchid drive, near Oleander drive. The area is within the vast acreage recently annexed to the City of San Rafael.

Alliance Construction Co. plans to put in an Olympic size pool, three tennis courts, handball court, picnic areas, and parking space for 50 cars.

The third private club will be a swimming pool and facilities at the end of Mountain View avenue in Oak Woodlands. Spero Spiliotis and Co. are asking for a use permit to develop the private club. Building area is 75 by 150 feet.

Use permits are also sought for two directional signs, one by John Kenney for a Terra Linda Oaks sign at the entrance to Terra Linda, and the other by Eichler Homes at the southwest corner of Freitas Ranch road and Ranchitos road.

Vets Officer Gives Advice

Marin County Veterans Service Officer W. P. Duhamel today advised widows of wartime veterans they may be eligible for state or federal home loans.

A widow of a California veteran may be eligible for a "Cal-Vet" loan if the veteran had established his eligibility as one who was born in or entered the service from this state. In other words, she would be in line for the loan to which the deceased veteran had established his unused right, if she has not remarried, Duhamel said.

Cal-Vet loans are made of up to $15,000 for a home and $40,000 for a farm.

In the case of federal loans, veterans' unremarried widows of this or any state may be eligible if the death of the veteran resulted from a service-connected disability, or if the deceased died during service, he said.

Course Completed

Army 1st Lt. Wallen M. Summers, 26, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jules L. Winkelman, live in San Anselmo, recently completed the chemical, biological and radiological course conducted by the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Mill Valley Chamber Names New Director

Francis M. Gelardi, Miller avenue pharmacist, has been appointed a director of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, succeeding banker Thomas B. Lathrop, according to chamber secretary John E. McSweeney.

Lathrop, an officer of the American Trust Co., has been transferred to San Francisco.

NEIGHBORS ANNOYED

Women Keeping 150 Cats Ask For 'Understanding'

GLENDALE (UPI)—Two women who face trial on charges of keeping 147 more cats than the legal limit of three pleaded today for "sympathetic understanding" from their annoyed neighbors.

"What will happen to our family?" asked Aura Hardison. "We do not breed our cats, but merely provide a home for the homeless."

But in court yesterday when the women were arraigned, Richard L. Vernon, who lives two houses away said:

"I know this is America and the women have certain liberties, but this has gone beyond reason. Everyone has a right to a hobby but this defies convention."

And Bob Meyer, another neighbor, said he attends Glendale College and finds studying hard going.

"It's difficult to concentrate on studies on a hot night as my bedroom is 10 feet from the cat compounds," he said. "And if the cats fight, they always wait until 1:30 a.m."

Miss Hardison admitted she and Marian Martin housed 150 cats in their plush stucco home in defiance of a recent city ordinance making housing of more than three cats unlawful without a kennel permit. But she said her application for such a permit was turned down.

Both women pleaded innocent to charges of operating a kennel without a license and asked for a jury trial Aug. 20.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Dust Plagues Exhibit

MOSCOW (AP) — The harried director of the U.S. exhibition in Moscow made ready to lay a coating of asphalt over 30,000 square feet of concrete floor being ground to powder by thousands of Russian boots.

Harold C. McClellan, general director of the exhibit, said it might be a good idea if some U.S. firm agreed to ship in crew and material to install a durable flooring. The dust storm is blamed on the poor quality of the concrete floor the Soviets laid.

Wedding Postponed

SHORT HILLS, N.J. (AP)—Socialite Jacquelin Gay Hart, 21, who says she fled to Chicago to escape the strain of elaborate wedding plans, has decided to postpone her marriage.

Publicity over her case caused the postponement, says Gay's father, Ralph A. Hart.

Hart, executive vice president of the Colgate Palmolive Co., told of his daughter's decision yesterday. He said she eventually would marry Stanley Gaines, 25, of Fayetteville, W.Va., as planned, but gave no date.

Stranded High Up

OAKLAND (AP)—Two electricians dangled between life and death for 30 minutes yesterday when their scaffolding fouled 212 feet above the ground on the windowless wall of the new Kaiser Building.

Fred Turney, 38, of San Leandro, and Red Johnson, 24, of Oakland clung to railings and dangled by their safety belts until a bosun's chair was lowered from the roof to their aid.

East Sweltering

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It looks like more warm and humid weather for most of the eastern half of the nation today. Predicted afternoon and evening showers may bring a little relief.

Tropical air continued to cling across most of the country east of the Rockies, with increased humidity in wide areas. Little change was indicated from yesterday's high temperatures.

Elephant Trek Fails

LE PLANEY, France (AP) — Jumbo, the traveling elephant, headed slowly back home today, her handlers' attempts to re-enact Hannibal's historic crossing of the Alps foiled by a landslide everybody overlooked.

British historian John Hoyte started climbing with Jumbo a week ago to prove that Hannibal could have taken the 7,300-foot high Clapier Pass in his elephant-assisted invasion of Italy in 219 B.C. After covering 72 miles, Hoyte discovered on arrival here yesterday that the pass had been blocked for some time by a slide.

7,215,281 Vehicles

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Department of Motor Vehicles reported yesterday that as of June 1, there were 7,215,281 vehicles registered in California, not quite enough to match the state's 7,675,277 licensed drivers.

6 Million Employed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Nearly six million Californians were on payrolls during June, according to the state Department of Employment.

In an announcement yesterday, the department said there were 5,853,000 civilians at work last month. This was an increase of 55,000 from the month before, and a new high for total employment.

Polio Epidemic Wanes

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Health officials said today the polio epidemic in the Des Moines area is past its peak.

Dr. James F. Speers, Des Moines-Polk County health director who described the epidemic as the nation's worst three weeks ago, said it is now going down hill.

Brundage's Art To S.F. Museum

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Avery Brundage's world-famous oriental art collection, valued at $15 million, will be housed in San Francisco's M. H. de Young Memorial Museum, according to Mayor George Christopher.

Arrangements have been completed for Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, to give the collection to San Francisco. A wing of the museum will be expanded to house the collection.

Gunfire Chase

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Police riddled a car with more than 50 bullets and killed one man early today in a high speed chase after a drug store burglary. More than 110 shots were fired before the car careened into a quiet Fort Worth suburb and smashed into a tree.

The dead man was tentatively identified as Wesley Bentley Jr., 35, of Dallas. He was shot in the head. Bentley's three companions miraculously escaped injury.

New Strike Looms

NEW YORK (AP) — A major strike in the aluminum industry was threatened today as negotiations in the two-week-old steel strike remained deadlocked.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said he expected no agreement in the aluminum industry before contracts with major firms expire at midnight Friday.

Hawaii Balloting

HONOLULU (UPI)—The many-colored peoples of these islands went to the polls today to elect their first representatives as the 50th state.

Enthusiasm for statehood was so high that Secretary of State Ed Johnson predicted 90 per cent of registered voters would cast ballots to elect a governor, lieutenant governor, two U.S. senators, a U.S. congressman and 62 state legislators.

Long Finds Friend

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI)—Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long parked under an Arkansas moon with a buxom blonde divorcee from Memphis, Tenn., early today. Long's lady friend is Mrs. Ann S. Billings, vacationing in Hot Springs with her son and daughter, Johnny, 11, and Sherry, 16, and an aunt.

Long, separated from his wife, Blanche, met Mrs. Billings at his hotel early yesterday. He had dinner with her and her family last night, then dropped the family off and ditched his chauffeur.

Need Strong Laws To End Racket Of Pornography Via The Mails

The pornography deluge continues. Boys still get enticing letters asking them to buy pictures of undressed girls. They still get sample photos. Do you check your son's mail? I think you should. Open suspicious letters. They'll be from addresses in Hollywood or New York. They'll be fat, cheap envelopes. They'll be full of unsavory material.

A year ago the laws against sending pornography through the mail were revised. They were changed to make it possible to prosecute the senders of the stuff in the places where it is received. Formerly they could be tried only where it was mailed. The judges of southern California and New York were strangely lenient. Judges elsewhere may not be. I'd hoped that the revision would result in many trials of the smut racketeers. I was too optimistic.

There have been more arrests this year. And more convictions. But they're only a drop in the bucket. There are dozens of peddlers. They send out thousands of packets. The flow hasn't dimished.

You can help fight this nasty racket. Write to your Congressman. Tell him you are sorry the mail pornography continues. Ask him for still stronger laws, and more presecutions under them.

If your boy gets samples or packages, confiscate them. Take them to your nearest post office. Leave them with the postmaster. He wants to help. He'll do his best to have the senders arrested.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, July 28, the 209th day of the year, with 156 more days to follow in 1959.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1821, Peru proclaimed its independence from Spanish rule.

In 1914, Austria declared war on Serbia, marking the real beginning of World War I.

In 1932, General Douglas MacArthur led federal troops to drive out more than 15-thousand unemployed war veterans camping in Washington.

In 1945, the United States Senate ratified the charter of the United Nations.

Also in 1945, an Army B-25 bomber crashed into the Empire State Building in New York City.

Thought for today: British historian George Macaulay Trevelyan wrote. "Serbia . . . the little land of ferocious heroes."

Newfoundland became Britain's first overseas colony in 1583, when Sir Humphrey Gilbert laid claim to it in the name of Queen Elizabeth I.

Binoculars Stolen

A thief stole a pair of binoculars worth $200 from the Pink Shutter Nursery at Bel Aire Shopping Center, sheriff's deputies disclosed yesterday. Clayton Romlar, proprietor, noticed the rear door of his nursery open on Friday morning but thought nothing was missing. That night, he discovered the binoculars gone.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Building Value Here Hits $4.1 Million

Building construction in Marin County last month totaled $4,180,000 valuation, a rise over both the May figure of $3,604,000 and that of June last year, $3,719,000, according to U.S. Department of Commerce figures.

New dwelling units were down in both categories, however, being valued at $2,992,000 as compared with the previous month's $3,088,000 and $3,198,000 for June, 1958. The number of units was up to 247 from 207 in May and 176 for June last year.

San Rafael led the nine incorporated areas both for all new building for June, valued at $1,253,000, and valuation of new dwelling units, $563,000, as well as 35 as number of new dwelling units.

Figures for other incorporated areas follow:

CORTE MADERA—All building $37,000, one new dwelling valued at $17,000.

FAIRFAX — All building $170,000 entirely made up of 34 new dwelling units.

LARKSPUR — All building $176,000, eight new dwellings totaling $154,000.

MILL VALLEY—All building $213,000, nine new dwellings totaling $152,000.

SAN ANSELMO—All building $128,000, five new dwellings totaling $111,000.

SAUSALITO — All building $111,000, three new dwellings totaling $62,000.

Ross had no building construction last month.

In the unincorporated area there was new building construction totaling $1,953,000 last month, with 148 new dwellings accounting for $1,644,000 of this. The May total was $2,381,000 and June of last year amounted to $2,588,000.

Planners To Consider Three Private Clubs

Requests for three private swimming clubs, two of them with adjoining tennis courts, will come up for discussion by the San Rafael Planning Commission tonight.

The commission meets at 7:45 p.m. in the city hall. Carl Brown will act as chairman tonight in the absence of chairman Pat Hetherton, who is in Seattle to take part in a national conference of planners. City Planner Mitchell Baird is also at the conference.

A public hearing is set on the first private tennis and swim club, planned by John Farrar on the south end of C street. The area has seven acres, from C street up the hill to Meyer road. Farrar also wants to subdivide the area for seven homes with frontage on Meyer road. He calls the subdivision Rafael Racquet Club Heights.

The eighth lot of the subdivision will be used for several tennis courts surrounding the plunge.

The other tennis and swim club is planned for the Terra Linda area. It will be located on the northeast corner of Terra Linda on a road called Orchid drive, near Oleander drive. The area is within the vast acreage recently annexed to the City of San Rafael.

Alliance Construction Co. plans to put in an Olympic size pool, three tennis courts, handball court, picnic areas, and parking space for 50 cars.

The third private club will be a swimming pool and facilities at the end of Mountain View avenue in Oak Woodlands. Spero Spiliotis and Co. are asking for a use permit to develop the private club. Building area is 75 by 150 feet.

Use permits are also sought for two directional signs, one by John Kenney for a Terra Linda Oaks sign at the entrance to Terra Linda, and the other by Eichler Homes at the southwest corner of Freitas Ranch road and Ranchitos road.

Vets Officer Gives Advice

Marin County Veterans Service Officer W. P. Duhamel today advised widows of wartime veterans they may be eligible for state or federal home loans.

A widow of a California veteran may be eligible for a "Cal-Vet" loan if the veteran had established his eligibility as one who was born in or entered the service from this state. In other words, she would be in line for the loan to which the deceased veteran had established his unused right, if she has not remarried, Duhamel said.

Cal-Vet loans are made of up to $15,000 for a home and $40,000 for a farm.

In the case of federal loans, veterans' unremarried widows of this or any state may be eligible if the death of the veteran resulted from a service-connected disability, or if the deceased died during service, he said.

Course Completed

Army 1st Lt. Wallen M. Summers, 26, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jules L. Winkelman, live in San Anselmo, recently completed the chemical, biological and radiological course conducted by the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Mill Valley Chamber Names New Director

Francis M. Gelardi, Miller avenue pharmacist, has been appointed a director of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, succeeding banker Thomas B. Lathrop, according to chamber secretary John E. McSweeney.

Lathrop, an officer of the American Trust Co., has been transferred to San Francisco.

NEIGHBORS ANNOYED

Women Keeping 150 Cats Ask For 'Understanding'

GLENDALE (UPI)—Two women who face trial on charges of keeping 147 more cats than the legal limit of three pleaded today for "sympathetic understanding" from their annoyed neighbors.

"What will happen to our family?" asked Aura Hardison. "We do not breed our cats, but merely provide a home for the homeless."

But in court yesterday when the women were arraigned, Richard L. Vernon, who lives two houses away said:

"I know this is America and the women have certain liberties, but this has gone beyond reason. Everyone has a right to a hobby but this defies convention."

And Bob Meyer, another neighbor, said he attends Glendale College and finds studying hard going.

"It's difficult to concentrate on studies on a hot night as my bedroom is 10 feet from the cat compounds," he said. "And if the cats fight, they always wait until 1:30 a.m."

Miss Hardison admitted she and Marian Martin housed 150 cats in their plush stucco home in defiance of a recent city ordinance making housing of more than three cats unlawful without a kennel permit. But she said her application for such a permit was turned down.

Both women pleaded innocent to charges of operating a kennel without a license and asked for a jury trial Aug. 20.

Dust Plagues Exhibit

MOSCOW (AP) — The harried director of the U.S. exhibition in Moscow made ready to lay a coating of asphalt over 30,000 square feet of concrete floor being ground to powder by thousands of Russian boots.

Harold C. McClellan, general director of the exhibit, said it might be a good idea if some U.S. firm agreed to ship in crew and material to install a durable flooring. The dust storm is blamed on the poor quality of the concrete floor the Soviets laid.

Wedding Postponed

SHORT HILLS, N.J. (AP)—Socialite Jacquelin Gay Hart, 21, who says she fled to Chicago to escape the strain of elaborate wedding plans, has decided to postpone her marriage.

Publicity over her case caused the postponement, says Gay's father, Ralph A. Hart.

Hart, executive vice president of the Colgate Palmolive Co., told of his daughter's decision yesterday. He said she eventually would marry Stanley Gaines, 25, of Fayetteville, W.Va., as planned, but gave no date.

Stranded High Up

OAKLAND (AP)—Two electricians dangled between life and death for 30 minutes yesterday when their scaffolding fouled 212 feet above the ground on the windowless wall of the new Kaiser Building.

Fred Turney, 38, of San Leandro, and Red Johnson, 24, of Oakland clung to railings and dangled by their safety belts until a bosun's chair was lowered from the roof to their aid.

East Sweltering

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It looks like more warm and humid weather for most of the eastern half of the nation today. Predicted afternoon and evening showers may bring a little relief.

Tropical air continued to cling across most of the country east of the Rockies, with increased humidity in wide areas. Little change was indicated from yesterday's high temperatures.

Elephant Trek Fails

LE PLANEY, France (AP) — Jumbo, the traveling elephant, headed slowly back home today, her handlers' attempts to re-enact Hannibal's historic crossing of the Alps foiled by a landslide everybody overlooked.

British historian John Hoyte started climbing with Jumbo a week ago to prove that Hannibal could have taken the 7,300-foot high Clapier Pass in his elephant-assisted invasion of Italy in 219 B.C. After covering 72 miles, Hoyte discovered on arrival here yesterday that the pass had been blocked for some time by a slide.

7,215,281 Vehicles

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Department of Motor Vehicles reported yesterday that as of June 1, there were 7,215,281 vehicles registered in California, not quite enough to match the state's 7,675,277 licensed drivers.

6 Million Employed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Nearly six million Californians were on payrolls during June, according to the state Department of Employment.

In an announcement yesterday, the department said there were 5,853,000 civilians at work last month. This was an increase of 55,000 from the month before, and a new high for total employment.

Polio Epidemic Wanes

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Health officials said today the polio epidemic in the Des Moines area is past its peak.

Dr. James F. Speers, Des Moines-Polk County health director who described the epidemic as the nation's worst three weeks ago, said it is now going down hill.

Brundage's Art To S.F. Museum

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Avery Brundage's world-famous oriental art collection, valued at $15 million, will be housed in San Francisco's M. H. de Young Memorial Museum, according to Mayor George Christopher.

Arrangements have been completed for Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, to give the collection to San Francisco. A wing of the museum will be expanded to house the collection.

Gunfire Chase

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Police riddled a car with more than 50 bullets and killed one man early today in a high speed chase after a drug store burglary. More than 110 shots were fired before the car careened into a quiet Fort Worth suburb and smashed into a tree.

The dead man was tentatively identified as Wesley Bentley Jr., 35, of Dallas. He was shot in the head. Bentley's three companions miraculously escaped injury.

New Strike Looms

NEW YORK (AP) — A major strike in the aluminum industry was threatened today as negotiations in the two-week-old steel strike remained deadlocked.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said he expected no agreement in the aluminum industry before contracts with major firms expire at midnight Friday.

Hawaii Balloting

HONOLULU (UPI)—The many-colored peoples of these islands went to the polls today to elect their first representatives as the 50th state.

Enthusiasm for statehood was so high that Secretary of State Ed Johnson predicted 90 per cent of registered voters would cast ballots to elect a governor, lieutenant governor, two U.S. senators, a U.S. congressman and 62 state legislators.

Long Finds Friend

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI)—Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long parked under an Arkansas moon with a buxom blonde divorcee from Memphis, Tenn., early today. Long's lady friend is Mrs. Ann S. Billings, vacationing in Hot Springs with her son and daughter, Johnny, 11, and Sherry, 16, and an aunt.

Long, separated from his wife, Blanche, met Mrs. Billings at his hotel early yesterday. He had dinner with her and her family last night, then dropped the family off and ditched his chauffeur.

PARCEL "A" (STREET AREA): BEGINNING at a point on the northeasterly line of Sacramento Avenue, at the most easterly corner of Lot 14, Block 111½, Section Map "K," recorded June 4, 1891 in Rack 2 of Maps at Pull 5, Marin County Records; running thence at right angles to the said line of Sacramento Avenue, S.13°16'41"E. 40.0 feet, more or less, to the northerly line of the Corporate Limit boundary of the City of Sausalito; thence along said Corporate Limit boundary, S.75°01'31"W. 200.0 feet, more or less, to an angle point in said boundary; thence continuing along said boundary line, S.39°45'31"W. 160.0 feet, more or less, to the easterly line of State Highway #101 Service Road; thence along said Highway line, N.00°31'22.5" W. 65.0 feet, more or less, to its intersection with the northwesterly line of said Sacramento Avenue; thence along said Avenue line, N. 40°48'41"E. 128.29 feet and N.76°16'41" E. 205.55 feet to the point of beginning.

And Whereas, said Helen Louise Conser, has petitioned the City Council of said City to annex said territory to said City;

Whereas, said territory is uninhabited within the meaning of Section 35303 of the Government Code of the State of California and

Whereas, said Helen Louise Conser has consented to said annexation of her said territory on the conditions that the City Council of said City shall establish the Zoning thereof under said City's Zoning Ordinance as "Zone D," and

Whereas, the City Council finds that the territory within said "Zone D," if and when annexed, should be subject to the following additional conditions and restrictions, to-wit:

1. A minimum of 1250 sq. ft. of lot area per dwelling unit.

2. Maximum lot coverage of 30%.

3. Utilities be placed underground.

4. Streets, curbs, gutters, sewers, storm drains, adequate water for fire protection, conform to City standards.

And Whereas, said Helen Louise Conser has in writing consented to said annexation of her territory and has also in writing consented to having said additional conditions and restrictions made applicable to her said land if and when it is annexed and Zoned as "Zone D";

Now, therefore, it is hereby resolved as follows:

1. That a Copy of this Resolution be published twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the "Marin News" and the "Independent Journal,"

2. That all notices required by section 35311 of the Government Code of the State of California shall be given by the City Clerk (mailing a copy of the Resolution will serve as such notice); and

3. That a hearing with respect to said proposed annexation of said territory be held before this Council on Tuesday, August 18, 1959 commencing at 8:00 o'clock p.m. of said day.

Done at an adjourned regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Sausalito held on Tuesday, July 14, 1959, and adopted by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen: Ehrlich, Keeney, Koenig and Mayor Sievers.
NOES: Councilmen: None

3. Utilities be placed underground.
4. Streets, curbs, gutters, sewers, storm drains, adequate water for fire protection, conform to City standards.

And Whereas, said Helen Louise Conser has in writing consented to said annexation of her territory and has also in writing consented to having said additional conditions and restrictions made applicable to her said land if and when it is annexed and Zoned as "Zone D";

Now, therefore, it is hereby resolved as follows:

1. That a Copy of this Resolution be published twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the "Marin News" and the "Independent Journal,"
2. That all notices required by section 35311 of the Government Code of the State of California shall be given by the City Clerk (mailing a copy of the Resolution will serve as such notice); and
3. That a hearing with respect to said proposed annexation of said territory be held before this Council on Tuesday, August 18, 1959 commencing at 8:00 o'clock p.m. of said day.

Done at an adjourned regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Sausalito held on Tuesday, July 14, 1959, and adopted by the following vote:

AYES: Councilmen: Ehrlich, Keeney, Koenig and Mayor Sievers
NOES: Councilmen: None
ABSENT: Councilmen: Brady
HOWARD SIEVERS

Rape Suspect Held To Answer

An attractive 34-year-old brunette from Marinwood, mother of three, related yesterday she yielded to an attacker on June 27 because she feared for her life.

On the strength of her testimony in Marin Municipal Court, San Rafael surveyor Matt Cernac Jr., 35, of 222 Marin street was held to answer in Marin Superior Court on a charge of forcible rape.

The woman said she was "scared to death" and resisted violently at first, but fearing he would kill her, she feigned love for him and succumbed to his advances off lonely Lucas Valley road near Big Rock ranch.

DOs AND DON'Ts

Many New Measures Affect Californians

(First of a Series)
By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — If you drive, and most Californians do, you have some new laws to learn between now and Sept. 18.

And, whether you drive or not, the 1959 Legislature passed some new laws that will affect you.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown finished action last week on the 2,463 bills passed by the lawmakers. Most of the new laws take effect Sept. 18.

Some do's and dont's:

Don't walk in front of a car trapped in an intersection when the light changed. The car has the right of way.

ELECTION RULE

If you decide to run for office, don't pose as the incumbent.

Don't carry a switchblade knife ,even one that opens by gravity with a flick of the wrist. Mere possession is outlawed.

Don't fly an airplane, or even tune the motor, if you've been tippling. Drunk flying or any operation connected with a plane while under the influence is forbidden. The penalty: $1,000 fine, six months or both.

If you take a house trailer on your vacation, don't let it swerve or whip. It's illegal now; the old law only outlawed "dangerous or unreasonable" swerving.

PLASTIC BAGS

You can't dispense merchandise wrapped in thin plastic bags unless it's marked with a warning that it could kill a child.

Don't grind hearts into hamburger.

While driving, don't wear glasses which restrict your side vision.

BOMB HOAX

And don't phone a bomb hoax to a telephone operator. It will land you in jail just as fast as if you phone a policeman.

A logical question might be: What CAN you do?

You can drive a big truck five miles an hour faster on four-lane highways. The limit goes up from 45 to 50 m.p.h.

Hunters can hunt deer with bow and arrows for 10 days.

You can demand one completed phone call if you're arrested.

You can also ask for a ticket for a misdemeanor, just as you do for traffic tickets, instead of going right to the judge or jug.

You'll be forewarned about those toys you used to spend all Christmas Eve putting together. They'll have to be marked if they aren't already assembled.

And finally, for what it's worth, one bill makes it all right to use copper, brass, lead, approved plastics or asbestos-cement gas and water pipes to lead into your house.

Talent Sought For Show

Actors, dancers, singers, and musicians are being sought by Marin Community Theater, Inc., for a talent show scheduled Aug. 29 in the Marin City Community Building.

Dave Sacks, director of the group, has details for interested performers. His address is Box 158, Marin City.

Singers and dancers will have to provide their own accompanists for the event, Sacks said.

Car Leaves Road; Woman Injured

A 54-year-old El Cerrito woman suffered minor injuries Sunday night when her southbound auto ran off Highway 101 about a mile south of Novato.

Marie F. Griffin was treated at San Rafael General Hospital. She told California Highway Patrol officers she lost control of the car after slamming on the brakes to avoid collision with another car that swerved in front of her.

Young Violinist Makes Marin Debut Sunday

Michael Rabin, 23-year-old violinist and veteran of the European concert stage, will make his Marin debut Sunday at 3 p.m. in Forest Meadows of Dominican College, San Rafael, under the sponsorship of the Marin Music Chest.

Rabin, who began his stage career at 13 in Carnegie Hall, has been heard over the nationwide radio program, Telephone Hour, as well as broadcasting over British Broadcasting Co. and radio networks in Norway, Sweden, Finland, Germany, Italy and Czechoslovakia.

Programmed for his appearance is Rondo in G major, Mozart; Sonata in A major Op. 47 (Kreutzer), Beethoven; Poeme, Op. 25, Chausson; Nocturne, Op. 27, No. 2, Chopin-Wilhelm; Burleske, Suk and Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso, Saint-Saens. Sidney Stafford will accompany Rabin at the piano.

The Forest Meadows gates will open at 1:30 p.m. There are no reserved seats and admission for non-subscribers is $2.50.

TV PROGRAM TO FEATURE WRIGHT WORK

The ideas and ideals of the late Frank Lloyd Wright, world renowned architect who designed a civic center for Marin County before his death on April 9, will be broadcast by television station KQED (Channel 9) on two half-hour programs.

The first will be tomorrow at 9 p.m. The second will be Aug. 5 at 9 p.m.

Sketches and photographs of his work, including the V. C. Morris shop on Maiden lane in San Francisco, will serve as illustrations for Wright's conversation with William MacDonald, president of the American Institute of Architects.

Chief Vacationing

Frank Nelson, Corte Madera police and fire chief, yesterday started a three-week camping vacation with his family. Sgt. Dave McIntosh will take over Nelson's duties.

Births Drop During May, U.S. Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Births during May dropped under those in the comparable 1958 month, the first time this had occurred in 1959.

About 338,000 live births were registered in May, 1.5 per cent less than the 343,000 in May 1958, the Public Health Service reported yesterday.

The year's total for five months, however, was 1,709,000, up 1.8 per cent from the 1,679,000 in the similar 1958 span.

Since the nation's population increased between May, 1958, and May, 1959, the birth rate for the month this year was 22.6 per 1,000 population, compared with 23.3 a year earlier, a drop of 3 per cent. For the five months in each year it was 23.5.

Rape Suspect Held To Answer

An attractive 34-year-old brunette from Marinwood, mother of three, related yesterday she yielded to an attacker on June 27 because she feared for her life.

On the strength of her testimony in Marin Municipal Court, San Rafael surveyor Matt Cernac Jr., 35, of 222 Marin street was held to answer in Marin Superior Court on a charge of forcible rape.

The woman said she was "scared to death" and resisted violently at first, but fearing he would kill her, she feigned love for him and succumbed to his advances off lonely Lucas Valley road near Big Rock ranch.

DOs AND DON'Ts

Many New Measures Affect Californians

(First of a Series)
By JERRY HARRELL

SACRAMENTO (AP) — If you drive, and most Californians do, you have some new laws to learn between now and Sept. 18.

And, whether you drive or not, the 1959 Legislature passed some new laws that will affect you.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown finished action last week on the 2,463 bills passed by the lawmakers. Most of the new laws take effect Sept. 18.

Some do's and dont's:

Don't walk in front of a car trapped in an intersection when the light changed. The car has the right of way.

ELECTION RULE

If you decide to run for office, don't pose as the incumbent.

Don't carry a switchblade knife ,even one that opens by gravity with a flick of the wrist. Mere possession is outlawed.

Don't fly an airplane, or even tune the motor, if you've been tippling. Drunk flying or any operation connected with a plane while under the influence is forbidden. The penalty: $1,000 fine, six months or both.

If you take a house trailer on your vacation, don't let it swerve or whip. It's illegal now; the old law only outlawed "dangerous or unreasonable" swerving.

PLASTIC BAGS

You can't dispense merchandise wrapped in thin plastic bags unless it's marked with a warning that it could kill a child.

Don't grind hearts into hamburger.

An Assemblyman, complimenting a colleague on a bill last spring, said that "a big part of our job is protecting fools from their folly." Here are some prohibitions designed to do just that:

While driving, don't wear glasses which restrict your side vision.

BOMB HOAX

And don't phone a bomb hoax to a telephone operator. It will land you in jail just as fast as if you phone a policeman.

A logical question might be: What CAN you do?

You can drive a big truck five miles an hour faster on four-lane highways. The limit goes up from 45 to 50 m.p.h.

Hunters can hunt deer with bow and arrows for 10 days.

You can call your bar a "cocktail lounge," previously banned.

You can demand one completed phone call if you're arrested.

You can also ask for a ticket for a misdemeanor, just as you do for traffic tickets, instead of going right to the judge or jug.

You'll be forewarned about those toys you used to spend all Christmas Eve putting together. They'll have to be marked if they aren't already assembled.

You can demand to take a look at the assessment records used to figure your property taxes, or at Johnny's cumulative school record.

If you're a teacher, you can spank unruly children.

And finally, for what it's worth, one bill makes it all right to use copper, brass, lead, approved plastics or asbestos-cement gas and water pipes to lead into your house.

Talent Sought For Show

Actors, dancers, singers, and musicians are being sought by Marin Community Theater, Inc., for a talent show scheduled Aug. 29 in the Marin City Community Building.

Dave Sacks, director of the group, has details for interested performers. His address is Box 158, Marin City.

Singers and dancers will have to provide their own accompanists for the event, Sacks said.

Car Leaves Road; Woman Injured

A 54-year-old El Cerrito woman suffered minor injuries Sunday night when her southbound auto ran off Highway 101 about a mile south of Novato.

Marie F. Griffin was treated at San Rafael General Hospital. She told California Highway Patrol officers she lost control of the car after slamming on the brakes to avoid collision with another car that swerved in front of her.

Young Violinist Makes Marin Debut Sunday

Michael Rabin, 23-year-old violinist and veteran of the European concert stage, will make his Marin debut Sunday at 3 p.m. in Forest Meadows of Dominican College, San Rafael, under the sponsorship of the Marin Music Chest.

Rabin, who began his stage career at 13 in Carnegie Hall, has been heard over the nationwide radio program, Telephone Hour, as well as broadcasting over British Broadcasting Co. and radio networks in Norway, Sweden, Finland, Germany, Italy and Czechoslovakia.

Programmed for his appearance is Rondo in G major, Mozart; Sonata in A major Op. 47 (Kreutzer), Beethoven; Poeme, Op. 25, Chausson; Nocturne, Op. 27, No. 2, Chopin-Wilhelm; Burleske, Suk and Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso, Saint-Saens. Sidney Stafford will accompany Rabin at the piano.

The Forest Meadows gates will open at 1:30 p.m. There are no reserved seats and admission for non-subscribers is $2.50.

TV PROGRAM TO FEATURE WRIGHT WORK

The ideas and ideals of the late Frank Lloyd Wright, world renowned architect who designed a civic center for Marin County before his death on April 9, will be broadcast by television station KQED (Channel 9) on two half-hour programs.

The first will be tomorrow at 9 p.m. The second will be Aug. 5 at 9 p.m.

Sketches and photographs of his work, including the V. C. Morris shop on Maiden lane in San Francisco, will serve as illustrations for Wright's conversation with William MacDonald, president of the American Institute of Architects.

Chief Vacationing

Frank Nelson, Corte Madera police and fire chief, yesterday started a three-week camping vacation with his family. Sgt. Dave McIntosh will take over Nelson's duties.

Births Drop During May, U.S. Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Births during May dropped under those in the comparable 1958 month, the first time this had occurred in 1959.

About 338,000 live births were registered in May, 1.5 per cent less than the 343,000 in May 1958, the Public Health Service reported yesterday.

The year's total for five months, however, was 1,709,000, up 1.8 per cent from the 1,679,000 in the similar 1958 span.

Since the nation's population increased between May, 1958, and May, 1959, the birth rate for the month this year was 22.6 per 1,000 population, compared with 23.3 a year earlier, a drop of 3 per cent. For the five months in each year it was 23.5.

Polio Fund Runs Low; Special Drive Possible

An emergency call for funds may be necessitated by the fact that assistance to several long-term polio patients in Marin County is threatened by exhaustion of funds. Mrs. Melvin Hammond, chairman of the Marin County Chapter of the National Foundation, said.

The chapter's treasury is empty, she said, which "creates a critical polio emergency."

Depletion of the treasury was caused by the burden of polio for previous years, Mrs. Hammond said, adding:

"We have pledged that the polio patients of this county will receive all the medical treatment they need. We know that our fellow citizens will help us carry out this pledge even if it means conducting an emergency appeal this summer."

Volunteers are helping to get as many persons as possible vaccinated, Mrs. Hammond said, urging that all who have not received three Salk shots should start the series immediately.

A new program to be started soon by the foundation will include efforts against arthritis and birth defects as well as polio.

ADULT EDUCATION

Should Degree Be Offered? Program Chief Thinks So

(Second of a Series)
By DONALD G. DAVIS

The theory that junior colleges should provide classes that meet the needs of the community in which they are located, and that adult education should be part of that program, has been expounded by Dr. Samuel N. LeCount, director of the College of Marin adult education department.

Meeting informally with college district trustees, he enlarged upon this theory and heard trustees' comments.

The adult education program now offers a variety of classes from ceramic making to foreign languages, but no degree or credit are offered.

LeCount proposes that in time an associate of arts degree be given, just as it is to the day students who meet the requirements in a normal two years of study. LeCount asked the trustees to think about it in long-range planning.

In an extended day program, he said, the person who goes to school at night could get a degree just as one does who attends classes in the daytime.

Too, he proposed that the campus be opened to extension classes, such as those offered by University of California. These might include, he said, courses that are needed by Marin teachers to keep their credentials in order, or by persons who want to work toward getting teaching credentials and degrees.

"Adult education," he declared, "is based on the assumption that people never stop learning, and that in a society under so many strains and changes, people can prepare for an adult role.

"We break down the categories of needs into those persons who desire personal development—that is in arts and crafts, vocational such as bookkeeping, accounting, and machine shop, into homemaking, which includes the parents' classes, and liberal arts."

He said arts and crafts courses are more "extensive" at the College of Marin than the average for the state. This drew from the board a request that he make up a chart showing the percentages of enrollment in different types of courses.

LeCount said "you hear it said that adult education is a frill program — people come here to develop hobbies. Some come just to while away time, but also to learn."

In order to meet better the needs of the community, LeCount proposed the formation of an advisory committee. It would be appointed by LeCount subject to the approval of the board.

"But is should be made clear," he said, "that the committee would be advisory only, and advisory only to the administration and not to the board. The administration has to be free to recommend to the board."

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said she agreed with this, and other trustees nodded approval.

But Trustee George G. Washburn asked LeCount "if an advisory committee would be better than you using your own judgement?"

"It would benefit me, and would be a challenge for me to make better judgements," LeCount said.

"It's not our school; it belongs to everyone," said board chairman Rupert E. Kempf, adding that LeCount might be in for a lot of criticism.

"Do you feel up to it, Sam?" he asked.

"Absolutely," LeCount said.

4-H Guide Dog Field Day Set Aug. 6

A 4-H Club field day, open to all 4-H Club members, will be held Aug. 6 at Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., in Los Ranchitos, executive director William F. Johns announced today.

Immediately after the opening ceremonies at 10 a.m. there will be continuous judging of pups raised by 4-H members for the foundation. Judging will be in four classes: Under 6 months, more than 6 but under 9 months, more than 9 but under 12 months, more than 12 months, and breeding stock.

Each dog will be scored individually. Winner of each class will be eligible to compete for one of the two trophies to be awarded for showmanship and obedience. Ribbons will be given all competitors.

At noon there will be a break in the day-long events for a picinc lunch, served on the 11-acre campus by volunteers of Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Those planning to attend 4-H Guide Dog Field Day should notify the school before Aug. 6, Johns said.

Soprano, Miffed Over Pay, Won't Sing In S.F. Opera

LONDON (AP)—Mezzo Soprano Rise Stevens says she's not singing with the San Francisco Opera Company this year because she thinks it is paying a foreign artist more money than it is offering her.

She accused the company of being unfair to American artists.

The company announced last night that Miss Stevens would not make scheduled appearances with the troupe fall due to "inability to reconcile certain differences regarding contractural provisions."

The San Francisco company said Metropolitan mezzo soprano Blanche Thebomb will replace Miss Stevens in Gluck's "Orpheus and Eurydice," and Gloria Lane will sing "Carmen."

The rate of illegitimate births among unmarried women in the U. S. went from 7.1 per 1,000 in 1940 to 20.2 per 1,000 in 1956.

Mill Valley Trustees

Mill Valley School District trustees will meet in closed executive session at 8 o'clock tonight at the district offices for the annual discussion of the superintendency, according to Mrs. Jean Rosse, board president.

Harbor Project Seen Boon To Land Owners

BY HARRY LOVETT

Owners of private tidelands property in upper Richardson Bay stand to reap a windfall if they will take advantage of a plan now in the works, in the opinion of Charles P. Guichard, chairman of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission.

Guichard, for the past year or so the prime mover toward development of a small craft harbor on city-owned property, points out that when Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed a bill permitting the loan of state money for such projects, the way was cleared for the project.

KEY TO DEVELOPMENT

"The key to entire development is the dredging of the Saucelito canal," Guichard said. "This three and one-half mile channel runs from the shallow tidelands in Mill Valley to the existing channel at the former Marinship yard, varying from 100 to 250 feet in width and is very nearly a straight line."

It is now mud and silt-filled and unusuable for boats, being the outlet for storm drainage creeks in the Mill Valley area.

"Our feasibility study shows that some 827,000 cubic yards of spoils material must be removed to make the channel usable," Guichard said. "The cost is estimated at about $300,000."

OWNS 20 ACRES

The City of Mill Valley owns about 20 acres of the tidelands suitable for the harbor development and plans to acquire another 11 acres.

"But this section is only a small portion of the total length of canal to be dredged," Guichard notes. "Mill Valley has already said that it would put up about $15,000 toward dredging costs."

Who pays the balance?

"We believe it is a project of county-wide importance," Guichard contends, "and we are urging the supervisors to take immediate steps to ask for a $300,000 loan from the state to accomplish the work. If this is done, Mill Valley would pay its $15,000 to the county."

FOUR REASONS

Guichard says it would be good business for the county to do this for four reasons:

1. If adjoining property owners will buy the dredged "spoil" material, the property values would be enhanced "by at least five times," and thus increase the county's tax return.

2. It would provide orderly development of the Upper Richardson Bay area.

3. It would make it possible to develop the Mill Valley harbor.

4. It would be self-liquidating and therefore not cost the taxpayers anything.

Guichard admits that the key to the entire program is the business of the property owners buying the dredged material. But he thinks it's a great idea.

"It would be a financial, once-in-a-lifetime bonanza," Guichard enthuses. "There must be as many 50 private property owners stretching from the Kappas property at Marin City up to Mill Valley that should jump at the chance. Their property is unusable now because it's too low. Here's a chance to get fill at perhaps 28 cents a yard delivered to their land with a state loan that would permit payment over a long period of years. It would make the property marketable almost immediately."

He said informal inquiries had indicated that many of the owners are interested but no definite proposal has been made.

"Of course," Guichard concedes, "Mill Valley might go ahead with its plans for a harbor, but I guess it wouldn't make much sense for a harbor with no outlet to the bay. Therefore, we are concentrating on getting the canal dredging underway."

The proposed Mill Valley harbor is estimated to cost $300,000, Guichard said, with a loan application already made. However, before the state approves the loan, there must be a series of maps and studies presented by the city which will hinge to a great extent on the dredging.

The $300,000 would be repaid out of harbor profits, Guichard said.

The deadline for loan acceptances is Nov. 15.

New Goodwill Store Opens On Thursday

Goodwill Industries will open its new Marin store at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at 1918-20 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Kenneth G. Foster, executive director of Goodwill Industries, said an open house is planned with Marin representatives to the Goodwill board of directors attending, including William Marcus and Carl Priest of Mill Valley and Dr. Mabel Whitehead of San Anselmo.

Radio station KTIM will broadcast from the store at 10 a.m. Store hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Foster said all articles sold in the store will be renovated by handicapped men and women. Goodwill workshops are self-sustaining through sale of repaired discards, he said.

The store will be managed by Ed Tyrrell.

The number of apartment units on which construction started in the U. S. during 1958 was approximately 150,000.

IT COULD BE TRAUMA

Fido Acting Up? Take Him To Canine Psychiatrist

NEW YORK (AP)—If Fido bites the mailman, it's probably because somebody stole his favorite bone when he was a puppy.

If he chews the furniture, he's expressing a frustration complex, and hunger for affection.

If he spots the rug, it's because he feels insecure.

All this can be corrected by scientific psychological treatment, says Yvonne Henderson of London, a dog psychiatrist.

Mrs. Henderson is in New York to explore the possibilities of establishing an office here.

"I am appalled at the lack of understanding of dog emotions here," says she. "New York dogs lead a dog's life, shut up in apartments all day long, left alone with no companionship, no freedom, no love. It's no wonder they develop traumas and bite people.

"In England everybody owns a dog—they're as numerous as cars in America. And public rules and customs are geared for consideration of the dog population. You can take a dog anywhere in England—bars, restaurants, hotels, trains, and busses. There we understand that a dog must have freedom and company if he is to be happy."

Mrs. Henderson has spent most of her life understanding dogs, as an international breeder, exhibitor, and judge, a writer for dog magazines, canine correspondent for the London Times and friend of all dogdom. She breeds French bulldogs, and has some of her prize pets in New York with her, togther with their trunks of blue ribbons.

How does she psychoanalyze a dog?

"Well, I don't usually use a couch," says Mrs. Henderson, "but if the dog likes to lie down, he may. I just talk to the dogs and find out what's worrying them, you know. How's that? Why, certainly I can understand what a dog is saying, and dogs always understand me.

"If a dog has a high I.Q., it's simple to work with him and iron out all his troubles. With a stupid dog it takes longer. But I've never yet met a dog with whom I couldn't hold a conversation."

Driver To Serve Five Days In Jail

Emlen Griffith Taylor, 50, Fairfax lumber worker, must spend five days in jail and pay $250 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

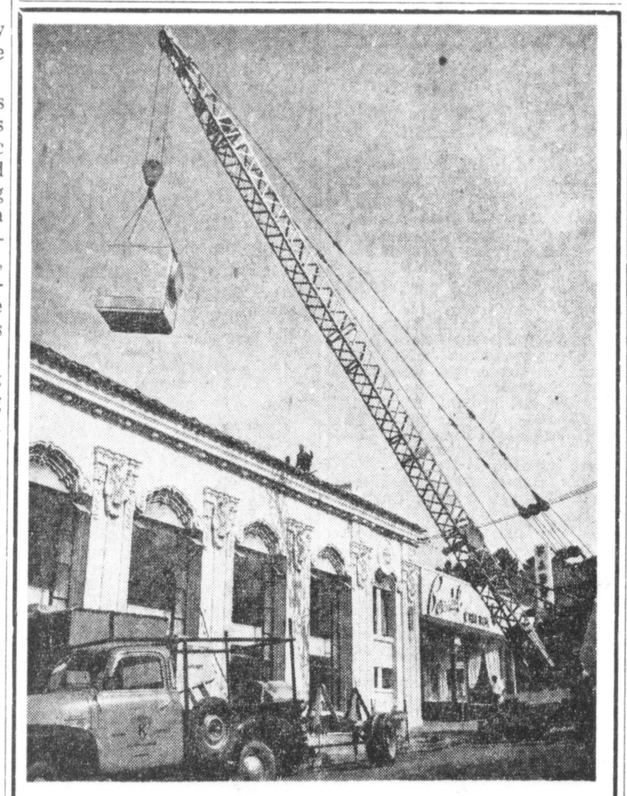

He was sentenced Friday by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court. Taylor got off with a hung jury in the first trial but was convicted by the second jury this week. He was caught at Sir Francis Drake boulevard and Broadmoor avenue in San Anselmo last Jan. 17.

Taylor had a prior drunken driving conviction in October of 1956. He lives at 61 Taylor drive, Fairfax.

KNOW INSURE YOUR INSURABILITY!

A new, liberal plan guarantees you the right to buy Additional Life Insurance Without Medical Examination

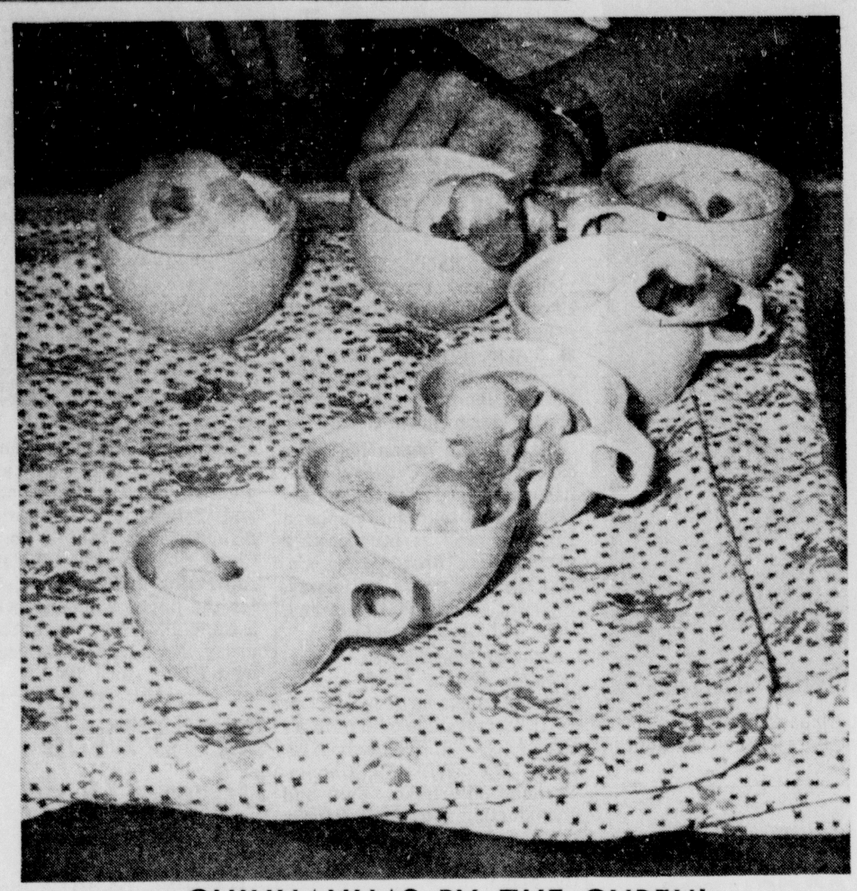

Now, if you are age 37 or under, The Prudential offers a plan with a most important option guaranteeing you the opportunity to buy additional life insurance in the future without a medical examination, regardless of your health or occupation.

For example—if you are now 30 and qualify for a $10,000 policy under the new plan, a small additional premium will guarantee you the right to purchase another $10,000 at ages 31, 34, 37 and 40. This is a total additional amount of $40,000 that you can buy... without a medical examination or other evidence of insurability.

YOUR CHILDREN, TOO
You can also take out a similar policy on your children. At age of 24 or younger, your son or daughter will have a choice of six option dates by age 40. CHIHUAHUAS BY THE CUPFUL

Seven tiny Chihuahua puppies, part of a litter of a dog owned by Mrs. F. E. Averill of Little Rock, lounge comfortably in teacups on the Averills' dining room table. Mrs. Averill, who has about 45 of the small dogs, says the seven-pup litter tied the world record. Normal litter is about three. (AP Wirephoto)

Polio Fund Runs Low; Special Drive Possible

An emergency call for funds may be necessitated by the fact that assistance to several long-term polio patients in Marin County is threatened by exhaustion of funds. Mrs. Melvin Hammond, chairman of the Marin County Chapter of the National Foundation, said.

The chapter's treasury is empty, she said, which "creates a critical polio emergency."

Depletion of the treasury was caused by the burden of polio for previous years, Mrs. Hammond said, adding:

"We have pledged that the polio patients of this county will receive all the medical treatment they need. We know that our fellow citizens will help us carry out this pledge even if it means conducting an emergency appeal this summer."

Volunteers are helping to get as many persons as possible vaccinated, Mrs. Hammond said, urging that all who have not received three Salk shots should start the series immediately.

A new program to be started soon by the foundation will include efforts against arthritis and birth defects as well as polio.

ADULT EDUCATION

Should Degree Be Offered? Program Chief Thinks So

(Second of a Series)
By DONALD G. DAVIS

The theory that junior colleges should provide classes that meet the needs of the community in which they are located, and that adult education should be part of that program, has been expounded by Dr. Samuel N. LeCount, director of the College of Marin adult education department.

Meeting informally with college district trustees, he enlarged upon this theory and heard trustees' comments.

The adult education program now offers a variety of classes from ceramic making to foreign languages, but no degree or credit are offered.

LeCount proposes that in time an associate of arts degree be given, just as it is to the day students who meet the requirements in a normal two years of study. LeCount asked the trustees to think about it in long-range planning.

In an extended day program, he said, the person who goes to school at night could get a degree just as one does who attends classes in the daytime.

Too, he proposed that the campus be opened to extension classes, such as those offered by University of California. These might include, he said, courses that are needed by Marin teachers to keep their credentials in order, or by persons who want to work toward getting teaching credentials and degrees.

"Adult education," he declared, "is based on the assumption that people never stop learning, and that in a society under so many strains and changes, people can prepare for an adult role.

"We break down the categories of needs into those persons who desire personal development—that is in arts and crafts, vocational such as bookkeeping, accounting, and machine shop, into homemaking, which includes the parents' classes, and liberal arts."

He said arts and crafts courses are more "extensive" at the College of Marin than the average for the state. This drew from the board a request that he make up a chart showing the percentages of enrollment in different types of courses.

LeCount said "you hear it said that adult education is a frill program — people come here to develop hobbies. Some come just to while away time, but also to learn."

In order to meet better the needs of the community, LeCount proposed the formation of an advisory committee. It would be appointed by LeCount subject to the approval of the board.

"But is should be made clear," he said, "that the committee would be advisory only, and advisory only to the administration and not to the board. The administration has to be free to recommend to the board."

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said she agreed with this, and other trustees nodded approval.

But Trustee George G. Washburn asked LeCount "if an advisory committee would be better than you using your own judgement?"

"It would benefit me, and would be a challenge for me to make better judgements," LeCount said.

"It's not our school; it belongs to everyone," said board chairman Rupert E. Kempf, adding that LeCount might be in for a lot of criticism.

"Do you feel up to it, Sam?" he asked.

"Absolutely," LeCount said.

A 4-H Club field day, open to all 4-H Club members, will be held Aug. 6 at Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., in Los Ranchitos, executive director William F. Johns announced today.

Immediately after the opening ceremonies at 10 a.m. there will be continuous judging of pups raised by 4-H members for the foundation. Judging will be in four classes: Under 6 months, more than 6 but under 9 months, more than 9 but under 12 months, more than 12 months, and breeding stock.

Each dog will be scored individually. Winner of each class will be eligible to compete for one of the two trophies to be awarded for showmanship and obedience. Ribbons will be given all competitors.

At noon there will be a break in the day-long events for a picinc lunch, served on the 11-acre campus by volunteers of Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Those planning to attend 4-H Guide Dog Field Day should notify the school before Aug. 6, Johns said.

Soprano, Miffed Over Pay, Won't Sing In S.F. Opera

LONDON (AP)—Mezzo Soprano Rise Stevens says she's not singing with the San Francisco Opera Company this year because she thinks it is paying a foreign artist more money than it is offering her.

She accused the company of being unfair to American artists.

The company announced last night that Miss Stevens would not make scheduled appearances with the troupe fall due to "inability to reconcile certain differences regarding contractural provisions."

The San Francisco company said Metropolitan mezzo soprano Blanche Thebomb will replace Miss Stevens in Gluck's "Orpheus and Eurydice," and Gloria Lane will sing "Carmen."

The rate of illegitimate births among unmarried women in the U. S. went from 7.1 per 1,000 in 1940 to 20.2 per 1,000 in 1956.

Harbor Project Seen Boon To Land Owners

BY HARRY LOVETT

Owners of private tidelands property in upper Richardson Bay stand to reap a windfall if they will take advantage of a plan now in the works, in the opinion of Charles P. Guichard, chairman of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission.

Guichard, for the past year or so the prime mover toward development of a small craft harbor on city-owned property, points out that when Gov. Edmund G. Brown signed a bill permitting the loan of state money for such projects, the way was cleared for the project.

KEY TO DEVELOPMENT

"The key to entire development is the dredging of the Saucelito canal," Guichard said. "This three and one-half mile channel runs from the shallow tidelands in Mill Valley to the existing channel at the former Marinship yard, varying from 100 to 250 feet in width and is very nearly a straight line."

It is now mud and silt-filled and unusuable for boats, being the outlet for storm drainage creeks in the Mill Valley area.

"Our feasibility study shows that some 827,000 cubic yards of spoils material must be removed to make the channel usable," Guichard said. "The cost is estimated at about $300,000."

OWNS 20 ACRES

The City of Mill Valley owns about 20 acres of the tidelands suitable for the harbor development and plans to acquire another 11 acres.

"But this section is only a small portion of the total length of canal to be dredged," Guichard notes. "Mill Valley has already said that it would put up about $15,000 toward dredging costs."

Who pays the balance?

"We believe it is a project of county-wide importance," Guichard contends, "and we are urging the supervisors to take immediate steps to ask for a $300,000 loan from the state to accomplish the work. If this is done, Mill Valley would pay its $15,000 to the county."

FOUR REASONS

Guichard says it would be good business for the county to do this for four reasons:

1. If adjoining property owners will buy the dredged "spoil" material, the property values would be enhanced "by at least five times," and thus increase the county's tax return.

2. It would provide orderly development of the Upper Richardson Bay area.

3. It would make it possible to develop the Mill Valley harbor.

4. It would be self-liquidating and therefore not cost the taxpayers anything.

Guichard admits that the key to the entire program is the business of the property owners buying the dredged material. But he thinks it's a great idea.

"It would be a financial, once-in-a-lifetime bonanza," Guichard enthuses. "There must be as many 50 private property owners stretching from the Kappas property at Marin City up to Mill Valley that should jump at the chance. Their property is unusable now because it's too low. Here's a chance to get fill at perhaps 28 cents a yard delivered to their land with a state loan that would permit payment over a long period of years. It would make the property marketable almost immediately."

He said informal inquiries had indicated that many of the owners are interested but no definite proposal has been made.

Insofar as the development of Mill Valley's potential 110-berth harbor is concerned, a separate transaction for a state loan would be required.

"Of course," Guichard concedes, "Mill Valley might go ahead with its plans for a harbor, but I guess it wouldn't make much sense for a harbor with no outlet to the bay. Therefore, we are concentrating on getting the canal dredging underway."

The proposed Mill Valley harbor is estimated to cost $300,000, Guichard said, with a loan application already made. However, before the state approves the loan, there must be a series of maps and studies presented by the city which will hinge to a great extent on the dredging.

The $300,000 would be repaid out of harbor profits, Guichard said.

The deadline for loan acceptances is Nov. 15.

New Goodwill Store Opens On Thursday

Goodwill Industries will open its new Marin store at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at 1918-20 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Kenneth G. Foster, executive director of Goodwill Industries, said an open house is planned with Marin representatives to the Goodwill board of directors attending, including William Marcus and Carl Priest of Mill Valley and Dr. Mabel Whitehead of San Anselmo.

Radio station KTIM will broadcast from the store at 10 a.m. Store hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Foster said all articles sold in the store will be renovated by handicapped men and women. Goodwill workshops are self-sustaining through sale of repaired discards, he said.

The store will be managed by Ed Tyrrell.

The number of apartment units on which construction started in the U. S. during 1958 was approximately 150,000.

Fido Acting Up? Take Him To Canine Psychiatrist

NEW YORK (AP)—If Fido bites the mailman, it's probably because somebody stole his favorite bone when he was a puppy.

If he chews the furniture, he's expressing a frustration complex, and hunger for affection.

If he spots the rug, it's because he feels insecure.

All this can be corrected by scientific psychological treatment, says Yvonne Henderson of London, a dog psychiatrist.

Mrs. Henderson is in New York to explore the possibilities of establishing an office here.

"I am appalled at the lack of understanding of dog emotions here," says she. "New York dogs lead a dog's life, shut up in apartments all day long, left alone with no companionship, no freedom, no love. It's no wonder they develop traumas and bite people.

"In England everybody owns a dog—they're as numerous as cars in America. And public rules and customs are geared for consideration of the dog population. You can take a dog anywhere in England—bars, restaurants, hotels, trains, and busses. There we understand that a dog must have freedom and company if he is to be happy."

Mrs. Henderson has spent most of her life understanding dogs, as an international breeder, exhibitor, and judge, a writer for dog magazines, canine correspondent for the London Times and friend of all dogdom. She breeds French bulldogs, and has some of her prize pets in New York with her, togther with their trunks of blue ribbons.

How does she psychoanalyze a dog?

"Well, I don't usually use a couch," says Mrs. Henderson, "but if the dog likes to lie down, he may. I just talk to the dogs and find out what's worrying them, you know. How's that? Why, certainly I can understand what a dog is saying, and dogs always understand me.

"If a dog has a high I.Q., it's simple to work with him and iron out all his troubles. With a stupid dog it takes longer. But I've never yet met a dog with whom I couldn't hold a conversation."

Driver To Serve Five Days In Jail

Emlen Griffith Taylor, 50, Fairfax lumber worker, must spend five days in jail and pay $250 fine for his second drunken driving offense.

He was sentenced Friday by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court. Taylor got off with a hung jury in the first trial but was convicted by the second jury this week. He was caught at Sir Francis Drake boulevard and Broadmoor avenue in San Anselmo last Jan. 17.

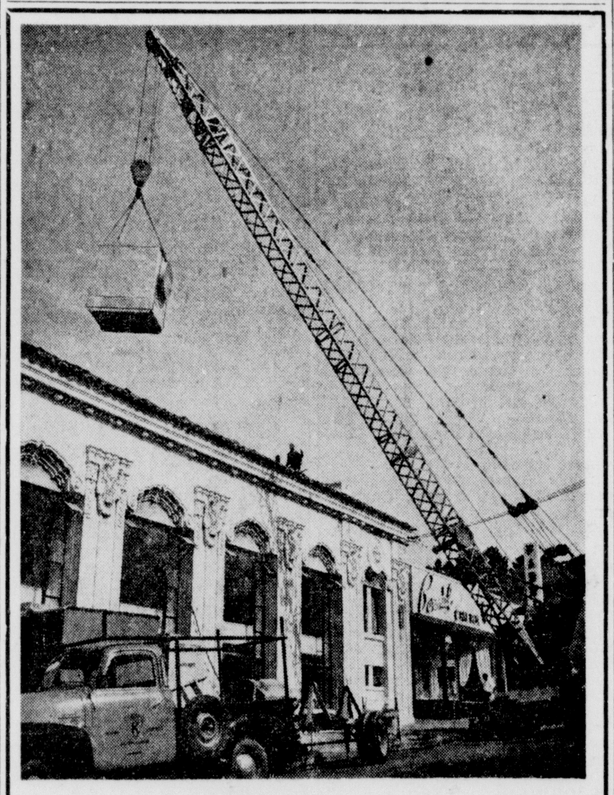

Taylor had a prior drunken driving conviction in October of 1956. He lives at 61 Taylor drive, Fairfax.
